Pleasure Faire, Art Festival To Open

The Sausalito Arts Center and its surrounding grounds were a pageant of color, sight and sound today as final preparations continued for the 1970 "Festival of the Sun," which begins tomorrow at 10 a.m.

The three-day festival, which each year draws thousands of persons to Sausalito, will feature works and performances by more than 150 artists, who represent most of the fine arts in the bay area. It is sponsored by the arts center, 630 Nevada Street and held in the center and grounds.

Another festival, The Reanissance Pleasure Fair, opens tomorrow in a wooded aera at 1000 North San Pedro Road in Terra Linda.

The re-creation of a 16th Century English county fair in the reign of Queen Elizabeth I will also run Sunday and Monday from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. and succeeding Saturdays and Sundays through September.

A new feature of the Sausalito festival this year will be a children's arts and crafts festival, a miniature of the adult event. Puppeteer Mary Wyn Eckstrom will perform for the children who will display their works and receive arts and crafts instruction each day from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

This year's festival "will present the fullest spectrum of creative activities ever held in the art festival context," according to Robert Ellison, arts center director. He said the number of artists in the festival is up 30 per cent over last year.

The event is being arranged and handled by the Garden of Delights, a Sausalito-based production company which Ellison heads. Each day's program will begin at 10 a.m. and run through midnight, with a break between 6 and 8 p.m.

In addition to displays by painters, printmakers, sculptors, potters and other artists, the festival will feature demonstrations in such crafts as ceramics, photography, glass blowing and serigraphy.

Each day, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., the Garden of Delights will present a continuous environmental show in the center. Ellison said the presentation will attempt to recreate in theater the well-known painting, "Garden of Delights" by Hieonymous Bosch, 16th Century Dutch painter.

An adjacent baseball field will be the site of a wide variety of performing arts and musical events. Reservations will be needed for some events, according to Ellison, who said further information can be obtained from the arts center.

One highlight will be a presentation Monday at 8 p.m. of "Garden of Delights" by Heir-Ant Farm, a group of Sausalito environmentalists and the Garden of Delights will enact a history of the human race, with a sky show using colored spotlights, balloons and smoke machines.

Proceeds from general admission tickets to the festival will go toward operation of the center and for scholarships, the director said.

Parking for the festival will be provided on the grounds of Martin Luther King School, Ebbtide Avenue and Bridgeway. Shuttle Buses will run to and from the festival on a frequent basis. To accommodate San

Slowdown On Creek Building

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A 30-day moratorium on new construction along Corte Madera Creek was recommended last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission during a special session with other city bodies.

The action was applauded by about 35 conservationists who sat in attentive silence throughout the three-hour meeting. They had been urging the commission for more than a month to take such action as a means of protecting the salt marshlands along the creek.

The emergency ordinance recommendation will be considered by the city council at a special meeting Tuesday and will require approval from four of the five councilmen to become law.

The proposal, if accepted by the council, would halt all construction along both sides of the creek from the Bon Air Bridge to Highway 101. The only exception would be the subdivision known as Greenbrae Marina.

The building ban, the commission contends, would allow time to gather expert opinion on where boundary setbacks should be for an ordinance to protect the marshland. The creek banks would ultimately provide a nature area and "recreational greenbelt" open to the public.

Discussion among the commission, the city council and two members of the city's parks and recreation commission centered on the need for such an ordinance and its legality.

"I'm talking about the environment we are living in," Commissioner Leonard S. Rubin, an outspoken supporter of the measure told others present. "We are watching San Francisco Bay turn into a sewer. We are just trying to correct inadvertent errors made over the past 50 or 100 years.

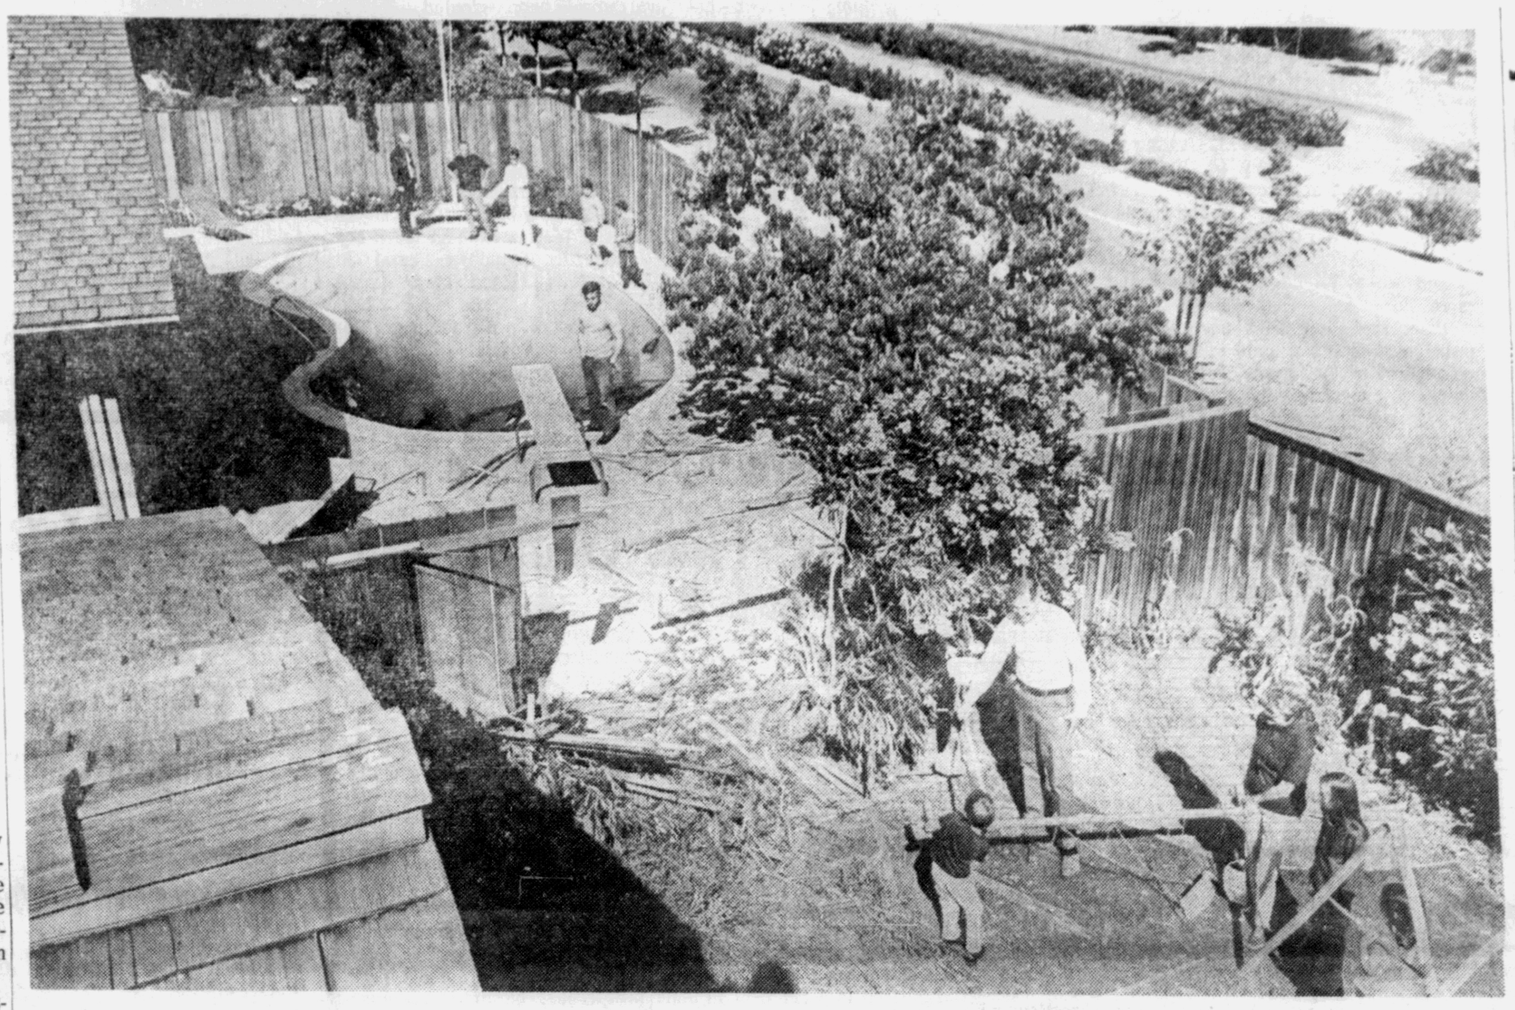

"We're not just talking about Larkspur, we're talking of San Rafael, Corte Madera and the entire Bay Area," he continued, adding the marsh of salt grass and pickleweed must be protected until a study on its security is completed.

Special city attorney Albert Bianchi told the groups such an emergency ordinance could be kept in effect for about 27 months by vote of the council at intervals.

However, Mayor Benton A. Sifford Jr. indicated the proposal probably will not get the unanimous approval from the city council that it received from the four planning commissioners present. (Commissioner Robert H. Lee was absent as were councilmen Neil Brixon and Earl J. O'Grady.)

Sifford told the planners he knew of one councilman who had informed him not to expect a favorable vote. He did not say

A RIDE ON THE WILD SIDE

Jobless Rate Up, Highest For U.S. Since Fall Of '64

Lack Of Teen-Age Work Sends Rate Up 5.1 Pct. Last Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate rose to 5.1 per cent last month, highest since the autumn of 1964, the government reported today.

A sharp increase in joblessness among teen-agers — from a 13.9 per cent rate in July to 15.9 per cent last month — was cited as the main reason for the high over-all unemployment level. The 5.1 per cent rate was a slight rise over July's rate of 5 per cent.

The Labor Department said the increase in unemployment to the highest percentage of the American labor force since a similar 5.1 per cent rate in October, 1964, was accompanied by the fourth drop in five months in nonfarm payrolls.

Nonfarm employment in August was 70,724,000, representing a decline—on a seasonally adjusted basis—of 90,000 from July. Almost all of the decline was among factory and construction workers.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported: "Jobless rates for most major groups in the labor force showed little or no change (but) the jobless rate for teen-agers increased significantly, from 13.9 to 15.9 per cent. Most of this rise occurred among white girls and brought the teen-age rate to its highest point since April, 1965."

Job opportunities have been tight this summer for young people.

The 0.1 per cent increase in the jobless rate was no surprise to government economists. The Nixon administration has predicted an early upturn in over-all business conditions but has been concerned that there might be some time lag before economic improvements would reduce unemployment.

There has been speculation that the jobless rate might reach 5.5 per cent before it levels off—and government officials have not taken major issue with such estimates.

The new report on the job situation also showed:

—The total number of unemployed workers was 4.2 million in August, down 300,000 from July.

—Joblessness among full-time workers was unchanged from July at 4.7 per cent but the rate for part-time workers went up from 7.4 per cent to 8 per cent.

—"Jobless rates for both white (4.8 per cent) and Negro workers (8.4 per cent) were essentially unchanged in August. As a result, the ratio of Negro to white joblessness remained below the two to one

Bomb Suspects Held, But Talk Way Out

LITTLE FALLS, N.Y. (UPI) —Two fugitives sought in a fatal bombing at the University of Wisconsin fell into the hands of police for the second time Thursday and for the second time were released by authorities who failed to link their names with the case.

Police said two men carrying drivers licenses identifying them as Dwight Armstrong, 19, and David S. Fine, 18, were stopped here because their car had a faulty muffler.

They were questioned for about an hour and then let go by authorities who did not recognize their names.

It was reported earlier this week that police at a roadblock near Madison, Wis., stopped a car carrying Armstrong, his brother Karleton, 22, and two other men shortly after the Aug. 24 explosion but did not detain them when the brothers said they were on their way to a vacation area in upstate Wisconsin.

Little Falls Police said Dwight Armstrong and Fine told them they were on their way to visit "Leo Burt in Utica." Burt, 22, was the fourth suspect named by the FBI Wednesday.

It was not until four hours after Armstrong and Fine were released that Little Falls police discovered they were wanted.

Federal authorities have said the fugitives may be headed for Canada. It is a drive of about two hours from the Little Falls-Utica area to the Thousand Islands Bridge leading to Canada above Watertown in northern New York.

A FBI spokesman in Utica said the FBI was "doing everything logically possible to try and locate these individuals in this area. It's a big search of a big area."

Although the four suspects were subjects of a nationwide hunt by the FBI, a spokesman at State Police headquarters in Albany said they had received no special alert.

The spokesman said the usual procedure is for the FBI to

Grand Jury Indicts Magee

The Marin County Grand Jury today returned an indictment against San Quentin convict Ruchell Magee charging him with assaulting and murdering Judge Harold J. Haley.

The grand jury heard testimony about the Aug. 7 shootout from Assistant Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas who described the tragedy from his bed in Marin General Hospital where he has been a patient since the shootings.

In a secret session at the Marin Civic Center the grand jury also heard testimony from a pathologist, Dr. John P. Manwaring and a San Quentin records keeper.

Labor Day Will Close Most Offices

Banks, post offices, city halls, public libraries and most commercial establishments will be closed Monday in observance of Labor Day.

The Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice courts will be closed and regularly scheduled public meetings have been delayed or canceled.

Parking meters will not be operating in any city except Sausalito, where they are in effect every day of the year.

Sonoma County offices will also close as will city offices in Petaluma, and Rohnert Park and Cotati.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Most Marin and Southern Sonoma students will return to school on Tuesday, only to receive another holiday on Wednesday — Admission Day.

Changes in meetings of public bodies which would normally meet Monday include:

Belvedere City Council, Sept. 14 at 8 p.m. at city hall; Corte Madera Town Council, Tues-

Victim Of Stabbing Identified As Marinite

The stabbing victim whose body was found at Strawberry Point Wednesday was identified yesterday as Daniel Roger Jackson, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Jackson of Terra Linda.

Lt. Guido Battaglia of the Marin sheriff's department said today that the identification was made through an unemployment insurance application form found about 100 feet from Jackson's body.

Although the form had not been completed by Jackson, he had written in a return address of a San Rafael Post Office box. Lieutenant Battaglia said that the box belonged to Jackson's father, who identified the body yesterday.

Jackson had been stabbed 12 times, including once in the heart, with a slender instrument at least six inches long.

Lack of blood at the place on Seminary Drive where the body was found down an embankment led officers to believe that Jackson was killed elsewhere and his body dumped off the road sometime between 1 and 6:30 a.m.

Jackson's father told officers that his son, an Air Force veteran, had lived at home until last January. Since then he has had no permanent address.

The father said that he last heard from his son in a postcard postmarked Aug. 30 in which young Jackson wrote from San Rafael that he was going to Phoenix, Arix.

He said that he was going to attend a Post Office courier school in connection with his employment at the Rincon Annex branch in San Francisco.

Battaglia said today that a check showed Jackson had never been a postal employee and that there is no courier school in Phoenix.

Officers were still awaiting today the results of laboratory tests on articles, including three women's slips, found in a crushed cardboard suitcase which was on the roadway near the body.

Added Rangers

YOSEMITE (UPI) — Park officials, girding for an onslaught of visitors during the Labor Day weekend, have added another 65 men to the ranger force in hopes of preventing a disturbance similar to one which wracked the park July 4.

Normal Safety Protection Is Assured For Weekend

Normal police and fire protection for the county is assured for the long Labor Day weekend, despite the stalled a wage negotiations between safety workers and the county.

After a two-and-one-half hour meeting with San Francisco attorney Jake W. Ehrlich yesterday, safety employee spokesmen announced that Ehrlich will meet with them again sometime next week.

"It's entirely up to him now," said sheriff's Sgt. Wade R. Powell, speaking for the 210 employees in the sheriff's, fire and communications departments. "Until we hear from him (Ehrlich), we just sit tight and go about our regualr duties.

Informational pickets who have paraded in front of the Civic Center entrance since Tuesday will be called off, said Powell.

Sheriff's deputies, holding out for 12.5 per cent pay raise, and county firemen for a 10 per cent raise, turned their entire case over to Ehrlich. "We didn't talk fees as yet," said Powell. "He is not yet retained by us. He's going to call us in next week and tell us what he can or cannot do for us." Powell said attorney fees will probably come up for discussion at that time.

He said no further negotiations with the county negotiation team or with the state conciliator are planned until after the next meeting with Ehrlich.

"There will be no disruption of service, not to our knowledge," Powell assured county residents. "We don't want to do anything illegal. As we said before, we don't want walkouts and we don't want strikes, if we can possibly keep out of it." However, strikes or slowdowns cannot be ruled out completely, he added.

The delegation that called on Ehrlich yesterday included Powell; Alfred Curry, shop steward for the county employees; inspector Dennis Shine and deputy sheriff Wyman Tong.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Suharto In Bonn

BONN (UPI) — President Suharto of Indonesia arrived in West Germany today from The Netherlands where he spent 24 hours protected by extreme security measures.

Similar precautions were taken at Bonn's Wahn airport where West German President Gustav Heinemann and Foreign Minister Walter Scheel were on hand to greet Suharto.

Terrorist Attack

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI) — Terrorist attackers today bombed at least six business establishments and private homes and machine-gunned the quarters of members of the U.S. Embassy Marine guard, police said.

No victims were reported and damage was slight, police said. They said the residence of the U.S. Marines was raked by machinegun fire by assailants who fled without being identified.

New Legion Head

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — New American Legion National Commander Alfred P. Chamie says Legionnaires "need to reach out and involve ourselves with young people."

Chamie, 54, of Pacific Palisades, Calif., told the concluding session of the Legion's national convention Thursday the Legion must reach out to young people through its programs involving sportsmanship, citizenship and leadership training.

The week-long convention ended without the disruptions which had been forecast.

Ferry Disaster

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Indian press reports said today more than 100 persons, including 90 school children, were drowned Thursday in a ferry boat disaster in Mysore state.

According to the reports the accident took place when the ferry boat sank in the storm-swollen Krishna River near Bijapur city.

The children were sailing to a temple on a river island, where they were being given a meal on the annual festival day. The reports said the overloaded boat overturned as the children began playing about on board the vessel.

ACLU Request

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two officials of the American Civil Liberties Union Thursday called for an investigation by the House Internal Security Committee of the American Legion. At their convention earlier this week, the Legion had called for an investigation of the ACLU.

Edward J. Ennis, chairman of the board of the ACLU, and John de J. Pemberton Jr., executive director, cited a resolution the Legion adopted at its Portland, Ore., convention urging Congress to propose constitutional amendments limiting the Supreme Court's authority.

Ennis and Pemberton said that although the amendments might not be ratified, congressional action would be an attack on the independence of the federal judiciary. Justices would be under the threat of political retaliation and hostility from the legislative branch, they said.

Lindsay Objects

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay urged the Senate Thursday to reject federal financing of the supersonic transport because it would be a "complete misplacement of national priorities." He threatened to prevent any SST from landing at a New York City airport.

In an 1,100-word letter to Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., Lindsay said the impact of the huge 1,800-mile per hour plane on the environment would be "appalling" and termed the possibility of noise pollution "the worse fear of all."

Stennis is chairman of a transportation subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee which resumes hearings Sept. 14 on a $290 million Nixon administration request to continue construction of two prototypes of the plane.

Manila Deaths

MANILA (UPI) — A landslide caused by a torrential downpour crushed a family of six to death today and brought to 49 the death toll from five days of prodigious rains. President Ferdinand E. Marcos said the worst was over in Manila.

Another 7.7 inches of rain fell in the Manila area in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today, bringing to 32 inches the total since Monday.

Marcos said the state of emergency had passed but he extended for another week the "state of calamity" he proclaimed Wednesday.

Alcatraz Indians Turn Down Help

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Indians on Alcatraz Island rejected outside help Thursday and declared they would settle for nothing less than title to the former federal penitentiary they had seized.

"We're standing firm on our position—it has got to be title for the island and we're not settling for anything less," said Miss LaNada Means, speaking for the Indian Council. "After all, it's our land."

Dr. Thomas W. Matthews, National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization (Negro) president had told tribesmen he believed he could get the federal government to lease the island to Indians and also to pay them for maintaining a lighthouse.

His NEGRO seized Ellis Island in New York and convinced the government to permit the group to operate a rehabilitation center there.

(UPI Telephoto)

Nixon, LBJ Lead Praise To Diaz

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon and former President Johnson gathered with 600 leaders of government, business and industry Thursday night to pay homage to outgoing Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz. They praised him as a chief architect of hemispheric solidarity.

In a glittering state dinner held in the elegance of a 19th Century ballroom at his oceanside resort just north of the border, Nixon said that Diaz Ordaz's six years in office had witnessed "perhaps the greatest progress in the history of our two countries in ironing out our problems."

Johnson, recalling that he had met with the Mexican leader seven times in his years in office, invited him down to the LBJ Ranch to "rock with me on the banks of the Pedernales."

The diminutive leader, retiring from office Dec. 1, obviously relished the warmth and affection of his hosts but spoke with concern of the poverty in his own country.

"Wealth is no longer divorced from justice," he said, adding that all nations should aspire to developing a system that "puts wealth at the service of man and not man at the service of wealth."

"Just as we want political democracy, we aspire to economic democracy—to paraphrase the Gettysburg Address—the economy of the people, by the people and for the people."

Diaz Ordaz, accompanied by about 50 members of the Mexican government, spent 13 hours in his second meeting with President Nixon within two weeks.

Two such quick meetings were unprecedented, Nixon said, "but that is as it should be because the friendship between the two nations is unprecedented."

Prominent businessmen, more than a dozen admirals and generals, newspaper publishers and a contingent of Hollywood stars that included John Wayne, Frank Sinatra and Ricardo Montalban turned out for this second state dinner President Nixon has held outside of Washington. The other was last summer for South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

Cambodia Boiling; S. Vietnam Quiet

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong forces counterattacked in waves Thursday night in a series of assaults south of Phnom Penh near a key town recaptured a few hours earlier by Cambodian troops, military spokesmen said today.

Communiques from Saigon said fighting in Vietnam was light and order had been restored in the capital where angry disabled South Vietnamese veterans battled U.S. troops and police for nearly 24 hours.

The U. S. Command in Saigon said no Americans were killed in action in the 24-hour period from midnight Wednesday to midnight Thursday. It was the first such no-fatality report since June 11.

Cambodian spokesmen said the Viet Cong launched three waves of assaults against Cambodian defenders of the devastated town of Saang, 20 miles south of Phnom Penh and brought up 82mm mortars and 75mm recoiless rifles in the attack against Tram Khnar, less than two miles from Srang, recaptured by Cambodian forces Thursday. Srang is 26 miles south of the capital.

Cambodian spokesmen said it was part of a stepped-up Communist pressure in the region south of Phnom Penh. Saang was the scene of heavy fighting three months ago.

Cambodian spokesmen said 20 Communist troops were found dead on the edge of the Cambodian positions at Saang. Two Cambodian soldiers were killed along with one civilian and a Buddhist monk.

The Cambodians called in air strikes against the Communists attacking at Tram Khnar but in keeping with government policy, the nationality of the aircraft was withheld.

The South Vietnamese war veterans' occupation of a U.S. built refugee center was the heaviest fighting in Saigon since the 1968 Tet offensive.

It broke out Thursday when veterans demanding higher pensions from the government opened fire and wounded three U.S. military policemen, seized their jeeps and a dilapidated building. The veterans' protests have recently taken on an anti-American tone and officials said a group of veterans became angry when stopped for an identity check by U.S. MPs.

Prime Minister Tran Thien Khiem went on television Thursday night to warn the veterans against further outbursts.

Henry Aaron, of the Atlanta Braves, became the first major league player to obtain 500 home runs and 3,000 hits.

Meany Paints A Frustrating Worker Era

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The acerage American worker won't have much to cheer about this Labor Day because he is in serious trouble trying to stretch his family budget to meet ever higher prices, George Meany said today.

"Workers are feeling a deep sense of frustration," said the AFL-CIO president. "Workers have been prived out of the market for a very long time, through no fault of their own. "They have been slipping backward," Meany said in his annual Labor Day message released in advance of Monday's holiday, "and the average American worker, who has a family to care for, children to educate and bills to pay, is in serious trouble."

The 76-year-old labor leader said workers are not the only Americans to suffer because of the current inflation — the worst in 20 years — which he blamed on the "ill-conceived" policies and actions of the Nixon administration. He said the poor, pensioners and small businessmen also have been hit hard by inflation and recession.

"Labor Day 1970 is a time of great uncertainty and anxiety for many Americans, as much for American workers as for anyone else," said Meany, who will join a group of other labor leaders and their wives at a dinner with President Nixon at the White House Labor Day evening.

The affair, the first of its kind held by any president on Labor Day, was another effort in a continuing program by Nixon to maintain cordial personal relations with Meany and other labor leaders at a time when they continue to attack his economic and other domestic policies.

Population Hike

LONDON (UPI)—The population of England and Wales is expected to increase by 9.7 million to about 59 million between 1969 and 2001, according to a report Thursday by the Registrar General.

Reagan Optimistic On State's Shifting Economy; Hits Unruh

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today painted an optimistic picture of California's shifting economy and contended "we have never been more prosperous."

He asked citizens to ignore pessimists—presumably including Jess Unruh—who cry economic "doom."

In what amounted to a preview of a basic speech the governor will use on the campaign trail beginning Monday, the Republican candidate for re-election said "It is time we ended our obsession with what is wrong and realized how much is right" with society.

"Hard-hats and soft-hats, blue collar and white," Reagan told the annual host breakfast sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce, "have been picked at, sworn at, rioted against and down-graded until we have a built-in guilt complex."

The governor said in prepared remarks that he does not understand "the small percentage" of young people who of love beads and beat up the "cannot wait to put on a string dean in the name of peace."

Reagan devoted a significant portion of his speech to defending the California economy.

Assemblyman Jess Unruh, the governor's Democratic opponent, intends to make rising unemployment and reduced spending power a key issue in the campaign which kicks off Labor Day. Unruh contends Reagan has not done enough to prepare California for a peacetime economy as the nation phases out of the Vietnam War.

The latest Reagan Administration figures show that the statewide unemployment rate in July was 6.2 per cent, compared to 6 per cent in June and 4.4 per cent in July, 1969.

Reagan told the state business leaders that "after three straight years of the lowest unemployment we have known in decades, we are in an economic pinch that has increased unemployment to almost the level we were accustomed to in the several years prior to 1967.

"I have no intention of minimizing the hardship of the trained and willing worker who is unable to find a job," the governor continued, "But there is no reason to give way to panic."

Reagan said "an effort had to be made to slow inflation" and it was "long overdue."

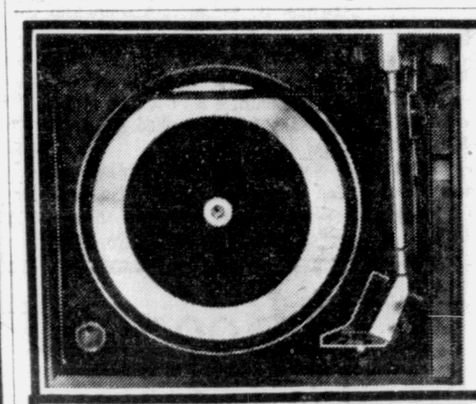

"We have never been more prosperous, or more generous with our prosperity; never more truly concerned with the welfare of the less fortunate, with education and equality of opportunity," he added.

$220,000 Picasso Painting Is Taken

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) —A French street scene painted more than 30 years ago by Spanish artist Pablo Picasso and valued at about $222,000 was stolen by hold-up men, police said today.

Senora Encarnacion Sanchez de Correa told police armed burglars entered her home here and made off with the approximately yard-square painting willed to her by her brother-in-law, Spanish painter Antonio Correa, about 20 years ago. The painting depicts a narrow street bathed in sunlight, a smashed violin and a vase of illuminated flowers, she said.

LaBianca Weapon Offers No Clues

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles "Tex" Watson and Patricia Krenwinkel left their fingerprints at Sharon Tate's house, but the killers who invaded the home of Rosemary and Leno LaBianca apparently used a rag to wipe away their traces.

A police fingerprint expert testified Thursday at the trial of Charles Manson and three female codefendants that a pearl-handled carving fork stuck in Leno LaBianca's abdomen did not have even a smudge of a fingerprint on it.

"It gave me the impression that the handle had been wiped off," said officer Harold J. Dolan.

"There was not even a smudge. If it had been handled at all, there would have been at least fragmentary prints."

Dolan said he had matched a print taken from the front door of the Tate residence with a print of Watson's right ring finger. Watson, 24, was indicted for the Tate-LaBianca murders, but will be tried later because he has been fighting extradition from Texas.

In New Orleans, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled yesterday that unless the Supreme Court decided otherwise, Watson must be extradited to California by next Friday to face trials in the murders of the actress and six others. The court ruled Aug. 31 there was no merit to arguments by Watson's attorneys that the former members of the "Manson Family" should not be extradited because he could not receive a fair trial in California.

Ordinarily that ruling would not take effect until 20 days later, to give Watson time to file new motions or appeals.

But the Circuit Court granted a request by Texas officials that the waiting period be shortened by nine days.

The court ruled appeals for a rehearing may be filed even after Watson is sent to Los Angeles. Watson's attorneys filed a rehearing request with the circuit court Thursday.

Dolan said he found 50 fingerprints in the Tate house, including 22 prints which belonged to the five victims—Miss Tate, Jay Sebring, Abigail Folger, Voityck Frykowski and Stephen Parent. Some prints were too smudged to be compared and the others were unidentified, he said.

A total of 25 fingerprints were found in the Los Feliz District home of LaBianca, a grocer. Nineteen of the prints belonged to LaBianca, his wife, or her son, Frank Struthers Jr., Dolan said. Six were unidentified.

Recorder Stolen

FIVE LOSERS SINCE 1960 NOSE COUNT

This chart shows the percentage change in population state-by-state between 1960 and 1970. The information is based on preliminary data of the U.S. Census Bureau. Only five states show a drop in population — North and South Dakota, Mississippi, West Virginia and Wyoming. California is second behind Arizona as the state with the biggest population increase.

rather than to teletype information to local authorities.

Little Falls Police said a check of the car showed it was registered to "a private party in Westchester County" and had not been reported stolen.

But police in Westchester County said today the car had been stolen between 7:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. Thursday from a parking place about a half mile from the Penn Central railroad depot in the New York suburb of North White Plains.

The Armstrong brothers, Fine and Burt all were named Wednesday in federal warrants charging them with sabotage, destruction of government property and conspiracy in the bombing in Madison.

Sheriff Ralph Hearn of Sauk County, Wis., said Thursday he would seek a warrant charging Karleton Armstrong with the attempted bombing of a power substation.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, alerted by the FBI, said Thursday they were aiding in the search for the men.

In Washington, the Justice Department urged Wisconsin officials to file murder charges against the four in order to alleviate any extradition problems. Reports circulated in Washington that at least two of the four, Fine and Burt, had fled to Canada by means of "underground aid."

Dane County District Attorney James C. Boll said he would file murder charges "at a later date."

The blast severely damaged the six-tsory Sterling hall which housed the Physics Department and the Army Mathematics Research Center. Damages have been estimated as high as more than $6 million. Physics researcher Robert E. Fassnacht, 33, the father of three, was killed and four others were injured.

Israeli Premier Moves Up Date Of Talks With U.S.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli Premier Golda Meir, concerned about the growing Egyptian missile crisis, has advanced the date of her planned visit to the United States for talks with President Nixon, diplomatic sources said today in Jerusalem.

The Suez Canal cease-fire line remained quiet despite the tension but heavy fighting broke out on the Israeli-Lebanese border today and Israeli jets went into action against Arab guerrilla bases.

Mrs. Meir, in what was considered a decisive victory for Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, dropped her conciliatory policy toward the missile buildup and demanded a return to the situation that prevailed before the cease-fire went into effect Aug. 7.

Dayan demanded that from the start, threatened to resign and suggested the New York Mideast peace talks be abandoned if the status quo is not restored. He also made it clear he thought Israel was capable of knocking out the missile sites if they are not removed by diplomatic means.

Diplomatic sources said they thought Mrs. Meir would ask Nixon to press Egypt to remove the missiles and that she would ask for more military aid to counter the 400 missiles and 125 MIG21 jets Egypt is reported receiving from Russia.

A spokesman for the Palestine Armed Struggle Command said in Beirut that heavy fighting broke out along the Lebanese-Israeli border and that Israeli planes went into action in the afternoon "and the battle is still going on."

The spokesman said the fighting started at dawn when Israel opened artillery fire on two Palestinian guerrilla bases made it clear it is ready to take military action against Egypt if the United States does not force withdrawal of Soviet-made missiles installed in the Suez Canal cease-fire zone.

The sources said Mrs. Meir, who had planned to attend the 25th anniversary celebrations of the United Nations in New York in October, would leave for the United States in about 10 days. These reports were backed by an announcement from the United Jewish Appeal in New York which said Mrs. Meir would "pay a brief visit to the United States in the latter part on the slopes of Mount Herman near the South Lebanese village of Kfar Chouba and then sent in infantrymen. "Our fighters engaged them in heavy combot," the spokesman said.

An Israeli anniuncement said only that Israeli jets bombed guerrilla bases in the area and that all planes returned safely.

The report came as Israel of September in connection with the humanitarian programs supported by the United Jewish Appeal."

The announcement said she would meet the leadership of the American Jewish community at a specially-convened gathering to be held in New York City.

In London, the Institute for Strategic Studies reported today the Soviet Union is deploying upwards of 400 SAM3 ground-to-air missiles in 45 sites in Egypt. The institute, an international defense study center, said Moscow also has promised Egypt 150 more MIG21 jet fighters.

Nixon administration officials in Washington expressed the hope that now that the United States has publicly supported Israeli charges of Soviet-Egyptian violations of the cease-fire, Israel would send its representatives back to New York to continue the peace talks. However, Israeli officials both in Washington and Jerusalem insist the U.S. protest alone is not enough and the missiles must be pulled out before the discussions can continue.

However, the United States appeared unwilling to try to force Egypt and its Soviet allies to retreat on the issue.

pattern that has prevailed for many years. August marked the tenth month out of the last twelve in which this has occurred."

—Average weekly earnings of factory workers increased 70 cents over July to $122.15, a gain of 18 cents over a year since August, 1969. Average hourly earnings rose by a penny from July to $3.24—a gain of x8 cents over a year ago.

— Unemployment among white-collar workers, after reaching a 10-year high of 3.1 per cent in July, fell to 2.7 per cent, but the rate for blue collar workers rose to 7 per cent from 6.6 per in July.

— Manufacturing payrolls dropped by 75,000 workers, on a seasonally adjusted basis, to 19,553,000.

CREEK

which councilman was against the measure.

With a backdrop of a large strip map of the creek, Councilman William G. Fleckles, questioning legalities, said he felt property owners would take the position that such an ordinance would effectively limit the use and value of the land and may seek court action.

Bianchi agreed, adding the courts were the only place to finally decide the issue. However, he continued, proof of public use of the marshland for a period of more than five years could be a determinant of its future public use.

With Bianchi's assurances that the city was in a favorable legal position, the officials agreed that a 30 day halt to use of the lands adjacent the creek was a reasonable period to initiate a study on drafting of a future ordinance.

If after 30 days, with council approval, an ordinance to protect the marshland by establishing mandatory building setbacks appears feasible, the council may continue the emergency ban. If it does not appear feasible, the council may lift the prohibition.

In related action last night, the planners unanimously approved a recommendation to the council that it authorize the commission to hire an expert to determine the boundaries of the marshland. Such a report would allow the commission to determine where construction setbacks should extend to insure survival of the marshland.

Slide Repair Contract Given

The Tiburon City Council last night awarded a $10,540 contract to D. Venturini Trucking and Grading Co. to repair a landslide on Mar West Street, according to Mayor Denis T. Rice.

The only other bid was for $13,170 from Ghilotti Brothers Co. of San Rafael. Engineers had estimated the work would cost the city $10,800, Rice said.

No other business was conducted at last night's special meeting, he said.

Vegetable Grower To Recognize Chavez

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A major Salinas Valley vegetable grower today rescinded its contract with the Teamsters Union and notified the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee that it recognized the committee as its bargaining agent.

William R. Tincher, chairman of the board and president of Purex Corp., told a news conference at the Los Angeles Press Club that its subsidiary, Freshpict Foods Inc., would begin immediate negotiations with the UFWOC led by Cesar Chavez.

OBITUARIES

Rose Foster Dies At 54; Rites Set

Rose M. Foster of San Rafael died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 54.

Mrs. Foster was born in East Orange, N.J., but had lived in San Rafael since 1922. She lived at 53 Beach Road for the past two years.

Mrs. Foster was a member of the San Rafael Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Also surviving are a son, Edward G. of the family home and a daughter, Claudia Culiver of San Francisco.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael followed by burial at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

HOWARD GILBERT

Howard Westley Gilbert, a 25-year resident of Marin, died yesterday at his Larkspur home following a short illness. He was 80.

Gilbert, who lived at No. 1 Broadwaly, was a native of Jeffersonville, Ind., but had spent most of his life in New York and California.

Following his graduation from Hanover College in Indiana, Gilbert began his career as a concert singer and voice teacher in New York. He moved to California in 1940.

A veteran of World War I, he was discovered yesterday by a friend. Gilbert had been last seen at another friend's home the day before.

He is survived by a sister in Philadelphia.

MARY HEER

A Requiem Mass for Mary H. Heer, 74, of 114 Sycamore Avenue, San Anselmo, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Heer, widow of Harry V. Heer, died Wednesday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of San Rafael, she lived in San Jose most of her life, and returned to Marin five years ago. She was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, San Jose Chapter.

Surviving are a sister, Martha Colombo of San Anselmo, and two brothers, James and Harry Wall, both of San Rafael.

Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery, San Jose. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

VIOLA COLBY

Private family services were held today for Viola E. Colby, 59, of 55 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Colby, wife of Henry V. Colby, a San Francisco attorney, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Colby had been a resident of California for 24 years and of Marin for 18 years.

Surviving are her husband, Henry, a son, Dr. James Spilker Jr. of Los Altos Hills; two daughters Evelyn Kunst of San Rafael, and Phyllis Freeman of Sunnyvale; four sisters, Nettie Killian of Mill Valley, Emma Irman and Louise Hall, both of Denver, and Elsie Schaffer of Phoenix, Ariz., and 12 grandchildren.

Private burial was at Greenlawn Memorial Part, Colma. The family prefers that memorial contributions be made to the Marin County Heart Association.

CLARENCE MARCY

Funeral for Clarence A. Marcy, 86, of Sonoma, father of Dawn Rose and Ferne Williams of Mill Valley, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Funeral Chapel, Sonoma.

Marcy, a native of Pennsylvania, died Tuesday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was a retired district superintendent and teacher with the Los Angeles School System and a member of the Retired Teachers Association.

He is also survived by his wife, Nellie; another daughter, Margaret Meyer of Florida; four grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

ELIZABETH FITZGARRALD

Elizabeth E. Fitzgarrald of Greenbrae died today at a local hospital after a short illness. She was 78.

Born in Rickville, Colo., she moved to Clay Center, Kan. as a girl. Six years after marrying James Fitzgarrald in 1910, she moved to Butte, Mont.

She moved to San Francisco in 1923 and remained there until 1960 when she moved to 195 Via Lerida in Greenbrae.

Mrs. Fitzgarrald belonged to the Christian Science Mother Church in Boston, Mass.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Josephine Ouellette of Greenbrae and Geraldine Martin of Elkhart, Ind.; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was today in San Rafael followed by inurnment at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

The family asked that memorial contributions be made to the Heart Association.

CHARLES ALLEN

The 5-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rial Allen of 7689 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma, died last night in his sleep.

The Sonoma County Coroner's office attributed to natural causes the death of Charles Coleman Allen, who was pronounced dead on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital, where he was taken when he failed to waken.

Graveside service will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Willits Cemetery, Willits.

IT'S FESTIVAL TIME AGAIN IN SAUSALITO

Sausalito artist Serge Trubach is the center of attraction, if the signs read right. The fine arts painter seems quite at home amid all these directional posters he has helped prepare for this weekend's three-day Sausalito Arts festival. This year's annual event, entitled "Festival of the Sun" starts tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Sausalito Art Center on Nevada street and runs to 6 p.m. daily. The signs, city officials and festival directors hope will route traffic in and out of Sausalito via the north. (See story, page 1.)

10 Hurt In Sonoma, Marin Road Wrecks

An Idaho couple and their five children were among 10 persons injured in traffic accidents in Marin and southern Sonoma yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Merlin T. Reusser, 35, of McCall, Idaho, was treated at Novato General Hospital for pain in the left hand after his car, northbound on Highway 101 north of Novato at 10:15 p.m., was hit from the rear by one driven by Jesse J. Amarse Jr., 32, of Petaluma.

Officers said the impact caused the Reusser vehicle to leave the freeway and hit a utility pole. Treated for cuts and bruises at the hospital were three Reusser children, Vicki, 9, Donald, 11, and Lisa, 12. Reusser's wife, Eleen, 30, and two other children, Linda, 12, and Karen, 6, reportedly received minor injuries but were not treated.

In another accident, Judson H. Clark, 77, of Walnut Creek, was reported in good condition at Novato General Hospital with bruises and a fractured rib.

Officers said that Clark, southbound on Lakeville Road at the intersection of Highway 37 in Sonoma County at 5:45 p.m., stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of a car driven by Max R. Kaplan, 54, of 14 Pierce Drive, Novato.

Kaplan was treated for bruises and shoulder and leg pain. Clark was cited by the patrol for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Robert I. Lewis, 27, of 906 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was taken to Marin General Hospital and treated for scrapes and a fractured left collarbone after his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Jerome B. York, 54, of 15 Tree Top Way, Kentfield.

Officers said Lewis pulled into the side of York's car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Stetson Avenue in Kentfield at 5:40 p.m.

Girl Arrested As Pot Suspect

A 15-year-old Novato girl was arrested yesterday after a patrolman found three flower pots containing suspected marijuana seeds and young plants on her front porch, Novato police reported today.

Lorraine Hugh Davidson, of 1682 Indian Valley Road, began tearing up plants and throwing them away when told the drug abuse bureau in the sheriff's office would be called, according to the report.

She was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of cultivating marijuana.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

1:10 p.m., Novato — Sparks from grinder set grass fire near corner of De Long Avenue and Highway 101 which burned 30,000 square feet.

2:23 p.m., San Anselmo — Fire of undetermined origin burned 100 square feet of grass at 117 Legend Way; no damage.

4:48 p.m., San Anselmo — Oil leak on hot manifold in car of Joan deBruyn of 35 Forest Avenue; no damage.

4:55 p.m., Novato — Children with matches set fire in vacant lot at the end of Jules Drive, 25 by 50 foot area burned.

5:10 p.m., Mill Valley — Grass fire on fire trail at the end of Escalon Drive burned 60 by 100 foot area; no damage; cause unknown.

9:07 p.m., San Rafael — Arsonist with an incendiary device of a clock, battery and flare set fire to grass at 200 Biscayne Drive; 2,500 square feet burned; no damage.

TODAY:

SOUTHERN SONOMA YESTERDAY:

Cotati Approves 60-Foot Lot Size

The Cotati City Council last night adopted a subdivision ordinance setting lot widths of 60 feet, although most members said they preferred a 50-foot requirement.

The council said that while 50-foot lot widths seemed more practical for developers, the ordinance should specify 60 feet to correspond with the zoning ordinance.

They said developers wanting smaller frontages could file requests for variances. The minimum lot size was set at 6,000 square feet.

In other action, the council denied the appeal of Mark Rose for two self-service gasoline pumps at his grocery store on east Cotati Avenue. The council noted that such a combination is not permitted in the service station

Sausalito Trustees Vote For 24 School District Transfers

With a minimum of discussion, the Sausalito School District Board yesterday approved interdistrict transfers for 24 youngsters.

By the action, trustees left the question of where the students will attend school next week up to other southern Marin school districts and the Marin County Board of Education.

Of the transfer requests granted, 17 are asking to attend school in the Reed School District and seven are applying for a place in the Mill Valley School District.

The Mill Valley School Board will meet today at 7 p.m. to consider the requests. The Reed School Board has not yet set a time for meeting on the applications.

If any of the youngsters are refused admission by both districts, the county board of education will hear appeals next week.

Whether all the children will have a place to attend classes when school begins Tuesday in all southern Marin districts remained in doubt today.

According to Lyle Wright, coordinator for the county schools office, the county board plans to hear appeals at its Tuesday night meeting.

But if Reed acts on the requests before Tuesday, Wright said it is "possible" the county board might decide to hold a special meeting on Monday.

Wright noted the Mill Valley District plans to make some decision today, but said the county board would be more likely to hold the special meeting Monday if all the transfer requests, not only those from Mill Valley, were up for consideration.

In-depth studies of each application have been prepared by the Sausalito district in conjunction with the county schools office.

Although the Sausalito School Board gave blanket approval to all the transfer requests being considered yesterday, trustees declared that any future applications will have to be decided on an individual basis.

The board also agreed to pay the full cost of educating the children to any district which accepts Sausalito transfers, minus state and federal aid given that district.

Trustees also agreed to hold a public hearing on the dismissal of Gabe Jackson, district community worker-educational aide, at its Sept. 14 meeting. Jackson, who received the board's charges against him last week, requested a public hearing on those charges on Wednesday.

Club Will Honor Japanese Visitor

Kiyoshi Suzuki, past president of the Rotary Club of Atami, Japan, will attend the Terra Linda Rotary Club noon luncheon Tuesday at Lin Fa restaurant, Terra Linda, at a special "Atami Day" meeting.

Suzuki will be appearing as part of Rotary's international friendship program with the Terra Linda club as the "matching club" with the Atama club.

Suzuki is vice president of the Atami Development Planning Committee, vice president of Management Research Conference in Shizuoka and president of the Planning and Reconstructing Committee of Atami Station Plaza.

Proposal To Seek Quicker FBI Entry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Panama has rejected three proposed treaties for operation of the Panama Canal, according to the State Department.

A spokesman said Panama has told the United States a proposed nine-member board for control of the canal should have a majority of Panamanian members, instead of a U.S. majority as proposed in a 1967 understanding. The board would control the Canal Zone until it is turned over to Panama in 1999.

Electric Typewriter Stolen From School

Burglars took a $379 electric typewriter from Hill Junior High School between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. yesterday, Novato police reported today.

A groundfloor window was broken to enter the school, but no other damage or theft was noted, according to the report.

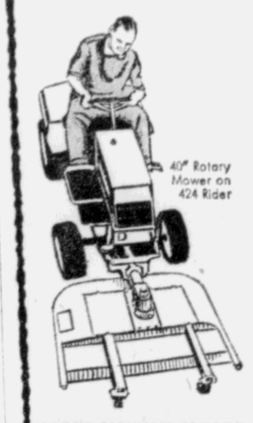

Burglary, Drug Suspects Held

Two Petaluma youths were arrested at 3:30 a.m. today on suspicion of committing three burglaries and possessing marijuana.

Curtis Matthew Gray, 16, of 124 Alta Drive, and Michael Elbert Murphy, 16, of 525 Adrienne Drive, were booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

The police first detained the youths for curfew violation and said they found marijuana in their possession and believed they were responsible for three burglaries including the theft of coins from the Magic Wand Car Wash, 412 Petaluma Boulevard North; coins from a vending machine at Burkhart's Chevron station, 732 East Washington Street, and the theft of a bottle of champagne from Deli-Delights, Petaluma Plaza.

Today is Friday, Sept. 4, the 247th day of 1970 with 118 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1781 Spanish settlers founded the city of Los Angeles.

In 1940 Adolf Hitler promised the German people he would invade Great Britain, a promise he never carried out.

In 1969 Brazilian terrorists kidnaped American Ambassador Burke Elbrick. He was released three days later when the Brazilian government freed 15 political prisoners.

A thought for the day: F. Scott Fitzgerald said, "In a real dark horse of the soul it is always 3 o'clock in the morning."

Tiburon Firemen Study Invitation

Members of the Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Association have been invited to join the Marin County Association of Firemen, according to Fire Chief Franklin W. Buscher.

The invitation was extended at the group's Wednesday meeting by Capt. James Kennon of the San Rafael Fire Department, association president. The firemen will study the group's bylaws and vote on whether to join at its next meeting, Buscher said.

The association also welcomed new members Robert Brooks, James La Torre, William Von Lackus and William Steiger.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

New Zealand's Bruce Bell Is True Champ–Study Why

Many a bridge expert thinks he is doing well if he wins half of the tournaments in which he competes, but the rest of the world is put to shame by Bruce Bell, of Auckland, N.Z., with 20 wins in 24 appearances since World War II. Today's hand is taken from the 1970 New Zealand team championship, won, as usual, by Bell's team.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS

West led the eight of diamonds, a card that looked suspiciously like a singleton. If so, Bell had to worry about preventing the loss of three diamonds and one club. In fact, these tricks were lost at the other table of the match.

Since there was no reason to rush in with the ace of diamonds, Bell played low from the dummy at the first trick. East won with the jack of diamonds and returned the suit, giving West a ruff. West then got out by leading the king of hearts to dummy's ace.

LEAVES TRUMP OUT

Declarer drew one round of trumps with dummy's queen, ruffed a heart, and led a club. West stepped up with the ace of clubs and got out safely with another club.

Now South could safely draw a second round of trumps. It would have been wrong to lead a second trump earlier since if East had the ace of clubs, he would be in position to lead a third trump and thus remove the last trump from dummy.

The New Zealand expert next led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed a heart to return to his hand and led the queen of clubs to discard dummy's last diamond. At the 12th trick, South led his last diamond and ruffed it in dummy.

13TH TRICK

The 12th trick had arrived, and East still had a trump. But declarer led the last heart from dummy, and East ruffed vainly as South overruffed. Those 20 wins in 24 years would seem to be no accident.

Police Committee To Discuss Goals

A public seminar on police community relations will be held at 8 P.M. next Wednesday in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

The Police Community Relations Committee, headed by Bella Aaron, will outline the goals and activities of the current one-year project to improve relations between police and the community.

Charles F. Williams, director of the one-year program, and Mrs. Aaron will lead the discussion. Members of the police community relations advisory committee will be introduced.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Steaks, Dancing And Top-Floor View–All In Night At Bernard's

In San Francisco, a place like Bernard's Executive Lounge, with its top floor location, would probably be mobbed at dinner time — simply because it was there.

In downtown San Rafael, the idea of a restaurant you can't see from your car while driving by still has to catch on, I guess. Taking an elevator in the big city is a round-the-clock occurrence. Here, after sundown, the very thought must be abhorrent, the way people avoid it.

This is borne out in the attendance record at Bernard's, a cozy little retreat on the fifth floor of the Reynold C. Johnson Building at 1299 Fourth Street. At lunch time, space is at a premium. Downtown businessmen and office workers crowd it to the walls. However, at night, when the lights are low and it should be at its best, you seldom have to wait for a table.

The chef, Wally Price, cooks both the lunch and dinner meals and both times he is a master at his profession. The view from the windows looking out on the city is the same as at lunch, but is made more fascinating with the coming of dusk.

The owner of this clublike restaurant is Don Bernard, who conducted a successful operation in San Francisco before he opened in Marin. With his full beard it strikes me that he might well be cast in the role of an English country squire in tweeds with pipe and dog. But, since there is little call in business these days for country squires in tweeds with pipe and dog, he has become a restaurateur, and he takes this work seriously, moving with surprising alacrity from group to group in the manner of a proper host.

I won't even tempt you with the lunch menu, as you will probably find the place too crowded, anyway. But dinners run to steaks (New York, teriyaki and lemon pepper, sirloin), brochettes, seafoods, sweetbreads, scallopini and other popular selections. Biggest favorites among diners are Wally's lemon pepper steak and his baked fillet of sole Marguery.

Along about 9:30 on Friday and Saturday nights (but not tonight or tomorrow night), a few of the center tables are removed and the space is used for dancing. Lee Charlton on drums, Mel Martin on various wind instruments and Mike Thatcher at the electric piano make the music. They came from such widely separated points as Alabama, Sacramento and Los Angeles, but together turn out pleasing renditions of both new and some of the older favorites.

They are not here tonight because of the weekend holiday coming up. But they'll be back next week. Meanwhile, concentrate on the dinner. Sunday is the regular closing day. This weekend Don is closing Monday, too.

IT'S NOT FOR ME to urge you on the highways this weekend, but traditionally this is the last big chance for a three-day summer weekend fling at river, lake or seashore or mountains. For some Marinites, much of this activity will be centered in nearby Sonoma County.

If that's where you will be going, I suggest any one of the three popular Italian restaurants at Occidental — Union Hotel, Negri's or Fiori's. And they'll be open all three days. They all keep an eye on each other — if one stays open the others wouldn't dare to close. So take your pick.

CAZANOMA LODGE in Cazadero is a nice woodsy place to go. It, too, will be open for both lunches and dinners all three days. But after this weekend it will return to closing on Mondays, and in October to serving only on weekends. After that it will close for the season, opening again in March.

German and American food is the fare — and good.

IF YOU ARE OVER on the coast, one place to go is the Tides at Bodega Bay, which has completed its new restaurant. It has all kinds of seafoods and is open seven days a week.

AT JENNER BY THE SEA, near the mouth of the Russian River, Jerry and Hazel Berg also serve fine seafoods, and have quite a collection of redwood burl furniture pieces and novelties.

FOR PEOPLE ON THE RUN or who haven't time to stop long to eat, there's a new take-out food spot at 3962 South Gravenstein Highway, Sebastopol open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 2:30 a.m.

It's called Jesse's Barbecue Inn, operated by Jess J. Fortner who lives not far from there. He'll serve you barbecued ribs, chicken or beef on the spot or make deliveries in that area.

BACK IN MARIN, to round out the Labor Day weekend, Don Johnson at London Arms on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile has decided to keep open Monday, Sept. 7 — even though it's his regular day of closing.

Service will be from 4 to 10:30 p.m.

AT THIS WRITING, Ramona was sure she would have her Mexican dinery on C Street, San Rafael open again by tonight, with remodeling completed — or so nearly so that any remaining work can be picked up in the regular routine of things.

It will be open just for dinners — not for lunches yet. She'll have to cool down and recover a bit before renewing mid-day service. Things have been too strenuous the last few weeks. At last account she was chasing the plumber out of the kitchen with a butchr knife, or he was chasing her out of the kitchen with a length of pipe — I'm not quite sure which.

The place is very nice with its new look. It has a waiting entry now — something it's needed.

THE FRENCH may not admit to having anything to do with the popular French fries, but according to one story, Thomas Jefferson discovered them being prepared by some of the great chefs of France and brought the idea back to Monticello.

So France gets the credit whether it wants it or not.

Incidentally the National Fish Fryers Association of Britain holds that the ideal beverage to accompany fish and chips is champagne, instead of beer. You might try it at London Arms. Don has both.

Not a bad idea with hamburger and French fries either, instead of coke. Sam's in Tiburon features it — with hamburgers, anyway.

FRED CHERRY'S newest productions are two more wine vinegars — lemon champagne and Salad Sauce a la Bordeau. The last is rich and garlicky. You dilute it with wine instead of water when you're ready to serve.

DON'T HOLDUP YOUR NOSE in disdain or your hands in horror if you see someone plopping lumps of ice in his wine. On a hot day in France you'll see it done quite often in a red vin ordinaire — and in Portugal it's sometimes done with port.

THIS WEEK a fine Sausalito restaurant — the Spinnaker — celebrated completion of its 10th year in business. Our congratulations to Bill McDonnell and Don Lynam on their record of consistently good service and excellent food.

Apartments Win Approval On Conditions

The Novato Plan Review Committee has approved, subject to several conditions, plans for a 24-unit apartment on the northwest corner of Hill Road and Diablo Avenue.

Conditions of approval related to changes in architectural design, street improvement, landscaping, lighting and irrigation plans.

The committee on Wednesday also recommended that the planning commission grant a variance to permit construction of the apartments with one parking space less than required for the number of units included.

The Novato Plan Review Committee also:

ALAMEDA DEL PRADO — Approved changing plans for the Alameda Del Prado apartments, now under construction south of the Ignacio-Highway 101 interchange to allow installation of roof-mounted, rather than the previously approved pad-mounted, air conditioners.

BAHIA LIGHTING — Continued for modification proposals for outside lighting to be used throughout the Bahia development.

REVIEW — Reviewed without action a proposal by Blumenfeld Theaters to build a movie house next to the downtown shopping center and a proposed design for a Shell service station at San Marin and San Andreas drives.

Mill Valley Boy, 12, Is Drowned

I-J Special Report

GUERNEVILLE — A 12-year-old Mill Valley boy drowned yesterday after falling down a 159-foot slope into the Russian River at Summerhome Park.

The Sonoma County Sheriff's substation at Guerneville said William Cary, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Cary Jr. of 381 Lovell Avenue was playing with two young cousins on a hill above the river when he fell at about 9:30 a.m.

Deputies borrowed a private boat from the Summerhome Park boat dock to recover the body.

The Edna McGuire School student was staying at the summer home of an uncle, Dr. Steven Cary, also of Mill Valley.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by a sister, Elizabeth, and a brother, David, and his grandparents, Dr. William S. Cary and Dr. and Mrs. John K. Young, all of Mill Valley.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Guerneville Redwood Chapel.

Felony Suspect Gets Added Charge Of Pot

A 21-year-old Forest Knolls woman facing trial on three felony counts of sex perversion and one of battery upon a police officer was re-booked yesterday into Marin County Jail on a marijuana charge.

After a preliminary hearing in municipal court, Rebecca Matthews was ordered held for trial in superior court by visiting Judge Robert N. Conners of Humboldt County. The judge ordered Miss Mathews remanded into custody and set bail at $1,250. After a struggle with matrons and bailiffs, the woman was taken to jail. A matron picking up her jacket found a small bag of suspected marijuana in the pocket.

Miss Mathews was orginally arrested at Kent Lake Aug. 2 after she was reportedly engaging in sex acts in the nude with several men while a crowd of hippies and children watched, played guitars and joked.

Secret Testimony Reveals Deadly Buckshot Supplied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Lawmen at the People's Park riot in May of last year were supplied for a time only with deadly buckshot, secret testimony at the trial of a former Alameda County Sheriff's deputy revealed Thursday.

The testimony was originally given by the defendant in the current case, Lawrence Riche, at a federal grand jury inquiry into the bloody riot which occurred in Berkeley.

At the January, 1970 federal hearing, Riche testified that he and other officers trying to control the disturbance were ordered to fire their two rounds of birdshot and the following two rounds of lethal buckshot "only if it was necessary."

He told the hearing he had reloaded with birdshot once after firing a round "at a gentleman on Regent Street" and later "after all of a sudden some rocks started hitting" near the point he was guarding.

Authorities had tried to bring ammunition to the officers two or three times during a lull, Riche continued, "but everytime they came, they had buckshot, at which time we rejected it each time and told them to take it back."

Riche said he did not want the heavy buckshot because "I didn't want to kill anybody."

After the right delivery was made, Riche said he reloaded with birdshot when rocks began raining down near his sentry post.

"I raised my shotgun and I fired a round of birdshot," he said.

He said he didn't think he had hit anyone because he had aimed "up high," but someone told him a man had been hit.

Rountree Eyed For Brazil Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon is expected to nominate career diplomat William Manning Rountree as new U.S. ambassador to Brazil, diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said the Brazilian government already had given approval to the selection of the 53-year-old Rountree as successor to Charles Burke Elbrick.

Rountree has been in the foreign service since 1943, most recently has been ambassador to South Africa.

Cleaver Talk

TOKYO (UPI)—North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong had "a cordial talk" with Eldridge Cleaver, leader of the American Black Panther party, the North Vietnam news agency said today.

The retroactive pay raises due postal employes will cost taxpayers an estimated $645.8-million.

Safeway Sets Fresh Label Pilot Program

OAKLAND (UPI)—Shoppers at Safeway Stores will soon be able to determine the freshness of the products they are buying by looking at the labels.

A company spokesman said Safeway opened a pilot campaign Wednesday in Washington, D.C. newspapers explaining to customers how to read the freshness code on its products.

As an example, the ads said, a 9-5 on a carton of milk means it shouldn't remain on the shelves beyond Sept. 5. That figure does not mean the milk will be bad after that date, however.

"This is a pilot program that we hope will be nationwide before the end of the year," said Dwayne Carlstrom, press relations chief for Safeway, the second biggest food chain in the country.

He said the system, called "open dating," has been in use for about 30 years, primarily for the benefit of Safeway employes.

Carlstrom said the decision to make the "open dating" code understandable to customers came in the wake of consumer interest in food freshness and quality.

Virginia Knauer, White House assistant for consumer affairs, had immediate praise for the pilot program in Washington, D.C.

She said Safeway "should be commended for its educational efforts to teach consumers how to use the system," and urged other food chains to follow suit.

The initial ads, which were run in Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland in addition to the national capital, concerned open dating just on milk. Safeway said subsequent ads will tell consumers how to read codes on other products.

Sonoma Agency Approves Cotati Annexation Plan

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Local Agency Formation Commission yesterday approved an annexation to Cotati, but turned down a 96-acre Petaluma annexation request.

The commission approved the annexation of 58 acres to Cotati, including land south of East Cotati Avenue, and west of Park and Myrtle avenues owned by Fred W. Rohnert and Dorothy Rohnert Spreckles.

The commission said that since the land is also adjacent to Rohnert Park, the exact boundary line should be worked out by the two city councils.

Refused was the request of William Lawrence to annex 96 acres at the west edge of Petaluma bounded by Denman Road, Old Redwood Highway and Ely Road.

The commission noted that the land is five miles from the center of Petaluma with many unincorporated areas in between.

BAY PROJECT — A scale model of an 18.4-acre project in the bay north of the Ferry Building in San Francisco shows the 10-story hotel outboard of the stores and offices patterned after the glass-covered Grand Galleria of Milan. Its critics claim it will set a precedent for similar projects all around the bay.

FERRY PORT PLAZA

Controversy On Waterfront Plan

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — A precedent-setting $120 million development proposed for San Francisco's waterfront yesterday aroused a storm of controversy before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The precedent, which would allow virtually any kind of development on the bay under certain conditions, could open up vast areas of the bay to developments previously barred by BCDC — including the waterfront in Richardson Bay and Sausalito.

At issue was a proposal by BCDC's staff to encourage private development to improve public access and shoreline appearance in areas where the bay is now inaccessible and the shoreline unattractive because of obsolete wharves or other structures or fill.

The staff proposed that new construction "may be used for any purpose, whether or not water-related, that does not adversely affect enjoyment of the bay and its shoreline."

Critics of the proposed regulation — dubbed the "rule of equivalencies" — claimed it would open the door to massive development around the bay. They argued the commission should stick to its present rule of requiring developments to be "water-related."

Executive Director Joseph E. Bodovitz said that the staff proposed the regulation so commissioners would have a basis for evaluating projects such as the one presented yesterday by Oceanic Properties, a subsidiary of the giant Hawaiian development firm of Castle and Cooke. Limited partners in the project are the Ford Foundation and Kidder Peabody and Co.

The 18.4-acre project, roughly the size of Alcatraz Island, would replace four piers just north of the Ferry Building, thus relying on the proposed "rule of equivalencies." The project, called Ferry Port Plaza, would fill 4.5 acres for a four-level subsurface garage for 2,400 cars and cover 13.9 acres with a platform built on piles.

The platform would support offices, stores and a 10-story, 1,200-room hotel standing 141 feet high. A three-acre park and public walkway would be built around the perimeter of the project.

The four dilapidated piers to be removed cover 11.8 acres, well short of the 18.4 acres to be covered by the project. The developers, however, argued that they still would be opening up an equivalent amount of the bay by dredging shallow, stagnant areas close to the shore.

More than 200 persons jammed the hearing in the state Building, most of them opposed to the project and to the proposed regulation. Few had time to speak yesterday, however, and the hearing was continued to 2 p.m. on Sept. 17, again in Room 1194 at 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Bodovitz reported that the commission had received one letter supporting the Oceanic Properties project from the Greater San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. A record 649 letters, cards and telegrams had swamped the commission from opponents of the project, he said, topping the previous record set earlier this year when the county of Marin unsuccessfully sought BCDC endorsement of a master plan for Richardson Bay.

Also received was a letter from the Army Corps of Engineers, which noted that the corps would have to consider the environmental impact of the project.

The manager of the project, Dick M. Wilkinson, said that the offices and hotel were water-oriented, and that because of height limitations "there almost isn't anything else we can do." He said the project would bring San Francisco up to $6 million a year in new tax revenue.

Circulation of water in the area would be improved, Wilkinson argued, because the pilings under the platform would be further apart than those supporting the four piers to be removed.

Barry L. Bunshoft, a San Francisco attirney speaking for the Save San Francisco Bay Association, said that the transfer of the port from the state to San Francisco two years ago "did not contemplate high-rise offices and hotels," (The association last month branded the project "the greatest threat to the protection of the bay which has yet to come before the commission.")

Miriam E. Wolff, director of the Port of San Francisco, argued the project was the first of many that will be needed to finance $100 million in improvements to the port. "Everything we do that is not related to commerce and navigation is incidental," she said.

The project would displace the Golden Gate Brideg District's ferry terminal at the old heliport, as well as its maintenance facility at Pier 7. A new ferry landing would be needed.

Construction of the project, according to Oceanic's schedule, would begin next spring and be completed in the summer of 1975.

The chairman of the commission, Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park, said that before voting, the commission first must get an opinion from the attorney general's office on whether the "rule of equivalencies" can be adopted without amending the BCDC's bay plan.

Amendment of the bay plan would require a separate public hearing and a two-thirds vote of the commission. The legal opinion is due next month.

Society Names President-Elect

Dr. Joseph J. Alderson of Sleepy Hollow was nominated last night for 1971 president-elect of the Marin Medical Society. (The president-elect advances automatically to president of following year. Dr. T. Scott Strathairn of San Rafael will be 1971 president.)

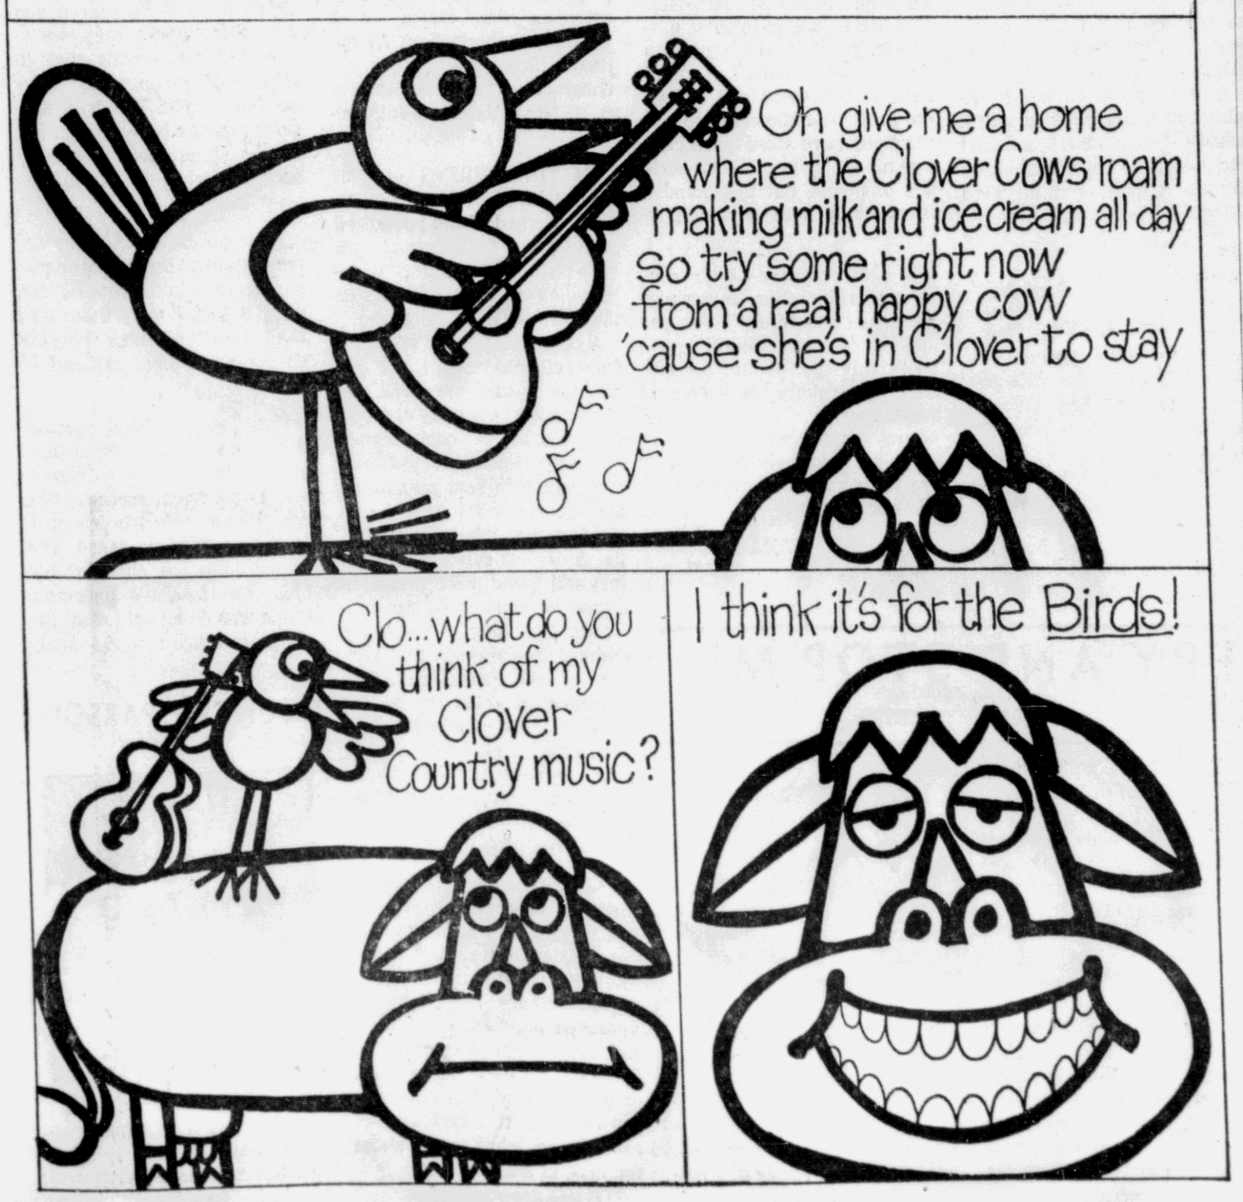

The nominating committee's choice for vice president, Dr. A. J. Brinckerhoff of Novato, declined the nomination because of poor health. He recently suffered a heart attack. Another nominee will be proposed at the election meeting, Oct. 1 at the Meadow Club above Fairfax.

Nominated for directors were Doctors Charles D. Daily of San Rafael and Mervyn F. Burke of Kentfield; for California Medical Association delegate, Dr. John R. Lee of Mill Valley; for alternate delegate, Dr. David J. Costanza of San Anselmo.

The first stone bridge across the Thames River in London was built in the early 13th century.

More Violence On Campus? Insurance Firms Think So

Will the resumption of school next week be followed soon by resumption of demonstrations, violence, vandalism?

We'd like to think it won't. But insurance companies, hard-headed about such things, are betting that it will.

University of California's premium for insurance covering its nine campuses last year was $200,000, with the first quarter-million dollars of damage to be born by the university itself. This year, the premium is $344,000, and the university must bear the first ONE MILLION DOLLARS itself.

LOCAL SCHOOLS have not reached the state where they must pay the first million, or even the first quarter-million, of damage costs themselves before an insurance company will write a comprehensive coverage policy. But coverage for the San Rafael city schools, which cost a $28,061 premium two years ago, went up to $45,911 this year. This is with the first $1,000 in each instance deductible, so does not cover the window breakage so common in school buildings.

According to a report by the Council of State Governments, insurance companies said campus losses from student violence were almost unknown a few years ago, but exceeded a million dollars a month last year, nationwide.

THE PROPERTY DAMAGE reflected in these insurance increases is not the only cost of campus violence.

Student disorders in 43 cities during a single three-week period, last May 1-21, consumed 135,994 National Guard man-days — again according to the Council of State Governments. Costs of extra police and National Guard to quell campus violence ran into the millions in several states last year.

THIRTY-TWO legislatures this year passed laws dealing with campus unrest, the council reported.

The California Legislature, however, added only one law aimed directly at campus trouble: AB 2445 by Assemblyman Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, which makes refusal of a teacher to perform his regular assignment a cause for immediate suspension.

Killed in the Assembly Education Committee were AB 2204, which would have denied pay to a teacher who absented himself to participate in a strike; AB 633, which would have forbidden rehiring a teacher who "automatically resigned" under the five-day absence rule, and SB 634, which would have cancelled tenure of striking teachers. Teacher strikes at colleges have accompanied student violence quite frequently.

Killed in the Senate Education Committee were AB 92, which would have withheld state funds from districts for time lost through "willful action by employees," and SB 1197, which prescribed additional suspension for students repeatedly disciplined.

SB 1166, allowing a school administrative officer to declare an on campus state of emergency, died in Senate Judiciary. AB 2329, which would have made it a misdemeanor for anyone once ousted from campus to re-enter that campus within the school year, died on the inactive file. So did the "Angela Davis Bill," proposed Senate Constitutional Amendment 11,which would have prohibited employment by University of California of anyone advocating violent overthrow of the government.

California legislators, it appears, aren't betting the way the insurance companies are betting. We hope the legislators are right.

Vocational Education Trial May Give Schools New Look

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A little known bill, which could have a material effect on the future of education in California, was passed during the closing hours of the 1970 legislature. It so happens that the measure is not one dedicated to the whims and fancies of the educators, but essentially is designed to assist the high school and junior college student make a living.

The measure was by Assemblyman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee. It provides for an experiment of four years duration in a school district yet to be selected to develop an individualized instructional program that includes vocational education as a regular part of the curriculum.

SPEAKER BOB Monagan, lauding the purposes of the bill, says that no longer can a student depend on a high school diploma to qualify him for a job when he graduates. This, said Monagan, means new types of education for high schoolers. Career planning and career preparation have become as necessary in this generation, as were the three R's of a few years ago.

It is pointed out that of every five students in high school today, three will be working in some way after their high school graduation. The fourth will probably take a job within a year, and the fifth is the one expected to go on to college.

Despite these facts the secondary school primarily is oriented today to the college-bound student. Therefore the majority of students are ill-prepared to enter the working world when they get out of high school.

IT IS THIS vast majority of young people, along with an increasing number of adults whose jobs are displaced by automation and advancing technology, who pose one of society's major problems, and will continue to be an increasing problem unless some steps are taken to provide the means for this group to take care of itself.

This group can be reached through education for marketable skills at least partially, and this is the preparatory work Veysey anticipates in his legislation. It's time that the politicians start giving some thought to the future if they expect there will be any future.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Insecticide Perils May Be Over-Rated

Your editorial, "Saving the Environment," in the Sept. 1 issue quite properly observes that protection of the environment against contamination is not as simple as some people believe.

However, you make some statements in the editorial which need to be qualified or clarified.

DDT does, in fact, break down into harmless compounds, but the process takes some time, depending on a variety of conditions, and some portion of the residue may persist for several years.

While residues of DDT and its metabolites tend to build up in food chains, the accumulation process does not continue indefinitely . . .

So far as I know, the only field evidence linking DDT with harmful environmental effects is in connection with thin-shelled eggs in the raptor group of birds. But there are some contradictions in the evidence on egg-thinning, which may also be caused by other compounds (such as the polychlorinated biphenyls) which are widely dispersed in the environment. And the available evidence does not explain why DDT should cause such an effect in some species and not in others.

All of this duscussion is, of course, somewhat academic because most registrations for use of DDT in this country have been cancelled and remaining uses are being phased out.

Replacement products (including parathion) are generally less satisfactory from several standpoints. But I think it necessary to make a further point about the toxicity hazards of parathion and some comparable materials. Parathion is a hazardous material, but it can be used without causing injury or death if proper precautions are followed. For all practical purposes, chlorine is just as toxic as parathion, yet it is widely used in very large amounts for all sorts of industrial and chemical processes. Experienced applicators have used parathion for many years without serious problems, but they handle it carefully and respectfully . . .

In California, parathion (along with other materials rated as "hazardous") can be applied for agricultural purposes only by specific permit from the county agricultural commissioner. And even where restrictions are less stringent, relatively few farms are likely to have any use for this material.

Reception We Receive Reflects Our Attitudes

(Reprinted from Vallejo Times-Herald)

If you really want to know why the young are so angry with society, try a little experiment, suggests John Holt, teacher and author of education-reform like "How Children Fail."

Let your hair grow long, or get a reasonably realistic wig. Dress in authentic hippie clothes. Get a little scruffy and dirty. Then walk about in the streets of whatever city you live in.

What you will see in the faces of a good many people, says Holt, is the thought, deeply felt and very clearly communicated, "If I could, I would kill you."

That's nothing. If you really want to encounter the look that kills, try this experiment: Rent a Gestapo uniform and walk down the streets of almost any city in Europe.

THIS IS CERTAINLY not to imply that hippies and Nazis have anything in common. In fact the one is total anathema to the other. It is only to suggest that in both cases the unfriendly looks of passersby would involve a bit more than an automatic reaction to somebody who is dressed differently.

One need not delve deeply into reasons. The sight of a scruffy and dirty hippie, whatever he may or may not symbolize to the viewer, is simply offensive to the eye and oppressive to the spirit, like an overflowing trash can on the sidewalk. The hippie, at his worst, is as much an insult to himself as to everyone who comes in contact with him.

Are disgust and fear and hate the only emotions people carry about them on the street, ready to express spontaneously?

Try another experiment:

GET A HAIRCUT (not necessarily short) and a shave (or a beard trim), if you are male, or a shampoo and hairset, if you are female. Dress in neat, clean clothes (not necessarily Ivy League or high fashion). Take off the sunglasses so people can see your eyes. Walk erectly and with a purposeful step. Don't stare but look candidly at people, with a smile ready to form on your lips.

What you will see in the faces of a good many people is the thought, deeply felt and very clearly communicated, "A good day to you, and how nice to see you,"

Sure there is no accounting for taste, and taste does change, but there is no pretending that such a thing as taste does not exist, either.

Of course, people should be free to dress as they please and be as scroungy as they please.

But before young people complain about the lack of love in the world, they should first take a long look in the mirror.

TRY AND STOP ME

Most soul-satisfying eavesdropping of the week was done by Caskie Stinnett at a midtown boite. A smug, opinionated undergrad was berating his father for the mistakes and faults of the latter's generation. "Young people today," he asserted, "have better ideals and better everything than the preceding generation." The father took it all in stride, then added quietly, "Especially better parents."

Nixon Record On Civil Rights: Here's What's Really Happened

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — "By any criterion the civil rights record of the Nixon administration is better than any of its predecessors."

Skepticism was so great that not one bothered to demand: prove it.

We took Mitchell's statement as so challenging that it ought to be checked, not dismissed out of hand. We didn't set out to prove or disprove it, only to look at the facts. Here is what we found:

MONEY — The budgets of the civil rights division of the Justice Department for the last two fiscal years of the Johnson administration were $2.6 million and $3 million.

For the first two years of the Nixon administration they were $4,370,000 and $5,300,000.

STAFF — The number of Justice Department lawyers handling civil rights cases during the last two years of the Johnson administration was 105 and 116.

For the first two years of the Nixon administration it was 138 and 159.

CASES — During the last fiscal year of the Johnson administration 98 civil rights cases were filed. In fiscal 1969 the Nixon administration filed 145 civil rights cases and in fiscal 1970, 197 cases — or double the number of civil rights cases over 1968 involving school integration, fair housing, voting rights and equal employment opportunity.

Question: Were these expanded assets — money, manpower and case load — put to significant use?

SCHOOL DESEGREGATION — Prior to the 1969-70 school year only 5.2 per cent or 164,273 of the 3.1 million Negro public school students in 11 southern states had been in desegregated school systems.

At the opening of the 1970-71 school year, either as the result of court orders or voluntary agreements, 58.9 per cent or 1.8 million Negro children were in schools in desegregated systems.

More headway is imminent. As the result of new litigation plus the negotiating efforts of both Health, Education and Welfare and the Justice Department, it is a near certainty that 97 per cent or all but 7,000 of the 3.1 million southern black students will, within the next month, be attending school in desegregated systems.

More than 500 districts will be desegregated this fall — half at the direction of court orders and half as the result of HEW-Justice Department negotiations.

Through aggressive negotiation and litigation, it is accurate to say that the dual school system as it existed prior to the Supreme Court decision of 1954 is being eliminated.

PHILADELPHIA PLAN — This is the first co-ordinated federal attempt to remedy racial discrimination in construction unions where there has been extreme anti-Negro bias. It was fought by the unions and by some political liberals. It has been upheld by the courts and is opening up new job opportunities to minorities.

HOUSING — The civil rights division of the Justice Department is ulitizing the fair housing law to open up suburban housing to low-income blacks. It has been filing a nationwide network of suits to make houses, apartments and developments available to nonwhites to strike down obstacles to low-income housing and to prevent block-busting of stable neighborhoods by unscrupulous real estate firms.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, who heads the civil rights division, would undoubtedly agree that much remains to be done and that this record does not touch the racially discriminatory practices in the northern school districts which neither the courts nor any administration has begun to deal with effectively.

But when Attorney General Mitchell says the civil rights record of the Nixon administration bears favorable comparison with any of its predecessors, it is clear that he has a case which no public jury can lightly dismiss.

Nerve Gas, Pornography Have Lessons For Congress

By DANIEL RAPOPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pornography and nerve gas ought to have taught Congress a lesson —but probably haven't. Both subjects illustrate how Congress can become agitated over its own action or inaction.

For years, the House and Senate paid virtually no attention to the Pentagon's chemical and biological warfare program. It was one of those activities that rested on a standing authorization. At appropriations time each year, Congress got a chance to look at it, but little came out publicly.

IN THE SPRING of 1969 Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., learned of and publicized Army plans to transport tons of obsolete poison gas—including nerve gas—across the country for burial at sea.

A storm of protest arose from communities along the planned route, as well as from conservationists and others. Scores of congressmen normally friendly to the military joined in loud complaints and excoriated the Army.

Under that kind of pressure, the Army canceled the operation and found other means to dispose of most of the gas.

Just last month the Army dumped into the sea that portion of the nerve gas that it contended could not be detoxified at its southern sites. The burial took place despite more protests and criticism—this time from many Dixie congressmen who consider themselves pro-military.

PORNOGRAPHY is not so clear an example of congressional neglect turning into congressional ire, but it is working its way up.

Three years ago Congress approved legislation establishing a presidential commission to study virtually all aspects of pornography with orders to report what it found and to recommend what to do about the flood of smut.

The bill grew out of numerous complaints lawmakers were receiving from constitutents objecting to the increased availability of obscene materials. Congress, caught between pressure from home and court decisions blocking a crackdown, hoped to strike a blow against pornography with a commission.

THE COMMISSION has been working busily. A draft of its report has been prepared and makes it clear a majority of the commission feels that ill effects of pornography have been overrated. The draft suggests that the best solution lies in abolishing laws that deny such materials to adults who want them.

It proposes enacting or retaining laws keeping pornography from adults who do not want it thrust upon them and from children whose parents do not want them exposed to it.

Early congressional reaction to the report ranges from mild outrage to apoplexy. Lawmakers have been roasting the commission over the proverbial coals. As they do so, one cannot help but observe that the commission's principal crime was doing only what the Congress asked it to do—study

Hilarita Battle Not Ended; Contenders Draw Battle Lines

When a master plan for redevelopment of Tiburon's Hilarita site passed the city council on June 8, supporters of the ambitious project heaved sighs of relief.

The battle for permission to build 112 units of moderate income housing where the old World War II housing now stands had been a long one, and proponents looked forward to early completion of the development.

Now it appears that the battle is not over. Opponents — and there are quite a few — feel that the master plan approval was but a temporary setback. They have regrouped and are preparing for the final round — the precise plan stage.

THE SHOWDOWN will come late this year or early next, when the Tiburon Ecumenical Association, sponsor of the project, submits precise plans to the city.

Joining with the ecumenical association in support are some present residents of the project and other citizens who want moderate income housing in Tiburon.

Briefly, opponents argue that the 112 units are far too many for the site; that a citizens committee recommendation, in 1965, to which the city council agreed, called for no more than 56 units, and that the "mix" of units encourages large families, where the citizens committee urged a project intended for the elderly.

The ecumenical association, a coalition of four Tiburon churches, says that it needs 112 units to make the project economically feasible; that the 56-unit recommendation was just that — a recommendation, not a hard and fast rule, and that the critical housing shortage necessitates concentration of three and four-bedroom units.

THERE ARE OTHER issues, too. One Hilarita resident, Clarence O. Bullard, believes that much of the opposition is based on the possibility that large numbers of blacks and poor people will live there.

This is denied by three key opponents of the project: Herbert E. Wenig, owner of nearby property; Allan N. Littman, member of the city's planning commission, and City Councilman Branwell D. Fanning, who voted against the master plan approval.

In a letter to the city council on June 16, Fanning wrote: "I would personally prefer to see such housing scattered throughout the community so that it would not be an isolated pocket with all the social stigma which can develop."

Fanning also compared the future Hilarita with Marin City, and said the project "is going to breed great unhappiness among the citizens."

When the councilman voted against master plan approval on June 8, he said: "I don't want to see Tiburon acquire a ghetto that we'll have to live with for a long time."

This theme also was mentioned by Stewart W. Hopkins at the hearing. He said, "Tiburon needs an instant slum like it needs a hole in the head."

So the battle lines are drawn, with one side contending that the proposal will cram too many people into what was never intended to be an apartment development, and the other side maintaining that the count is in desperate need of moderate-income housing and that the strain on the community won't be that great.

New Chief For Laney College

Dr. Morena resigned to become assistant superintendent of administration at the City College of San Francisco.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fusselman

Why will some individuals lead with their chins time after time? The front page article in the Tuesday I-J: "Marin Safety Employees In 11th Hour Wage Hike Plea." The employees, representative addressed the supervisors.

"Our salaries are below all Bay Area sheriffs' departments in basic salary . . . The average pay in the Bay Area is $922 per month, and a 10 per cent raise for deputies would bring their pay to $984."

He said Marin firemen work 96 hours per week, whereas the hours in all other counties in the state are 72 per week, except for one instance of 84 hours.

IN REPLY the chairman of the board, doing the chin-leading act, said he realizes that county safety workers should have some pay differential, but the county must rely on its negotiating team since that is the procedure agreed upon by both sides. He urged the safety employees' negotiating team to continue talking with the county team in an effort to reach an agreement.

That little speech is probably the most illuminating one that ever came out of the Brasilia smog. Yes, again, who does run the store?

Meeting after meeting the agenda lists a closed-door meeting with the county team to give it instructions. Who does he think he is kidding? What kind of hoo-mali-mali is he peddling? Bruce heads up the team.

QUESTION: Does the board really give him the instructions or is it the other way around?

Is the chairman saying that the board will rubber stamp whatever is brought in? Is the board once again abdicating its responsibility? Is this a cop-out with the board staying aloof from the whole matter?

Do you know how the negotiations are carried out? Well, give a listen. Each side is locked in a separate room and the mediator runs back and forth from one to the other. How is that for playing games?

Who has brought about such polarization? One man and his two assistants. As I said last week, the employees are completely resentful of him even though Supervisor Michael Wornum thinks Alan Bruce is a valuable man and must be properly "recompensed."

IN READING OVER last week's column, it seemed to me that you would be interested in some elaboration of the saga of Bruce's pay.

What follows is that elaboration, starting with his employment on March 1, 1957 as assistant administrator. December 1, 1960, when the boss quit, he was moved up to that job.

The figures are for salary and fringe benefits annually.

March 1, 1957 — $9,701.40

December 1, 1960 — $12,834.00

During those three years as assistant, he maneuvered (as per the schedule in last week's column) to a final increase of $3,130.60 per year.

Dec. 1, 1960 (as administrator) $14,835.00

June 30, 1964 — $18,630. Again with constant increases he worked it up during this four years and seven months until he had achieved an increase of $3,795.

Jan. 1, 1965, came the big raise to $24,150 — an annual increase of $5,520.

July 1, 1969 — $32,210 — In four and one-half years to an annual boost of $8,060.

He will receive on Jan. 1, 1971 a raise of $1,610.50 (5 per cent) to a total of $33,820.50.

This all means that since he started he has increased his annual salary and fringe benefits $24,119.

Does he or doesn't he run the county?

Jerry Lewis To Lead Muscular Dystrophy Show

Entertainer Jerry Lewis will conduct a telethon Sunday evening and all day Monday to raise funds to combat muscular dystrophy.

Jack Carney of Ross will be master of ceremonies for the local coverage, reported Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael, telethon chairman in Marin and Sonoma County. The television show will start at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, on Channel 44.

The Marin Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America has set Sunday and Monday to focus attention on the disease and to solicit funds.

Business Firm Seeking Woman

A San Lorenzo firm is seeking information about Cecile Levy, whose last known address was at 56 Bell Avenue, Fairfax, about 1958. She is entitled to some unclaimed money, according to the firm which left the amount unspecified.

Anyone having information of her whereabouts or names or addresses of her relatives or friends should notify the firm of Raymond T. O'Malley of P.O. Box 157, San Lorenzo.

If she has died, the firm would like to know when and where she died, if she had heirs or an estate.

Another Plea Of Innocent On Pot Count

Michael Dennis Giammarese, 24, of San Rafael yesterday pleaded innocent for the second time in Marin Municipal Court to charges of growing and possessing marijuana May 12 in his 49 Harbor Street apartment.

Giammarese, who is also known as Michael Dennis McLeod, previously pleaded innocent to the charges, but they were dismissed July 6 when the district attorney was not ready to move the case and later refiled.

Giammarese was arrested after a police officer notted a suspected marijuana plant growing in Giammarese's window. When police entered the apartment, they found two plants allegedly marijuana and found a plastic bag of vegetable matter in his pocket.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. set Sept. 14 for a preliminary hearing on the case.

Marin Rights Group To Postpone Meeting

The regular meeting of the Marin Human Rights Commission will be postponed from next Thursday until 8 P.M., Sept. 17. in the Board of Supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Chairman James Quiett said next week's meeting was put over because several commissioners are out of county, either on vacation or on business.

Headline Wrong

A headline in yesterday's Independent-Journal erred in reporting the correct plea in the marijuana case of Alfred Louis Citos, 27, of Sausalito. It should have read "innocent" instead of "guilty."

Trustees Say Creek Work Rendering College Unsafe

Marin Community College District trustees charged last night the College of Marin campus isn't ready to open because of unsafe conditions created by the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project.

With the scheduled opening less than a week away and the campus reportedly hazardous, trustees armed administrators with two emergency powers to use if necessary.

They voted that if need be, the district should undertake emergency corrective work itself and take legal action against the contractor, J B and C Co. of Arizona, and the Army Corps of Engineers to insure safety.

Supt.-President John A. Grasham explained these steps would be taken only if necessary to enforce safety measures and have the college on an operating basis by the scheduled opening Thursday.

Trustees labeled the creek project through the campus a "sloppy job" and a "fiasco," and doubted that the contractor could correct the unsafe conditions before opening day.

Board president Elizabeth M. Deedy said she had "seldom seen a worse construction job going anywhere," and Trustee Robert E. Rogers said he was concerned about the "sloppy engineering procedures being used."

The board was dismayed as Planning Director Dale A. Fleming read a list of unsafe conditions he said had to be remedied before the opening of the college.

The list included unsafe conditions along the construction channel, a broken fire loop and absence of adequate water service to the College Center and an unsafe and unusable parking lot; hazards that would be corrected by the district if necessary.

Listed in the resolution calling for legal action if necessary to have the contractor and the corps of engineers take whatever measures needed to insure safety were:

Unsafe approach to the Data Process Building, unstable power pole next to the Data Process Building, a broken power pole adjacent to the Student Personnel Building, unstable approaches to the temporary pedestrian bridge across the creek, inadequate barricades, debris, hazardous traffic flow and inadequate lighting of the construction site.

Trustees experssed concern about the safety of the temporary pedestrian bridge and Fleming said it was adequate if the traffic was "static."

Trustee Donald K. Felt had doubts about college students being "static" and asserted: "I think we're entitled to a really safe bridge."

Mrs. Deedy said the district staff has spent many hours trying to correct the deficiencies, and Trustee Charles W. Gray said it was the obligation of the Army, since it was their project.

Trustees agreed to invite Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, to inspect the site.

They voted to ask the Marin County Flood Control District to provide a safety patrol during all hours of student occupancy, day and night, for 30 days starting Thursday.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers proposed the patrol saying, "I'd be alarmed if one student fell into a hole dug at three in the afternoon and no one knew until they found the student in it the next morning."

The board also voted that the district shall seek reimbursement for any money it might spend on emergency work, the proposed legal action or the proposed safety patrol.

Fleming also reported a series of contract violations by the contractor such as trespassing on college property, trucks driving where they weren't supposed to drive, lack of cleanup of debris, lack of warning signs, greater use of college utilities than agreed upon, property damage to the campus, and improper employee parking.

North Campus Plans To State Panel Next

The next hurdle for the Marin Community College District's plans for a north campus at Novato is the state Coordinating Council of Higher Education.

Supt. President John A. Grasham reported to trustees last night that the district's plans will be before the council next Thursday in Sacramento.

The district plans a north campus for 5,000 students, with the first phase to accommodate 2,200 whereas the council's policy calls for 10,000 capacity Grasham explaind.

"We still have the potential issue of size," he advised trustees.

Council approval is needed if the college is to qualify for state funds.

Grasham, board president Elizabeth M. Deedy, Planning Director Dale A. Fleming and possibly other trustees are scheduled to appear before the council to support the district's plan for a north college.

Trustees also authorized formation of a committee to coordinate its campaign for a $17 million bond measure to complete construction at the Kentfield campus and build the first phase of the north campus and replacement of the present 35-cent construction tax rate with a 25-cent increase in the operating tax rate.

Both propositions will be before the voters Nov. 3. The coordinating committee will be composed of trustees, administrators, faculty members, nonteaching employees, students and residents.

The Marin Community College Board Also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Sara Shea, library clerk 1, who was on leave.

HIRED — Hired Virginia B. Smith as library clerk 1, at $486 a month, and Patricia Grey Eichhorn as switchboard operator at $536 a month.

LAND SALE — Approved an agreement on the sale of .14 acres in the "oxbow" bend of Corte Madera Creek to the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

CALENDAR CHANGE — Changed the school calendar to conform to a recent change by the state, designating as holidays, Lincoln Day Feb. 12, and Washington Day Feb. 15.

EDUCATION PROGRAM — Authorized application for federal funds for "cooperative education" program, whereby students alternate periods of academic study with periods of off-campus employment, with specific plans subject to board approval.

POLICY — Approved revisions to the policy on community use of district property, including a provision that when events are held which support out-of-district activities, the district shall receive 40 per cent of the gross or the rental fee, whichever is larger.

ENROLLMENT — Received a report from Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, that fall enrollment as of 3 p.m. yesterday was 5,755 as compared to 5,545 in the fall of 1969, and is expected to reach from 5,900 to 6,000.

THEATER PRAISED — Commended the College of Marin Drama Department for its Greek theater program during the summer, which drew much favorable comment from playgoers and critics.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until a special session Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Testing Office to discuss the Golden Gate Bridge Corridor Study and art facilities, with the next regular meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. Sept. 17 at Olney Hall.

Seven Indicted On Murder Count

CHICAGO (UPI) — Seven members of the Black P Stone nation, including four of its top leaders, have been indicted for the murder of policeman James A. Alfano Jr.

The indictments handed up Thursday also charged the seven suspects with conspiracy to murder Chicago policemen.

The suspects were identified as Elton Wicks, 20; Dennis Griffin, 21; Lamar Bell, 26; Charles Bey, 25; Lee Jackson, 26; William Troope, 22; and Tony Carter, 17.

Thursday night, a powder bomb exploded on the porch behind the apartment of Bey's mother, Mrs. Dolores Bey. She told police she did not know who had done it. She said her son never had been in the apartment, police said.

The bomb broke a railing and three windows. Police said they had no clues.

Idea Canvassing Half Completed

Directors of the Enchanted Knolls Homeowners Association, canvassing their area for new members and suggestions on how the group can help them, have been told that their job is about half done.

President Robert B. Rankin told the board Wednesday that about 12 new members have joined the association as a result of the drive. The group also has received several suggestions, which "we are checking out," Rankin said.

The board also welcomed new director Robert E. Murphy, of 40 Keats Drive, and renewed its efforts to fill the remaining vacancy on the panel.

Proposed Pacts For Canal Are Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., plans to introduce legislation next week to allow the FBI to enter all cases where a policemen is killed 24 hours after the crime.

Williams said the legislation would be similar to the "Lindbergh Law" which permits the FBI to enter all kidnap cases after 24 hours on the assumption that the person who committed the crime has crossed state lines and is subject to federal jurisdiction.

GETTING IT TOGETHER FOR FALL '70

This fall's fashion scope is more perplexing and puzzling than most. The hemline debate has caused shoppers to halt in their tracks and walk through stores in a daze. The total look will also include changes in hair styles, shoes and hats. Simplicity is the key to the hair fashion, left, presented by the California Hair Fashion Committee. Hair is given a soft, fluid movement with large soft waves. There is very little height at the crown, to conform to the new small head look. Notice the pouf curl in front of the model's ear. Shoe fashions, center, from left, include the long look of the stocking boot in shimmering gold lame, a boot to walk with the midi in shiny black calf with nail heads on the side and for lean, lanky, lowdown skirts an oxford in shiny patent reptile. The crochet cloche, right, is a popular head cover for fall .

She's On Stage With A Cause

London Express Service

They are unlikely to ever find a place in a book of quotations, but coming from the woman who was the dynamo behind the revolution in the British theater in the 'fifties, these words are worth savoring.

"I'm not really interested in theater. I'm only interested in social change. I don't know what we are doing up here supporting Lord Harewood in this sort of rubbish. . We are just really a shower of bums. We came up here for a good holiday."

The unlikely occasion for those remarks was the Edinburg Festival of 1964. The woman who made them — Joan Littlewood, artistic director of Theatre Workshop — had been officially invited to present a production.

On another occasion:

"They offered me the Order of British Empire. I told them what to do with it!"

Shakespeare? "Bill weren't a bad old hack."

Herself? "I'm a saboteur of culture."

This from the woman who gave the theater such international smash hits as "Fings Ain't Wot They Used T'Be," "A Taste of Honey" and "Oh, What a Lovely War." The woman whose constant battles with the British censor played no small part in the recent reduction of his power. The woman who rebelled against the established West End theater so successfully, that her style became the new establishment and she became a winner of international prizes for drama, a cult hero of the theatrical world.

Twice, when she found herself caught in the trap of fame and commercial success she got out for long spells of restless globe trotting.

BUT NOW she is back at the Theatre Royal, Stratford.

At the Stratford that nestles peacefully on the banks of the River Avon and the works of William Shakespeare.

The other Stratford — the one that peers out on life through the smoke and grime of London's East End.

The starting point for her great triumphs of the 'fifties and 'sixties will open next month on a new production "Forward — For A Better Tomorrow." It is a sort of documentary - cum - musical - cum-comedy about contemporary life in Birmingham. By curious chance the title was the Conservative Party's slogan during the summer election in Britain.

To be sure, left wing politics have never been far from Joan's contemporary productions. As one critic wrote amidst superlatives, "I wish they didn't have to drag that political margarine - box - on-wheels behind them all the time." He was reviewing a production of Ben Jonson's "Volpone" at the time.

BUT FOR Littlewood, theater and her campaign for social change are inseparable. The stage is the battleground for her revolution — a fact that enraged critics and organizers at the Edinburgh Festival when she portrayed Hotspur in Henry IV as a sort of anti-war protester. Critics don't like Shakespeare being messed about.

But this is what Littlewood is all about.

She seeks relevance in classic works, not reverence. Her methods are equally revolutionary. With modern plays, one of her techniques is to use the new script as raw material and fit it into the production by a lot of heavy cutting and rewriting in rehearsal.

JOAN LITTLEWOOD

Rebellion started early in life for Joan Maudie Littlewood, born of working class parents in South London fifty odd years ago.

Her parents scraped to send her to a convent, and there the nuns wanted her to get a scholarship to a university.

"I WOULDN'T go. Instead I got a grant to study painting in Paris." But Paris didn't suit her and within a year she was back in England studying at the famous Royal Academy of Dramatic Art on an eleven shillings ($1.50) a week council grant, living in a disused bathroom in Soho. She did a bit of charring to earn enough to eat.

Ironically, the woman who was to kill for once and for all the French-windows/"Anyone for tennis?" style of acting was awarded a RADA gold medal.

Again Littlewood rebelled.

"There were hunger marches outside and inside were girls being taught to play this tennis club stuff," she says.

So she went on the road, walked to Manchester and there founded Theatre Union which toured the north, staging plays by Shakespeare, Brecht and Lope de Vega. They played in miners' clubs, on the steps of public baths and on the back of their old lorry. Five wasn't an unusual audience. But Joan had found what she wanted to do. She had the basis of a "British People's Theatre" — she saw herself, and still does, as a working class woman out to entertain working class audiences. She wanted to give them fun. And if the play had to be cut or altered to do this, Joan wouldn't hesitate to do it.

THEN CAME war and five of her company were killed. The other five came back, pooled their gratuities, bought the necessary equipment and went on tour again. Once more, the productions were reckoned to the brilliant — the audiences poor. They toured Czechoslovakia and Sweden and went, uninvited to play at the Edinburgh Festival. They toured the Welsh coal mines and entertained strikers. Money was scarce. Actors printed tickets and programs and one year, when their lorry broke down, they had to hitchhike, to complete their tour.

In the same year they were invited to perform at the Royal Opera House in Stockholm. Yet a year later they were working on a farm to earn enough money to stage another production back in England.

In 1953 Littlewood's Theatre Workshop left the north and moved into Stratford to a derelict theater that had been used for striptease and a disinterested neighborhood.

They played to near empty houses for two years before success came in the form of three big hits and an invitation to the Paris International Theatre Festival where they were acclaimed with rapture.

But success turned sour for Miss Littlewood. Her company began to play to packed houses back in Stratford — but to houses mainly made up by West End audiences who made a "pilgrimage" to the East End. Workshop coined money as hit after hit transferred to the West End —but with each hit went a number of actors on whom the company's style and brilliance had been built up.

MISS LITTLEWOOD did not blame them.

"After all, we could only afford to pay them fifteen quid a week top wack," she says.

But she probably hated her success, for she was no longer fulfilling her ideal to serve a single community —the local East Enders — and above all, she had no freedom to fail.

In 1961 she left Stratford for two years, partly because she wasn't allowed more time to rehearse a play to whose second night Princess Margaret had accepted an invitation.

She travelled and worked in Africa and returned to make her film "Sparrers Can't Sing" and stage her most triumphant success "Oh, What a Lovely War."

It seems that that hit persuaded her more than ever that she was caught in the theater's trap of fame and with her plans to build a giant fun palace — a huge entertainment center for the East End —thwarted through lack of official support, she went off again, this time roaming and teaching in places as far apart as New Delhi and Chicago.

SHE RETURNED to stage "MacBird" and the big success "Mrs. Wilson's Diary" after another round of battles with the Lord Chancellor and then went off again to make a film in India.

She also worked in the East End and became something of a St. Joan to Cockney children.

"What sort of life do they get in these slums?" she asked when curious reporters went to see her at work in what have now been called Adventure Playgrounds. They were simply bomb sites around the theater which she cleared of rubble so the kids could play

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Touring In Europe With A Grandson

By MOLLY MARIN

Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy and Switzerland were the scenes of many exciting experiences for Mrs. Roy Sorenson, who has just returned to Sausalito from a United Church Tour on which she was accompanied by her 14-year-old grandson, Peter Roy Sorenson of Woodside.

The first part of their trip from New York included a stop at Munich, Garmisch, in the Bavarian Alps before they went to Oberammergau. There Mrs. Sorenson reports that the Passion Play held them spellbound for five and a half hours as they lived the ancient drama with 6,000 other persons who jammed the theater.

After visiting East and West Germany they flew to Leningrad, where Mrs. Sorenson was surprised to find the well prepared girl guides ready to answer even questions on the belief in God. A friendly old peasant woman guided them through a tour of the Alexander Nevsky Monastery, where they were impressed with the icons and the reverent crowds of peasants and older persons at mass. In Russia they also visited Moscow with its many attractions for tourists.

Returning to Berlin, they went on to Frankfurt and Heidelberg before going on to Lucerne, Lichtenstein and Innsbruck.

In Italy highlights were Venice, Rome and Florence. There they had dinner with Barbara Salomon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice S. Salomon of Sausalito, who is a student at the Stanford-in-Italy campus in Florence.

Mrs. Sorenson and Peter returned to this country from Geneva.

THEIR GOLDEN wedding anniversary was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Simon Pericou of Richmond at a party Sunday at the San Rafael home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Martens. Mrs. Pericou is the former Alice Bergue who was born in Fairfax. The couple were married Aug. 28, 1920, and lived in Marin until they moved to Richmond many years ago.

The party was attended by some 20 family members and friends.

DR. AND MRS. Robert D. Dunbar, recently married at the home of friends in Laguna Beach, are living in Kentfield.

The bride, who is the former Mrs. Josephine Reid of Fairfax, is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph LoCoco of San Francisco and the late Mr. LoCoco.

RESOLUTION No. 4648

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR SAID DISTRICT TO INCUR A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS IN THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF $11,500,000 FOR THE PURPOSE OF THE ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION AND COMPLETION OF IMPROVEMENTS TO THE DISTRICT'S WATERWORKS SYSTEM; CALLING A SPECIAL DISTRICT BOND ELECTION IN SAID DISTRICT FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF SAID DISTRICT THE MEASURE OF INCURRING SAID INDEBTEDNESS BY THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF SAID DISTRICT; STATING SAID MEASURE AND THE PURPOSE FOR WHICH SAID PROPOSED INDEBTEDNESS IS TO BE INCURRED, THE AMOUNT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF SAID INDEBTEDNESS, THE MAXIMUM TERM THE BONDS PROPOSED TO BE ISSUED SHALL RUN BEFORE MATURITY, AND THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST TO BE PAID THEREON; MAKING PROVISION FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF TAXES; AND FIXING THE DATE OF SAID ELECTION, PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME AND FOR NOTICE THEREOF, AND CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL DISTRICT BOND ELECTION WITH THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA GENERAL ELECTION TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 3, 1970.

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") has required its General Manager and Chief Engineer to file with the board the following reports: (1) "District Improvement Report, 1970-1980" dated December, 1969, (2) "District Improvement Report, 1970-1974" dated July, 1970, (3) "Marin Aqueduct Section I" dated September, 1969, (4) "Marin Aqueduct Section II" dated February, 1970 and (5) "Russian River Water Plan" dated 1969 (including Section B thereof entitled "Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct"), including in said reports described in the foregoing clauses (1) to (4), inclusive, estimates of the costs of the proposed improvements therein described and estimates of the bonded indebtedness required therefor and said General Manager and Chief Engineer has filed with the board said reports which have heretofore been and are hereby approved by the board and said reports show that the estimated costs of the proposed improvements hereinafter described (being portions of the improvements described in said reports) is $11,500,000 and that said estimated costs shall be financed by a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $11,500,000;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

Section 1. The board deems it necessary and hereby declares the necessity for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $11,500,000 for the purposes described in the measure hereinafter set forth in Section 2.

Section 2. A special district bond election (the "election") shall be held and the same is hereby called and ordered to be held in the district on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1970, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the district the measure of incurring a bonded indebtedness of the district in the amount and for the purposes set forth in the following measure (the "measure"), to wit:

MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT BOND MEASURE

MEASURE: (Water System Improvements) Shall Marin Municipal Water District incur a bonded indebtness in the principal amount of $11,500,000 for acquisition, construction and completion of improvements to the district's waterworks system comprising facilities for water supply, transmission and distribution, including (a) Marin Aqueduct from Novato to Hamilton Field together with pipes, connections, pump stations and storage reservoir; (b) distribution system improvements, including replacement and addition of transmission and distribution mains and of storage tanks and pumps, and treatment plant and control system improvements; (c) lands, easements and rights-of-way; (d) expenses of proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds; and (e) other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for said improvements?	YES
		NO

Section 3. The amount of the bonded indebtedness to be incurred for the purposes set forth in the measure is the principal sum of $11,500,000; the maximum term the bonds or any series thereof proposed to be issued shall run before maturity shall be forty (40) years after the date of issuance of such bonds or series thereof; and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said bonds shall not exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, payable semiannually (except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of that year). If the majority of the votes required by law cast at the election are in favor of and assent to the incurring of said bonded indebtedness, then the board shall, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, issue bonds of the district for the whole or any part of said bonded indebtedness so authorized and may from time to time provide for the issuance of such amounts of bonds as the necessity thereof may appear, until the full amount of such bonds authorized shall have been issued. Said full amount of bonds may be divided into two or more series and different dates fixed for the bonds of each series. The maximum term which the bonds of any series shall run before maturity shall not exceed forty (40) years from the date of each series respectively.

Section 4.

(a) The board does hereby submit the measure to the qualified voters of the district at the election and designates and refers to the measure as the measure to be set forth in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at the election.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as provided herein and in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911 (the "law"), and in all particulars not recited in this resolution or provided in the law, the election shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(e) The election shall be and is hereby consolidated with the State of California General Election to be held in the district on the 3rd day of November, 1970, pursuant to law, and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the area of the district for the election shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County for said General Election and set forth or to be set forth in the notice of election officers and polling places for said General Election published or to be published by the County Clerk of said County, as required by law, to which notice reference is hereby specifically made for the designation of the precincts, polling places and officers of the election; provided, however, that no person not a qualified elector of the district shall be permitted to vote at the election. The Board of Supervisors of Marin County is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect of the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said General Election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. Each voter to vote for the measure and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (+) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" on the ballot to the right of the measure and to vote against the measure and against incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (+) in the blank space opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of the measure; except that if and to the extent that Votomatic ballot cards are used at said elections, each voter to vote for the measure and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the measure, and to vote against the measure and against incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (+) may be marked with pen or pencil; except that if and to the extent that Votronic ballots are provided for absent voters, each absent voter shall stamp a mark (.) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" or opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall likewise be canvassed or caused to be canvassed by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein and in the law. The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

Section 5. Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: If the revenues of the district are or in the judgment of the board will probably be inadequate for any cause to pay the principal of or interest on said bonded debt as it becomes due, the board shall cause a tax to be levied, as provided in the law, sufficient to provide for such deficit and to pay the amount of such principal and interest as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available. The board shall annually determine the amounts necessary to be raised by taxation as aforesaid during each fiscal year and shall fix the rate or rates of tax to be levied which will raise the amounts of money required by the district, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the Board of Supervisors of Marin County is required by law to fix its tax rate, the board shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County the rate or rates so fixed and shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County a statement in writing containing the following: (a) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonded debt of the district as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; and (b) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the district. The board shall direct that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, said Board of Supervisors of Marin County shall levy, in addition to such other tax as may be levied by such Board of Supervisors at the rate or rates so fixed by the board, a tax upon the property within the district, and it shall be the duty of said Board of Supervisors to levy the tax as required. The board hereby determines that all taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be levied upon all taxable property within the district. Said tax shall be collected at the same time, form and manner as other county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be paid to the district. All taxes for the payment of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be a lien on all property within the district taxable for district purposes, all of which said property is hereby stated by the board to be benefited by said bonded indebtness. All taxes for the district shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Interest on any of said bonds issued by the district and coming due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy after the sale of said bonds are available and interest on any of said bonds coming due before the expiration of one year following completion of the acquisition and construction of the works and improvements for which said bonds were issued may be paid from the proceeds of sale of said bonds.

Section 6. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need be given.

Section 7. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 13th day of August, 1970, by the following vote:

AYES: Directors Martinelli, Stanley, Anderson
NOES: None
ABSENT: Directors MacPhail, Marcus

MR. AND MRS. MARK LOEGERING

Linda McDonald Bride In Novato

Linda McDonald and Mark Loegering, both of Novato, were married Saturday at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

Mary Bremner was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's brother, Steve Loegering, served as best man. Guests were ushered to their seats by Richard Whisenhunt. All are residents of Novato.

A reception was held at Cloud Five restaurant in Novato.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McDonald of Novato. She was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin. Teralee McDonald of Novato and Mrs. John Robbins of Ruth are her sisters, and she is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Vickers of Oakland and Mrs. Anna McDonald of Novato. Prior to her marriage Linda was employed by Mack Photo Service in San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Loegering of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is also a graduate of Novato High School and also attended College of Marin. His sisters are Patty, Lisa and Terri Loegering. He is in the Army.

The couple will live in Baltimore, Md.

on them. She bought a warehouse for them to play in, encouraged them to read books and discussed them and let them act out their own improvised plays in her theater.

And now she is at work rehearsing in the theater herself. She has also been invited to direct a play at the French Theatre National Populaire's Anglo-Saxon season — scene of Theatre Workshop's first impact 15 years ago. She will be directing in French.

"It's not the first time I've directed in a foreign language," she says ruefully. "I did two seasons with a multilingual group, speaking English, French and Arabic at a cultural center in Lunisia."

ON BEING BLACK

How Parents Can Help Teacher

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

DEAR PARENTS:

In a recent meeting with a group of dedicated black schoolteachers we discussed some the contemporary barrage of criticism that ers during the school year. We acknowledged of the problems that have and will face teach- has been levied upon teachers and sought to come up with solutions to some of the problems present in the innercity schools.

A major concern emerging from the discussion was the profound lack of parental cooperation and participation in the overwhelming, yet all-important task of educating our children.

Now, if you're a somewhat defensive parent, and many of us are, you're initially going to say, "Well, what are parents supposed to do? It's the teacher's job to teach — that's why we send our child to school."

INDEED, EVEN on a nonacademic basis, there is much that parents can and should do to aid and abet learning in the classroom.

For starters, you can put your child to bed at a decent hour in the evening. When he's been watching television all hours of the night, the next day, if he gets to school at all, he sleeps the entire morning away in the classroom. If he's not out cold, he's irritable, groggy and inattentive. Learning cannot take place for him. Turn off the television and see that it stays off.

And, you can make sure your child is bathed and has clean clothing to wear to school. It's not enough to send children to take care of these tasks; they need supervision and help. You say you don't have many clothes? All the more reason to take care of what you've got. Help your child to wash out his few pieces in the evening. This will save him from the embarrassment of being unclean.

Then there's breakfast. You can feed your child in the morning. You say you're on welfare and have limited food money? Well, a bowl of oatmeal covered with canned milk costs about the same price, and is more nutritious than that bottle of orange soda and bag of potato chips that your child picks up on the way to school. The difference, of course, is that you have to 'get-on-up' and prepare the oatmeal for him. Well?

On the nights of Open House or parent-teacher conferences, you don't show because you've been working all day and you're tired? Well, after living all day, most of us are tired — you're in the majority this time. In our present situation we black parents simply don't have a choice — we can't afford not to go to school and see about our children.

ANOTHER POPULAR warning coming from you is "nobody better put their hands on my kid." Okay. If your child has been properly controlled, guided and disciplined at home, there will be no need for him to be admonished in the classroom. But, do you dare to send your child off in the care of another individual or institution for eight hours a day and expect him to be subject to no discipline and no guidance?

Children are children. And they need and want guidance and discipline. They must have it to learn. And remember, your child is just one of 30 children in a classroom. Can you imagine having 30 children at home with you all day and not imposing some direction and organization upon them?

You say your child doesn't like his teacher or the teacher doesn't like him? Well, your child doesn't have to like his teacher. Still it is incumbent upon you to encourage your child to respect the teacher's expertise and position. There may be a few rotten apples (teachers) in the barrel, but by and large, teachers are a dedicated and vitally necessary group of individuals. And, as adults, we must respect their expertise and support them in every way possible.

The fact of the matter is, as a group, we blacks are still lagging behind in our society. And, education is certainly one of our greatest tools for competing and ultimately bridging this gap. Our children must go to school. They must learn. We must help them.

When your child comes home from school today, just look at him or her. Beautiful, right? Resolve this year to give him every opportunity, at the expense of personal inconvenience, to stand tall with that up-coming generation that promises to be the hope of our planet.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Squash Ugly Rumors So They Don't Return To Haunt You

DEAR HELEN:

During the holidays our 16-year-old daughter met a boy on leave from the Army. They dated steadily for nine days, met each other's families, attended church together, and he asked her to keep his class ring.

He sent her a few gifts, and told her he was saving up to buy her a set of rings. We didn't approve of this, so they decided to wait until he got home and they knew each other better.

Then last month his mother called, very angry, to demand all his gifts and his class ring back. She even wanted the letters her son had sent our daughter.

The other day I found out why. It seems she had heard that our Cynthia was pregnant. I don't know how this rumor started but it is definitely untrue. Cynthia hasn't even dated since the boy left, nor has she been to a doctor.

I want to call this woman and tell her how unfair she is to believe without checking, but evidently it runs in the family, for Cynthia has now received a letter from Vietnam saying they were through.

Should I explode or keep quiet and be glad Cynthia does not seem crushed? — UPSET MOM

DEAR MOM:

I'd explode in a coldly quiet way, and keep on being glad Cynthia has outgrown the boy. If you don't squash rumors, get them out in the open and stomp 'em or they may rise up to haunt you later on. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My church is not my church anymore. It voted to exclude a Negro family (the man is a sociologist, his wife a teacher) from membership. "Of course it's not bigotry," they were quick to explain. "Just that these folks would feel out of place."

One woman in particular belittles me for dropping out each time we meet. She thinks her stuffy Sunday-Christians are the only ones headed for Heaven. Could you give me something good and cutting to say to her? — WANTING A COMEBACK

DEAR WANTING:

"Cutting" isn't Christian, but if you must, how about: "Your church reminds me of divinity fudge: All whites and full of nuts." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Whatever makes "Really Burning" think her generation has some corner on anti-litter consciences? Boy, I wish she could see the yards and streets around our schools, strewn with garbage, cans, and broken bottles — it makes Vietnam look like Bali Hai.

I just picked up debris thrown out by a kid in a car, and I take big fat issue with her finky brand of buck-passing. There is something so phony — and sad — about all that "generation" rap. Big problems get cliche-ed to death before they have a chance to be solved. If any generation must be indicted for the pollution problem, the young will be hanging right in there too. Face it, the mess-mongers on this old globe come in all sizes, ages and colors. Try attacking problems instead of insulting people, R.B., and you'll be staggered at how many sizes, etc. are swinging in there with you. — A BIT SCORCHED MYSELF.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Christmas Cards Offered By The Marin Heart Assn.

Four original and exclusively designed Christmas cards are offered for the 1970 holiday season by the Marin County Heart Association.

In his two new designs, Al Tolf, San Francisco artist, creates San Francisco scenes, one an Aquatic Park setting with Coit Tower and Golden Gate Bridge and the other a satellite depicting San Francisco in space.

Contributions support heart research programs —a total of $242,000 in projects is now being conducted at Bay Area Research institutions alone.

Christmas cards may be ordered from the Marin County Heart Association, San Rafael. A notation on the inside of each card denotes that "proceeds from cards are used to further heart research."

Driftwood Unit To Present Its Annual Fizz Party As Benefit

A fizz party will be held for prospective sustaining members and friends by the members of the Driftwood Unit of the Marin Foundation on Friday from 10 a.m. to noon.

The guests will gather at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fleming Jr. of Belvedere for the party, which has become an annual event with proceeds to benefit the Group Homes operated by the Marin Foundation.

Mrs. Richard Kehne of Belvedere is chairman for the party, and Mrs. A.L. Caceres of Belvedere is reservations chairman. Tickets will also be available at the door, announced unit president Mrs. Donald McCune.

THE LEAGUE of Women Voters of Central Marin will sponsor a public program Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Meadows in Terra Linda when legislature candidates Peter Behr and Michael Peevey will discuss their views on "Women's Role in Politics."

Chairmen of the meeting are Mrs. J.A. Silverman of San Anselmo and Mrs. David Applen of Novato.

Mrs. James Good, league president, said that the program is part of the group's continuing program to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. League membership is now open to all women citizens over 18 years old.

THE SISTERHOOD of Congregation Rodef Sholom will have as a highlight of its membership luncheon the singers from the Marin Shakespeare Festival. The singers will perform selections from Elizabethan times.

The luncheon will be held Thursday, beginning at 11:30 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Milton Frank in Loch Lomond.

The new rabbi of Temple Rodef Sholom, David Davis, will be the guest of honor and speak briefly.

Reservations chairmen for the luncheon are Mmes. H.C. Lurie and Allen Rosen, both of San Rafael. Child care will be provided at the temple.

MRS. THOMAS Moscrop of Novato will speak on astrology for the opening meeting of the Novato Federated Women's Club Thursday at the Peacock restaurant in Novato. The business meeting will begin at 11:15 a.m., followed by luncheon.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Kenneth Beagle and Claude Lewin. New club members are Mmes. Rex Harkey, Harry Young, Charles Delaney, E.R. Lang and Robert Mezares, all of Novato.

THE OFFICIAL visit of district deputy president Mrs. Eva Benson of Petaluma to Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley. The district marshal, Mrs. Leona George, will accompany Mrs. Benson.

Mrs. Lottie MacDermond is chairman for the evening.

A COFFEE hour for parents will be given by the McKinley School Parent-Teacher Association of Petaluma on Tuesday, the first day of school. Hours are 8:30 to 10: a.m. and noon to 1:30 p.m.

GETTING THE EDGE

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Parents' Magazine. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Hello Dolly" — Adaptation of Broadway hit. Barbra Streisand stars as a conniving matchmaker, in the 1900's, who has her eyes on wealthy, crusty Walter Matthau. There are lavish sets and costumes and much singing for Streisand fans.

Jungle Book" — Kipling's tale of an East Indian boy reared in the jungle by a family of wolves is brought to life in a full-length animated cartoon by Disney. A delight for the young at heart.

"Love Bug"—A little car with human feelings becomes the devoted friend of a discouraged racing car driver. Their adventures are a delight.

"Out-of-Towners" — Very broad satire of hazards of New York life and misadventures of a small city businessman who brings his wife along for a job interview. Hilarious comedy.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Airport" — Gripping story, during a paralyzing blizzard, of the workings at a large airport. A large jet is stuck, blocking a runaway that is desperately needed to land a disabled plane. There is an outstanding, star-studded cast. The buildup is intense and may be too exciting for younger children.

"Darling Lili" — Combination comic romance and espionage story of World War I with Julie Andrews as an English music hall star, who is also a German spy. Romance is predictable and pace of film slow moving but the songs are memorable.

"Good Guys and the Bad Guys" — Two aging westerners, one a small town marshal and the other a paunchy outlaw are being eased out of their jobs by progress and politics. To prove themselves to the towns' people they unite to stop a robbery. All is quite corny but fun.

"Five Man Army" — A professional thief recruits four bandits during the 1914 Revolution in old Mexico to steal a train that is transporting a half million dollars. Plot is treated in such a farcial manner that the voilence and brutal action don't seem real. Photography is excellent and ending a complete surprise.

"Kelly's Heros" — A World War II satirical melodrama about a group of misfits who rob a German bank of 16 million dollars in gold bullion. The violence is well laced with comedy and humor and several subplots give large cast parts to play.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is the framework for a musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, it isnot suitable for young children.

"Patton" — An unusually well-made film with a brilliant characterization by George C. Scott. There is very strong dialogue.

"Sterile Cuckoo" — A kooky college girl and a boy who is square and serious. Their love affair and first sex experience are told with simplicity and insight. Acting is excellent.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources says Adults Only)

"El Condor" — An ex-convict, a cowboy and 100 Apaches join forces to steal gold hidden in a Mexican fortress. Several bloody battles, a gory duel, nudity, sex and cursing make up this hackneyed story which is disappointingly second rate.

"Getting Straight" — Satiric melodrama that tries to give both sides of student rebellion on college campuses as experienced by a student-teacher. Violenve, sex scenes and foul language are abundant.

"The Virgin and the Gypsy" — D.H. Lawrences story of a free spirited girl in the 1920's who tries to escape the confines of her family. A handsome gypsy becomes the object of her erotic fantasies. Although there is nudity, it is handled tastefully and the photography is lyrical.

ADULTS ONLY

"Grasshopper" — Small town girl from Canada comes to Los Angeles and moves on to Las Vegas as a chorus girl. Film relates all her sex adventures along the way. It is tedious and shallow.

"Loving" — The quiet desperation of suburban life is artfully explored in story of a commercial artist on the brink of disaster. There are realistic frank language and sex scenes.

"M-A-S-H" — Hilarious, subtle anti-war comedy of three army surgeons who develop outlandish life-style to survive the gore that passes before their eyes. Sex, nudity and profanity.

Seventh Youth Sought In Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A seventh youth wanted in the killing of a patrolman has been in the custody of police three times but each time escaped, a homicide detective testified Thursday.

He said the wanted youth, Gil Lopez, has been arrested in other jurisdictions three times since a hunt for him here started. Each time, the detective continued, he was released before fingerprint checks showed he was being hunted.

The trial is in recess until next Thursday.

Special Meeting

The Mill Valley School District board will hold a special meeting today at 8 p.m. at Park School to consider requests for interdistrict transfers.

Painting Display

Higher Box Fees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The rental fees for post office boxes will be increased by 8 per cent starting Nov. 1, in a move the Post Office says will bring in an additional $8 million revenue each year.

Alleged Leader Is Granted Stay

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A federal judge has granted alleged Mafia chieftain Carlos Marcello an indefinite stay on his two-year jail term which was to begin today.

U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals could convene to consider Marcello's appeal for a new trial on charges he struck an FBI agent. Wisdom said his ruling was a routine decision because Marcello had not exhausted his appeals.

Marcello had been scheduled to report to authorities in Houston today to begin the two year sentence given him in a Houston Federal Court earlier this year. He was convicted of striking an FBI agent at the New Orleans International Airport in 1966.

Pontiff Guards Cancel Protest

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI's 150-member pontifical Gendarme corps planned a demonstration outside the Pope's summer home to back pay increase demands but gave it up when the government reinforced the Italian Carabinieri (National Police) posted at the villa.

"We had planned a peaceful demonstration," one gendarme said. "But we decided to call it off to avoid embarrassment to the Carabinieri."

The Gendarmes have refused since Tuesday to collect their monthly paychecks unless a 10 per cent pay raise is backdated to July, 1969, as was a similar raise for other Vatican employes.

South Sonoma Schools Will Close Wednesday

All public schools in southern Sonoma will open on Tuesday, closed Wednesday for Admission Day and re-open on Thursday.

Easter Seal Society, Center Point Grants

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council board has approved grants-in-aid totalling $560 to the Marin Easter Seal Society and Center Point of Marin.

The board also approved Wednesday night the establishment of a Neighborhood Service Center to be located somewhere within the Fairfax-San Anselmo area.

Meeting at the Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, the board, according to member Robert P. Simmons, approved expending $4,216 for a six-month program to aid the poor in the San Anselmo-Fairfax area.

Expected to be established by next month, the new service center will provide information on existing county social services to families in need.

The center, which is to be staffed by volunteers, will also provide legal assistance, emergency food, housing services, and interpretation of welfare regulations, Simmons said. A location for the center has not been determined.

In other action the board approved granting the Easter Seal Society $260 for its speech therapy program and $300 to Center Point of Marin for its drug abuse program.

Autopsy Slated On Rock Member

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An autopsy was scheduled today for Alan C. Wilson, 27, a member of the Canned Heat rock group whose body was found in a sleeping bag behind a house in Topanga Canyon.

A spokesman for Liberty Records, the group's recording company, said sleeping pills were found in Wilson's pocket and he had been depressed recently.

Sheriff's deputies said Wilson had been camping behind the home of Mrs. Verlie Hite, a friend, and that his van-camper was found nearby. Mrs. Hite found the body Thursday.

Stiffer Explosive Penalties Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., says Congress should enact stiffer criminal penalties, including death, for illegal use of explosives.

"These animals are at war with the law," Murphy said Thursday. "they deserve no sympathy — no mercy — from the society they seem so determined to destroy."

'UNEASE AND FEAR'

Briton Focuses On American 'Mood'

BY PAT ANGLE

A youhg English film maker, assigned by a British television network to capture "the mood of America" finds the country in a disturbed state, "filled with unease and fear."

David Filkin, head of a six-man film crew from the British Broadcasting Corporation, was in Sausalito recently to study the affects and problems of school integration.

During his three-month stay in this country — where the crew ignored the large cities and focussed on three towns in "small family America" — the producer-director found some disquieting trends.

"In the past the average man and woman were content to sit at home, knowing that the forces of law and order would sort out the problems," the 27-year-old Filkin said to assess the discoveries he had made in his journeys.

"Now, these same people are beginning to feel there isn't a chance those problems will be solved by ordinary means," he continued, "and I see this feeling as a great danger for America."

Before coming to Sausalito to look at the school district, the documentary makers visited, Kent, Ohio, where four students were shot and killed by National Guardsmen in May. They also filmed a sequence in the coal-mining country of West Virginia, scene of the January slaying of labor leader Joseph Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

Everywhere they went, Filkin said the crew discovered one upsetting similarity: Most people have guns — poised and ready — and will use them they say, for their own protection. To Britishers, who live in a country where the average citizen has never even held a gun in his hands (and the low incidence of violent death reflect this fact), this revelation was shocking.

The polarization of young and old and the resulting hatred was most evident in Kent, where the crew interviewed scores of people, from eyewitnesses to the killings to members of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

One girl, who had watched as the soldiers killed the students, tolk Filkin the young people had only been teasing the guardsmen "in a friendly way" because they were irritated at the troups' presence on campus. "She said the young people had been tossing cannisters of tear gas back at the guards and lobbing rocks in front of them," he said.

On the other hand, members of the VFW told the film makers "if they had been on campus, they would have shot more of the students," Filkin continued.

From all of the 360 minutes of interviews, the producer sees America 1970 as "a place where both extremes seem to fear each other and don't want to meet — or understand — those on the other side.

"And the people in the middleground seem to be waiting in the wings, somewhat hoping their part in solving the dilemmas may be more than a walk-on," Filkin continued.

The BBC team was especially interested to see what was happening in Sausalito — only one of the American towns to strive for total racial integration — since Britain is now experiencing racial tensions.

"We came here because Sausalito has done something the rest of the country hasn't done," he said, " and we were very interested to see how it was working out."

The crew spent a lot of time talking to people in both Marin City and Sausalito and visiting their homes to obtain a view of "what life is like" in both communities. In addition, school officials — including the controversial former Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr. — were interviewed.

The producer said he was gratified and impressed by the openess of those with whom he spoke. "People will talk so freely and really tell you what they feel" he said with a pleasure of a newsman who has garnered many good quotes.

He found black residents of the school district "convinced the integration attempt is nothing more than a sop to the consciences of liberal whites — not a real attempt to advance black education."

On the other side, he found white parents equally disenchanted and equally convinced "that anyone but the mildest of black men is highly likely to be a militant and revolutionary."

Filkin said he feels the conflicts in the school system have resulted in "the eclipse of the liberal" in the district. "What started off as a largely liberal idea for integration has turned into a confrontation between conservative whites and more militant blacks and whites," he explained.

The producer said he is afraid the fear and hatred on both sides is "so great it will eventually result in overt emotional action, an atmosphere where tension and violence come first and solutions to problems are left to the last."

Filkin, who last visited the U.S. 10 years ago said he believes the three documentaries — to be broadcast to Britain in October — will show "America is awakening from and reevaluating the old American dream, despite all the hurt and pain this causes."

Although the films are being widely publicized and will probably be seen by millions of Britishers, Filkin is unsure how they will be received. The average Englishman, he said, still thinks of America as the great strong giant, the land where anything can happen and everything will work out. But the films show something very different and, at times, very unpleasant.

"Many people who see them may not want to believe them," he said with a shrug.

CHP Is Searching For Witnesses To Fatal Crash

California Highway Patrol officers today requested witnesses to yesterday's fatal car crash on Highway 101 near Marin City contact the patrol office at 6120 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

Sgt. Richard O'Brien said the request was made in an effort to determine the cause of the accident which killed Arletta Pelet of 160 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, and injured her husband, Pierre.

O'Brien said their southbound auto swerved off the freeway for some undetermined reason and the patrol is now seeking persons who saw the vehicle before or during its plunge over the embankment at 8:15 a.m.

Missing Statue

Helen Montpart of 136 Renee Drive, Petaluma, told police yesterday that a lawn statue of a pixie pushing a wheelbarrow had been stolen from her yard sometime since Monday. It was valued at $25.

HAZEL

"Every so often she gets this urge to visit."

Annexation Asked By San Pedro School

San Pedro School in East San Rafael, opposite Loch Lomond, wants to annex to the City of San Rafael to get police and fire protection.

The request for annexation will come before the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the board of Supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Novato Sanitary District will ask for annexation of 160 acres on the west side of Highway 101 on either side of San Marin Drive in Novato. More than a thousand townhouses and apartments, plus a regional shopping center are planned on the site.

The commissioners will also discuss the formation of a county fire protection district for all unincorporated areas that are served by the county fire department. Such a district would permit special zones to be set up in communities that want improved service.

Sleepy Hollow Group Is Seeking Debris Baskets

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Association last night passed a resolution asking the Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District to supply debris containers at the Sleepy Hollow Stables for residents.

The intent of the resolution is to prevent rubbish dumping in creeks and along fire roads, according to board president Merritt A. Robinson.

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Association also:

PANELING — Approved a $2,400 contract with Burt Milnes Contractor of San Anselmo for repaneling and redecorating the older portion of the association clubhouse.

FENCE — Decided to fence in the clubhouse property as soon as possible to curb breakins.

WATER — Voted to invite a representative of the Marin Municipal Water District to the board's quarterly meeting Oct. 15 to explain the effects on Sleepy Hollow of the district's bond issue to be voted on at the November general election.

Candidates Differ On How To Unite School District

By GEORGE NEVIN

Candidates for two vacancies on the Sausalito School District Board last night agreed that unity is needed if the quality of education in the district is to be improved, but failed to concur on how best to achieve that unity.

The four hopefuls, Robert E. Fisher Jr. and Royce Y. McLemore of Marin City and Robert R. Lyon and Robert A. Thompson of Sausalito spoke at a candidates night sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council.

They found they were on common ground on several areas: all thought that the per-pupil cost of education was much too high; that students should have little say in how the schools are run; and that school board meetings must be conducted in a more orderly manner.

Differences arose, however, on how best to achieve these objectives.

Replying to a question about how he would conduct a board meeting, Fisher said that "many legitimate grievances would dissipate with a more balanced, more representative board."

In contrast, Thompson said he would adopt a "no-nonsense" approach at board meetings. "They (the meetings) have been dominated by black militants who have shrewdly convinced their followers that the only way to deal with whitey is to scare him half to death." He would meet such attempts with firmness, he said.

Lyon felt that chaotic meetings could be avoided by "electing a board with a common dedication," while Mrs. McLemore said she thought president Nathaniel Johnson was doing a good job in conducting the meetings.

Asked what he would do to halt declining enrollment in the district, Lyon said he would work for stability and an end to harrassment of parents. "This is what contributed to the exedus," he said.

Fisher said he thought the decline would halt if his program of "quality, equality and education" were followed.

People are "fed up to the eyeballs with the way the district is run," said Thompson. "We've got to stop talking and start doing something," he said. Only then would the picture change.

Mrs. McLemore called for more "parent involvement" to halt slipping enrollment. "It's been lack of communication between parents and teachers that has brought this about," she said.

Each candidate said he felt that the roughly $2,000 that it takes to educate each child is excessive. Thompson said the district could save money by finding out "which employees are in the pork barrel category and cutting them out."

Mrs. McLemore agreed that the cost is too great for the results and suggested closing Central school in order to save money. Fisher agreed, and Lyon suggested a thorough budget review to cut costs.

Responding to a question about the role of students in running the school, Fisher said "students aren't control addicts" but said that he would see that "their voices are heard."

Both Lyon and Thompson said children had no business running a school. "They should have precious little control over that," Thompson said, "but they should know what's going on."

Mrs. McLemore, however, stated that "we must move with the times. What better way to teach the democratic process than to allow students to have a hand in making decisions about things that affect them?"

The candidates then were read questions submitted by the audience of about 75. In reply to an inquiry on his ability to administer a $1.3 million budget, Fisher said he has had experience working with budgets of $25 million at a data processing firm and $3 million as a cabinet member at the College of Marin.

Another questioner asked how the candidates felt about hiring militant revolutionaries. Lyon said he felt that "a certain amount of militancy in black people is proper" but that "there are degrees of militancy. When it's used to disrupt and force ideas on others, that's going too far."

Mrs. McLemore defined "militant" as "one who stands behind his beliefs" and "revolutionary" as "one who works for change," and said that, on that basis, she saw nothing wrong with hiring such persons. Fisher agreed, saying that the district already has hired such a man, Henry Hopkins, new principal at Martin Luther King School.

Thompson said he, too, agreed with Mrs. McLemore on the basis of her definition, but that no one who fit the "commonly accepted meaning of the term (militant)" should work for the district.

Draft Now Keeps Duplicate Files

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Selective Service, in an effort to stop the outbreak of attacks on draft files across the country, has revealed that every state now has duplicate records on each registrant.

As a result, the agency said Thursday, vandalism and other attacks on draft files will do nothing to slow down the process of induction. A spokesman said the only result of such attacks is to make it more difficult for local boards to help registrants with their problems.

The Selective Service said the state-by-state duplicates are held in "duplicate central locaters" in each state draft office.

What's the Use?
it's
Labor Day

AND, as everybody knows, people don't read ads on Labor Day, Memorial Day, or Easter, or Christmas. Or New Year's. Or in the summer.

UNFORTUNATELY "everybody" is wrong.

ASK any readership research organization. You'll learn that people don't turn off their minds at Yuletide, Whitsuntide, high tide, or low tide.

NEWSPAPER readership doesn't go downhill during the skiing season, or the haying season.

ADVERTISING readership doesn't take a dip in the summer.

WE'VE celebrated many Labor Days at the Independent-Journal. We've seen many summers. And we've learned that readership of both editorial and advertising pages stay at the same high level every day of every week and month of the year.

NO MATTER where you advertise, "season is no reason to draw a blank with your customers and prospects.

EVEN during holidays, people read.

THANKS for helping us prove it.

And – Oh, Yes,
Have a Good Holiday!

Terra Linda Announces Recreation

Many recreation programs for people of all ages have been announced by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District, all activities to be held in the recreation center.

Flag football for boys from grades 3 through 8 has already started, but there is room for more boys from these grades.

The 1 p.m. Saturday movies start tomorrow with "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College". This will be followed with Capt. Horatio Hornblower" on Sept. 12; "Invasion of the Astros" on Sept. 19 and "Wackiest Ship in the Army" on Sept. 26.

Tiny tot classes for children 3 to 5 years old will be held from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each Friday, starting Sept. 25.

A teen-age dance will be held from 8 to 11 p.m., Sept. 11 with the Nazgul furnishing the music for the dance.

Other programs being planned include: ballet for children, judo for boys, boxing, arts and crafts, guitar lessons, cake decorating, classes for preschoolers, teen nights, ceramic and painting, and yoga.

Sunny Hills Rezoning Plea To Be Heard

Rezoning of approximately one half-acre of Sunny Hills from general commercial to single family residence will be considered at 8 p.m. Wednesday by the San Anselmo Planning Commission at the San Anselmo City Hall.

The meeting was postponed from its regular time at 8 p.m. Monday.

A portion of the Sunny Hills land at 910 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was rezoned to commercial in 1956. This was subdivided in 1966 for the construction of the Red Hills Shopping Center. That left approximately a half-acre in the commercial zone.

The commission will also consider a nonconforming use permit for a 4,800 square foot building for the San Francisco Theological Seminary at Austin Avenue and Kensington Street; a change in the city code on construction of driveways and sidewalks in the public right-of-way and zoning of an undeveloped 65 unit subdivision owned by Donald V. Johnson at the end of Sonoma Avenue.

There is a fee for the last three courses. Further information may be obtained from the Parks and Recreation department at the City Hall.

Building Design Board Created

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Planning Commission yesterday created an architectural review committee to assure appropriate building designs.

Named to the committee were three members of the county planning staff, Lloyd Johnson, Wesley Vail and Richard Vandra.

The commission noted that complaints had been received that some buildings recently approved did not blend with existing buildings.

Rohnert Park Opens Ramps At Highway

Rohnert Park officially opened its new southbound on-off ramps on Highway 101 yesterday, but heard that funds may not be available for construction of the overpass next year as had been hoped.

Allan S. Hart, district engineer, said that cuts in highway construction funds and a larger share going to Southern California may cause a delay in plans for the overpass at the Rohnert Park Expressway.

The Rohnert Park City Council had hoped that funds would be allocated in the 1971-72 budget with construction underway by next year. All engineering work has been completed.

The new ramps on the west side of the freeway connect with Santa Rosa Avenue and largely undeveloped land. Future plans for the area include a motel, restaurant, service stations and shopping center.

Participating in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies were Warren K. Hopkins, Rohnert Park vice mayor; Ignazio A. Vella, acting chairman of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors; Sil Cincera, president of the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce and City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan.

Boy, 3, Hurt When Hit By Passing Car

A 3-year-old Novato boy was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for multiple scrapes received when he was hit by a car while crossing Feliz Drive, Novato, police reported today.

Stephen Thomas Parr, of 1616 Novato Boulevard, ran from between two parked cars into the path of a car driven by Geraldine Raffaele Vukson, 29, of 19 Estrella Way, according to the report.

Picture Developed In Polluted Water

TOKYO (UPI)—The Mainichi newspaper today printed a photograph it said was developed by water from polluted streams.

"River water in Japan is so polluted as to be useable in place of film developer," the newspaper said in an article on the experiment.

The Mainichi Shimbun collected water from 13 places along rivers, ditches and canals near sacred Mount Fuji. The streams are polluted by wastes from paper mills.

Lab Directive Will Mean More Workers

Because of a directive from the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control board, the San Rafael Sanitation District must hire additional employees and build a small laboratory.

City engineer Ely Caillouette reported yesterday that the district board on Wednesday approved employment of a plant operator at a salary of $706-733 a month. The new man will conduct a battery of tests of raw sewage, effluent and discharge water at the Irene Street Treatment Plant.

The board took the move, Caillouette said, after the Water Quality Control Board ordered the complicated tests made as part of a self-monitoring program it has imposed on most dischargers in the San Francisco Bay Area. The new tests triple the number of checks the district must make, he said.

Directors also approved the employment of an architect to design a small laboratory where the tests will be conducted. The concrete block lab will be built at the Irene Street Plant.

The San Rafael Sanitation District board also:

Candy Sales Firm Owner Faces 29 Additional Counts

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — The owner of a house-to-house candy selling operation which was run out of San Anselmo in July has had 29 additional labor code violations attached to six earlier counts.

Oakland Police said today Fritz Thus, head of Student Opportunity of Lafayette, which employed juveniles as salesmen, agreed Aug. 26 after his first arrest in Oakland Aug. 17 to stop all illegal activities. Two days later, one of Thus' supervisors was picked up with seven children aged 11 to 13, allegedly selling candy again.

Besides the new labor code counts, Thus was also cited for seven violations of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Thus was earlier charged with two counts of this violation.

Thus has been free on $2,000 bail and is to appear in Dept 11 of the Oakland-Piedmont Judicial District on Sept. 17 for setting of a trial date on the 44 counts, after pleading innocent Aug 15.

In July, two 16-year-old peddlers were apprehended by San Anselmo police and told to leave town. Police warned Thus, whom the youths had identified as the head of the company, that his activities violated the anti-peddling ordinance in that city. His employees reappeared on July 27, and were again ordered from town.

School Board To Hear Appeals Of Rejections

The Marin County Board of Education will consider at least two interdistrict attendance appeals Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the county schools office.

The appeals involve two children from the Sausalito School District who were refused admittance to the Reed School District and two children from the Bolinas Stinson School District who were rejected by the Mill Valley School District.

Other appeals may also be taken up should they be requested between the time the agenda was drafted and the meeting.

The board will also consider three requests for intercounty attendance from San Francisco students applying for attendance in the Tamalpais High School District.

Petaluma Driver In Good Condition

Steven Miyano, 19, of 2971 Skillman Lane, Petaluma, was reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital with facial cuts suffered at 12:50 a.m. today when his car struck a post on Highway 101 south of Pepper Road, Petaluma.

New Idea On Welfare Funds

BERKELEY (UPI) — The state government should lessen the burden of urban property tax payers by paying the complete bill for education and welfare, the League of California Cities executive director asserts.

"The fiscal crisis now confronting urban governments would be eased considerably if these two services were removed from the property tax," director Richard Carpenter said Thursday at a Western American Assembly seminar on the states and urban crisis.

"All would agree, I believe, that the revenue raising ability of the state is superior to that of local governments," he added.

Clausen Appoints Representative

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, has appointed Gordon Tippit of Santa Rosa, a 49-year-old retired Army intelligence colonel, as his new field representative.

Tippit retired at Fort Meade in Maryland in June after 28 years in the Army. He previously served at Two Rock Ranch Army Station, and had planned to retire to live in Sonoma County.

It's A 13-Game NFL Exhibition Weekend

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

"Gol-lee."

Terry Bradshaw says that, usually when he's pleased. And he's bound to be mighty pleased over the fact he'll be showing his impressive wares to the home town folks tonight when he quarterbacks the resurgent Pittsburgh Steelers against the Boston Patriots at Shreveport, La. The game helps kickoff a 13-game National Football League exhibition weekend.

Bradshaw, dubbed the Li'l Abner of fooiball, has electrified observers of the pro scene with his field generalship and passing prowess in directing the once-hapless Steelers to two victories (over Minnesota and the New York Giants) in three games. In last week's win over the Giants, Bradshaw numbered a 37-yard touchdown pass to rookie wide receiver Ron Shanklin among his 15 completions in 23 attempts for 244 yards.

The probability that Bradshaw will be filling the air with footballs and "gol-lees" in his pro debut before the home folks, coupled with a shoulder injury to Boston quarterback Mike Taliaferro, that may severely limit his playing time, spells trouble for the Pats (0-2).

On Saturday, the New York Jets tangle with the New Orleans Saints, the Giants play the Philadelphia Eagles at Princeton, N.J., the World Champion Kansas City Chiefs oppose the Dallas Cowboys, the Baltimore Colts play the Detroit Lions at Raleigh, N.R., the Chicago Bears meet the Denver Broncos, the Houston Oilers play the Los Angeles Rams at Pasadena, Calif., and the St. Louis Cardinals meet the San Diego Chargers in the first game, while the Minnesota Vikings tangle with the Cleveland Browns in the nightcap of the ninth annual doubleheader at Cleveland.

Also the Cincinnati Bengals challenge the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee, Wis., and the Washington Redskins meet the Miami Dolphins at Tampa, Fla.

The Oakland Raiders (1-3) gun for their third straight win in exhibition play over their Bay rivals, the San Francisco Forty Niners (1-2) in a Sunday contest that caps the fifth exhibition weekend.

Bradshaw was the lone bright spot for the Steelers following their dismal 1-13 record last season when they outguessed the Bears (who had an equally poor season) in a coin flip and made the star signal-caller at Louisiana Tech the nation's No. 1 draft pick.

A flock of flattering offers for Bradshaw's services hit the Steeler's front office following Terry's election. The Patriots ofered six regulars. Baltimore and New Orleans made equally sensational offers. And word had it that Denver was willing to part with Floyd Little.

Don Shula, former Colts head coach and now Miami mentor, once laid guidelines by which to judge rookie quarterbacks.

"You can always find out quick about a rookie quarterback," said Shula. "You ask him to throw long for accuracy and you ask him to throw those sideline passes. If he can do both well, you know he is special." Don Shula knows Terry Bradshaw is special. He coached him in the North-South game last winter.

"He was hitting hands at 65 yards," Shula marvelled. "And he was throwing the sideline passes as well as (John) Unitas and (Y.A.) Tittle ever did."

National Television cameras (NBC 6 p.m. PDT) will focus on the Chiefs' first appearance in Dallas since the former Dallas Texans left the Lone Star state and moved to Kansas City in 1963.

A Short Review Of Kezar Rules

It's been so long since Oakland Raider fans last visited Kezar Stadium — two years — that I'd like to remind them of a few rules of the house. Just to make them feel more at home when their Pride and Poise Boys meet San Francisco's Pooped and Pummelled Boys in the big game Sunday.

You see, Raider fans are a spoiled lot. They not only have a great football team — best pro record over the past three years — but their stadium is a swanky mansion by most sweatbox standards. Hence, they are so very well mannered that they may be in for a shock during their visit to Mary Kezar's Playpen in Golden Gate Park. Kezar, you know, is the slum of pro sports, according to some East Bay visitors.

First of all, you hoity toity visitors from the East Bay should be advised to wear old clothes. I mean, the alpacas and alligators are okay over in your immaculate Hegenberger Road digs, but not at Kezar. Just sitting down will get you a seagull calling card on the posterior. Or, if the dirty birds don't get you from the rear they'll attack from above with their built-in bomb sights.

Kezar Is Always Wet

Nice thing about Kezar, folks, is that you don't have to sneak booze past the gendarmes like you do at the Oakland Coliseum where Martini Marshalls man every gate. Kezar is not a dry state. In fact, it is the Barbary Coast of sportsdom. There were times, when the 49ers were winning, that every Sunday was New Year's Eve at Kezar. Now, they're just a bunch of sullen drunks.

Please be prepared for a little discomfort. Those pampered posteriors of yours, caressed all these years by the comfy of the Coliseum's theater-type seats, will be brutally mauled by the benches that Kezar calls seats. Each bench consists of two parallel lengths of hardwood, separated ever so slightly. I mention this so that Sunday evening, when you disrobe for bedie-bye, back up to a mirror to observe a perfect cross. (Just a little extra service provided by the I-J Sports Department, Fun and Games Division.)

Rough On The Kidneys

The bench seating arrangement, by the way, also is rough on the old kidneys. You can pick up a pair of kidney pads at most sports shops to protect against the guy sitting behind you. Everyone in Kezar has big, hard knees.

Now, if the 49ers should happen to score a touchdown or execute a particularly exciting play, be prepared to duck. I mean, there is the omnipresent slob who will jump for joy, forgetting the full container of beer he has in his hands. But don't worry, it washes out, and, besides, is good for the hair.

Another important item to remember is that when you go to the — uh, er — powder rooms, go IN the door marked EXIT and go OUT the door marked ENTER. That's the way 49er fans have been educated all these years, and if you don't do it their way you'll be in a melluva hess.

I once knew a guy who went against the mainstream and didn't come out for three days. And all he wanted was a hot dog.

The Kezar cans, to put it bluntly, are the Black Hole of Calcutta. A capacity crowd Biffie Brigade is tougher than the line of scrimmage. Vietnam is a relative picnic. If you happen to get caught in the ebbtide, just mind your own business, keep your eyes straight ahead, don't talk to strangers, and if captured just give your name, rank and serial number.

One Of Three Choices

Oh, I almost forgot the parking problem. I know, over in your baliwick you're accustomed to cruising down a big freeway, onto an offramp, thence into a huge parking lot.

But Kezar? Heh-heh-heh. There are three alternatives: (1) Walk; (2) Stay home and listen to it on the radio; (3) Fly, and bail out over Haight and Ashbury.

Well, that's about all. I do hope you have fun. Don't worry about wiping your feet like you do at home and you can yell all you want.

But, please don't knock the joint. There are those of us who were raised with the 49ers in Kezar and we can bellyache all we want about the inconveniences, but deep down inside we love the place. And we can't stand to hear visitors complain. Be our guests; but, mind your manners, heah?

Raider End On 'Doubtful' List

Coach John Madden also announced Thursday a starting front four of Carleton Oats, Ben Davidson, Art Thoms and Tom Keating, indicating second year man Thoms is leading the race to fill in for the departed Ike Lassiter.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT — Australian John Newcombe spilled during U.S. Open Tennis Tournament match against Mexico's Joaquin Loyo-Mayo yesterday at Forest Hills, N.Y., but bounced back for 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 triumph.

U.S. OPEN TENNIS

American Players Hoping To Keep Up With Aussies

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) —The 42-year-old Pancho Gonzalez and the 23-year-old Cliff Richey go to the courts today, carrying America's hopes to keep up with the phalanx of Australians in the U.S. Open Tennis championships.

Gonzalez, of Malibu, Calif., seeded 14th, faces Russian Vladimir Korotkov, and Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., meets Allen Fox of Los Angeles in second-round action.

Laver, off to what is becoming a typically rocky start for him, had service trouble in the first set, then set down his countryman, Allan Stone, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

CHALLENGE

Waiting for Gonzalez and Richey to catch up was seventh seeded Arthur Ashe, who made his debut against the up and coming Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn. Tanner, serving marvelously, challenged Ashe at his own game, took the first set in a tie break, and held his serve until the 10th game of the second set, when Ashe broke through. The scores were 6-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4. Tanner, 18-year-old soph at Stanford, whistled 19 aces past Ashe during the match, while Ashe had 14.

Other American seeds who won Thursday included 11th seed Stan Smith, who took out Bill Brown of Omaha, Neb. 7-5, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; 16th seed Clark Graebner of New York who sent Ray Keldie of Australia to the sidelines, 6-1, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4, and 19th seed Dennis Ralston, who took an international test from Georges Goven of France, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4, 7-6.

The girls began their drive for their $7,500 first money, and Mrs. Margaret Smith Court, the defender who is seeking the grand slam, gave an indication of how fit she is by trouncing Pam Austin of Rolling Hills, Calif., 6-1, 6-0, in 27 minutes.

All the seeded ladies advanced with similar straight sets triumphs. In order of their seeds, second ranked Rosemary Casals of San Francisco put out Christiana Spinoza of Spain, 6-3, 6-0; Nancy Richey of San Angelo won over Laura Dupont, Charlotte, N.C., 6-2, 6-3; Francoise Durr of Paris won over Mary Ann Curtis of St. Louis, 7-5, 6-0, and Virginia Wade of England, the 1968 champion here, won over Pam O'Shaugnessy of Fullerton, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

Sharon Walsh Wins

Bay Meadows Opens

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Bay Meadows opens its 78-day thoroughbred racing season today with something new for bettors. A two dollar exacta (picking the first and second place horses) will be sold on the first race, replacing the daily double — fixture for two decades.

Busy Weekend Ahead For Bowler DeYoung

The 20-year-old San Rafael bowler defeated Ted Hendrickson in the finals of the Warriors' match game championships, rolling a 224 game for a 16-pin lead and then striking out in the 10th frame of the final game to close out the match, 427-415.

Now DeYoung will travel to Alhambra Bowl in Sacramento to face the Sacramento, Los Angels and San Diego match game winners at 2 p.m. tomorrow. The foursome of bowlers will then roll at Castle Lanes in San Francisco at 7 p.m. for more prize money. Sunday they bowl at University Lanes in San Diego and finish up at 5 p.m. Monday in Costa Mesa.

DeYoung, part-time desk man at Nave Lanes near Ignacio, finished the San Francisco eliminations averaging 214 with five 900-plus four-game series.

RED SOX LOSE BATTLE, WIN WAR

Boston's Ken Brett (18) was forced out at second base by Detroit's scrambling Dick McAuliffe while trying to stretch a single into a double during their American League game last night at Boston. The home town Red Sox, however, went on to notch a 5-2 triumph.

Greenwood Qualifies For Tourney

George Greenwood of San Rafael yesterday was one of 14 players from the field of 82 to qualify for the U.S. Senior Amateur Golf Championships Sept. 21-26 at the California Golf Club in San Francisco.

Greenwood, the 1968 Indian Valley (Novato) club champion who at 55 just qualified for senior competition, fired a 77 yesterday in the qualifying round at Lake Merced Country Club.

Medalist honors went to Steve Stimac of Contra Costa with a 72.

Greenwood was the only one of six Marin County entrants to qualify. The other Marin entrants were Orville Suttles of Marin Country Club, Novato; Robert Dreyfus, San Geronimo National Club; and Milton Gabbs, Ed Vest and George Kerrigan, all of the Meadow Club near Fairfax.

A'S UNHAPPY MAN

Fernandez Wants Out

OAKLAND (UPI)—A brief moment of glory sometimes is not enough to heal old wounds.

Frank Fernandez, unhappy on the bench of the Oakland A's, pinchhit a three-run homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning Thursday night for a 4-3 victory over Chicago.

The game-winning blast earned the brawny catcher an undisclosed bonus payment from A's owner Charlie Finley. Fernandez, however, still hopes to be traded to another ballclub.

HAD ENOUGH

"I came here figuring I was going to play a lot," Fernandez said in the Oakland dressing room. "But it's turned into another one of those years, and I've had enough of them."

Fernandez has no gripe with the A's other than the fact that he's had to divide the backstop duty with Dave Duncan and Gene Tenace.

"Nothing's changed because of this game," Fernanedz said. "If I had my choice, I'd like to be traded."

Fernandez, batting .213, has 15 homers among his 53 hits. Seven of the roundtrippers have won games and two of the seven have come in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Giants To Open Set With Braves

ATLANTA (UPI)—The last time the San Francisco Giants were in Atlanta Stadium, they were a distant 18 games down in the National League West standings.

That was back in July. Tonight the Giants are back in the land of peach trees and moonshine at the very slightly improved position of 16 1-2 games off the pace in the wake of dropping two out of three games to the division-leading Cincinnati Reds.

Thursday night in Cincinnati the Giants lost 7-3 to the Reds.

Tonight, in Atlanta, they kick off a three-day, three-game series with Frank Reberger (5-5) on the mound versus the Braves' Pat Jarvis (15-11).

Thursday's loss to the Reds was creditable to the batting of Pete Rose, who drove home three runs with a homer and a double, and Johnny Bench, who added a double and a pair of singles on a rain-soaked evening.

Cincinnati's Clay Carroll preserved Tony Cloniger's seventh win against five losses, relieving Cloninger in the eighth after the Giants began to apply wood to ball.

Cloniger was nicked for three runs and four hits when the Giants bunched singles by hiter recalled from the minors a few weeks ago, now is playing ahead of Fernandez. But even before Tenace arrived, Fernandez had to split the catching duty with Duncan.

The situation is not unlike that which faced Fernandez in his two years with the New York Yankees. He shared the catching chores at New York with Jake Gibbs before being traded to Oakland prior to the 1970 season.

Fernandez' homer Wednesday night moved Oakland to within six games of first-place Minnesota in the American League West. The A's swept their three games with the White Sox. Tonight they begin a three-game set against Kansas City, as Jim Hunter (15-12) matches pitches with Al Fitzmorris (7-4).

Golfers Reach Amateur Finals

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI) — Sandy Galbraith, senior at Chapman College from San Carlos, and Steve Bohn, a San Jose State senior from Roseville, meet over 36 holes today in the finals of the Northern California amateur golf tourney at Spyglass Hill.

Two rounds were played Thursday and semi-final action saw Galbraith defeat Tom Culligan III of San Mateo 4-3 while Bohn edged Art McNickle of San Francisco on the 19th hole.

Bobby Bonds and Ken Henderson with one of Cloninger's seven walks and an infield out by Willie McCovey.

The game, delayed three times by rain for a total of 59 minutes, ended as Carroll put a damper on the San Franciscans' hopes by blanking them the last 1 1-3 innings.

The Giants will get one fore crack at the Reds. They will meet Cincinnati in a doubleheader Monday immediately after returning to Candlestick Park from Atlanta.

Bears Down To One-A-Day Drills

BERKELEY (UPI)—California Bears Coach Ray Willsey said Thursday he would end his two-a-day drills Friday despite the fact he's not yet satisfied with his team's overall readiness.

"The team is ragged, they're stale mentally and physically and not doing what they're supposed to," Willsey said after viewing films of Wednesday's practice. "However, this is expected at this time of year."

The Cal coach said his Bears would scrimmage Saturday afternoon at Memorial Stadium and he hoped the trainer would return some of the injured to the field by that time.

PREP FOOTBALL PRESPECTS

Quality, Little Quantity For Marin Catholic Team

(First in a series on Marin County high school football prospects)

By DAVID EINSTEIN

When Marin Catholic football coach Reverend John Heaney says, "My first 11 players will go against anyone," he's supplying a clue to both strength and weakness of his 1970 team.

The weakness, as has been the case at the Kentfield school for as long anybody can remember, is that so few people come out for the team. At this point, Father Heaney has 49 candidates for both the varsity and junior varsity. By comparison, Terra Linda had more than 40 come out for the varsity alone.

So when he talks confidently about his first 11 players, Father Heaney is indicating that his depth is not too good. He will not have enough players for even a rudimentary platoon system.

FIRST RATE

It happens, however, that his first 11 players are first rate, and a few are better than that. Mark Lewis, senior tailback who las year rolled up close to any high school team. His size is not impressive, 5-10, 160 pounds, but his balance is uncanny. An all-around athelte, he may compete next spring in the national AAU decathlon.

Two other members of last year's starting backfield — quarterback Matt Hamilton and fullback Pat Parnow — are back, giving Father Heaney the experience necessary to effectively run the power I offense, which he and assistant coach Bruno Banducci have decided will work best for the Wildcats this year.

Both coaches prefer a pro offense, and Banducci especially likes to throw the ball. But with Marin's small lineman and quick running backs, the power I, with Lewis in the tailback spot, should work well.

TEAM CAPTAINS

Lewis, of course, is one of the team captains. The other is two-way tackle Tim Thompson. A 190-pound senior, Thompson makes up in speed what he gives away in weight. He is the Wildcats' top lineman, with apologies to Leo Fahy, a senior tight end, who has impressed Father Heaney tremendously in practice. Fahy, a letterman, also weighs 190.

The other veterans on the club are end Sherman Little, tackle Pat Kerfoot, guard Bob Cummesky and halfback Dave Rovero.

Father Heaney, in his first year as coach, will be trying to win while at the same time building for next year. The accent is on youth; the team has 19 jurors and only nine seniors. So the coach must have his eye at least a little on 1971.

Inexperience will hurt the Wildcats this year, but a new coaching staff and the running of Lewis should lead them to a winning season. They were 3-4-2, won-lost-tied last year.

Marin's opening preseason game will be at Albany Sept. 18. A practice scrimmage against Tomales is scheduled for next Friday at Tomales.

FISH AND GAME

Miss Out On Doves? Try Bluejay Pie

By AL GIDDINGS

Dove season didn't open with the traditional bang! In fact, things were desperately slow. I checked Nicasio, Novato and off Atherton Avenue near Black Point without seeing a hunter.

Over at St. Vincent's Pheasant Club about 20 hunters took about 60 doves. Larry Ott from San Geronimo, hunting the St. Vincent's area was high man for the day with eight choice birds. His partner Carl Palacchi of San Rafael had four. They hunted five hours averaging three shots an hour, so Larry getting one for two had a good average! But the shoot was really slow for the opener.

Now while I was at St. Vincent's, Chris Tharsing, the congenial club keeper, gave me an old time recipe for those of you who don't get any doves, but might find it easier getting bluejays. Jays are predatory birds, so there's no limit.

Here's the recipe for bluejay pie: Simmer two pounds of bluejay breasts in water to cover until tender, with two sprigs parsley, three stalks celery, two carrots, one onion sliced, one teaspoon of salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper When the meat is cooked tender, drain off the liquid, reducing to three cups by boiling. Thicken with four tablespoons of flour, then return the meat and vegetables cut up some what, with one four ounce can of mushrooms and three tablespoons of chopped pimento Turn this into a casserole, cover with baking powder biscuits and bake until biscuits are done! It's fit for the epicure!!

Incidentally Chris says the pheasant club should be in operation by tomorrow for you club members. Seven months of pheasant hunting! Now you can't beat that! The St. Vincent's Club has continually improved with lots of land and good cover. Go out and take a look; it's worth your while. Of course after you taste that bluejay pie, you may never eat another pheasant?

I STOPPED down at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier where enthusiastic Frank Spencer, the keeper, now hangs his hat. He had another list of names, a mile long, of guys and gals all catching bass still trolling the Richmond Bridge or the Brothers Islands areas. One fisherman, Brian Bulen, took a big four-pound bass off the pier. Brian being 9 years old, figures he got the biggest fish in the bay. You know, I had asked Frank to get me a fish or two for the fish check by the Department of Fish and Game. Along comes this gal Mae Timmer, last Monday with a 22-pounder she had just nailed at the bridge. Now, Frank, seeing this big fat specimen, thinks, "Here is a prize for Al — just right!" That Mae Timmer almost threw Frank in the drink when he made his pitch for that fish.

Oh well, I got the 10 fish needed (not hers) and delivered them to Sacramento yesterday. Now we'll see what cooks! Thanks for the help!

Sil Testa is supposed to have taken two salmon weighing eleven and five pounds from California City. And a D. G. Young is reported to have landed a 30-pounder in the same area! Boy, with bass all over the bridge area, and a touch of big salmon showing too, you'd better get down there quick!

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

A too-large hole will probably cause a sore thumb, because it forces you to exert extra pressure to hold onto the ball. The same thing can cause sore fingers. If your ball fits correctly and your fingers are still sore, try a bowling glove. This will take some of the pressure off your thumb and fingers.

Nolan Says Brodie The Starter

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— John Brodie will open at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers Sunday against the Oakland Raiders and may play more than a half, according to Coach Dick Nolan.

When Brodie went most of the way in the win against Denver last Saturday night, back-up man Steve Spurrier admitted he was disappointed not to have seen more action.

But Spurrier Thursday denied reports he had asked to be traded. "It hasn't gone that far," he said.

Nolan also announced that Jim Thomas and Bill Tucker will start at running backs.

Forty Niner players attended a mammoth luncheon Thursday at the Sheraton Palace cohosted by the Shriners and the 49er Goal Rushers group.

There were warm tributes as well as a moment of silence for Vince Lombardi and then players Len Rohde, Cedrick Hardman, Doug Cunningham, Gene Washington, and Jim Johnson addressed the group and promised big things for the 1970 campaign.

Williams' Streak Is Ended

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Billy Williams was benched Thursday.

For the average player that's a common experience. For Williams, it was only the second time in seven years.

REST

Williams, who was benched by manager Leo Durocher because he needed the rest, missed a game for the first time since Sept. 21, 1963. On June 29, 1969, he surpassed Stan Musial's National League record of 895 consecutive games. He didn't have the stamina, however, to reach the 1,307 game mark of Everett Scott, who played primarily for Boston and New York at the turn of the century, and the record 2,130 of New York Yankee "Iron Man," Lou Gehrig.

OTHER SCORES

In other NL action, St. Louis topped New York, 5-3, Atlanta trounced Los Angeles, 11-4, Cincinnati belted San Francisco, 7-3, and San Diego blanked Houston, 4-0. Pittsburgh at Montreal was postponed because of rain.

In the American League, Milwaukee beat Minnesota, 8-3, Cleveland trimmed Washington, 4-2, Baltimore bombed New York, 8-4, Boston whipped Detroit, 5-2, Oakland edged Chicago, 4-3, and California shut out Kansas City, 1-0.

Jim Hickman drove in four runs with a three-run homer—his 29th—and a single as the Cubs edged to within a half game of the league-leading Pirates in the National League East. The Phillies runs came on back-to-back homers by Larry Hisle ond Tim McCarver in the fifth. Jenkins struck out 10 as he notched his 18th victory.

CARLTON WINS

Joe Hague's 12th homer and first inning single and the nine-hit pitching of Steve Carlton gave the Cardinals their triumph. Hague's homer came in the third, and St. Louis scored a run in each of the next three innings. The Mets scored one run in the fifth on Ken Singleton's RBI single, and another in the ninth on Al Weis's first homer of the year.

Hank Aaron, Orlondo Cepeda and Clete Boyer homered to pace the Braves to victory. Aaron hit his 590th career homer, a three-run blast in the third inning. He needs 10 more homers to become the third man in baseball history (after Babe Ruth and Willie Mays) to hit 600 homers. George Stone scattered six hits for his 10th victory. He was touched for solo homers by Bill Sudakis and Andy Kosco.

BOWLING

Marin Lad Is State Champion

Official results of the California State Junior Bowling Association tournament are finally in and they show Cliff Coates, 14-year-old freshman at Redwood High School, is the Class A singles champ.

Cliff, son of Greenbrae Lanes owners Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coates, rolled the best of his short career when he rolled a game of 252 and series of 639. With his handicap tacked on, it came out 715, high score among the 559 entries.

The tournament was held last month in Bakersfield. Other Marin County youngsters among the winners:

Don Harris, D Division high scratch game, 253, and ninth place in all events, 1912.

Mike McPherson, 15th in A Division all events, 1913, and Nancy McPherson, 16th in A Division all events, 1911.

In other junior bowling news, Rich McPherson, 18, of San Rafael won first place in the first Junior Scratch Invitational Tournament at Country Club Lanes in Sacramento last week.

Rich's brother, Mike, 15, finished fifth. Rich was second in the qualifying round and then in the finals shot 3217 for 16 games, a 201 average.

SAD, BUT HE PRAYED

Lombardi Knew Whole Story

By MILTON RICHMON

New York (UPI) — Vince Lombardi knew.

There was no keeping it from him. He demanded to know. He wouldn't have it any other way.

"Don't stand out there in the hall and talk," he called out from his hospital room when his wife, Marie, was getting the results of the first tests from the doctor. "C'mon in here. I know what you're talking about."

Vince Lombardi found out he had cancer early and also found out he had little or no chance at all of licking it. The knowledge saddened him but did not frighten him.

PRAYED

He proceeded to do what he had done all his life.

He prayed.

You know, Father, I've never been in a hospital before in my life," he said that first day. "I didn't even bring any extra clothes with me."

The man Vince Lombardi said that to was his old friend, Father Edward Bunn, S.J., and the day he said it was June 25 shortly after his admission to Georgetown University Hospital in Washington. Lombardi had come right to the hospital from the practice field.

Father Bunn is the Chancellor of Georgetown University and he taught Lombardi psychology more than 30 years ago at Fordham University. He knew the Washington Redskins' general manager and coach as few others did and visited with him in the hospital five times a week. The last time was Tuesday night. Vince Lombardi wasn't conscious anymore.

MIRACLE

"I was praying for him," says the priest. "I suppose I was praying for a miracle. I wanted him to live. From the time I first met him at Fordham he was always very hard working. He was not a sophisictated person at all. He was very simple and direct. He never went about the bush. He took things as they were spoken and never looked for any double meanings."

Toward the end, Vince Lombardi didn't have a whole lot to say to his good friend, Father Bunn. He couldn't. He was too weak.

"But he'd smile and give me a warm handclasp," his one-time teacher says. "He was never morose, never glum."

There were many sides to Vince Lombardi.

STERN

He could be stern. He wasn't afraid to get up and let you know where he stood.

"He got his players to do what they didn't want to do, what they hated to do, but what they really had to do," says Tom Landry, the Dallas Cowboys' coach.

Vince Lombardi could holler. Loud, too.

"When he hollers like that the only thing to do is sit quietly until he finishes," said a Green Bay player once. "Five minutes after he's finished, he forgets what he was hollering about."

He could laugh also. Like the time he accepted an award from the Roma League of Racine, Wis., as The Italian of the Year and inquired:

"Where does this leave Pope John?"

There was something of a special pride about Vince Lombardi. You could see it in his work, in his bearing, in his dress and in his devotion to his religion. He missed Mass for the first time in his life the Sunday after he was admitted to the hospital but that wasn't his fault. He couldn't make it. He was in the Recovery Room following surgery.

HOSPITAL

Jerry Kramer, who played for him with the Packers in Green Bay, was among those who visited him in the hospital.

"It was in the evening," Kramer recalls. "There was a priest in the room and I waited outside. Later the nurse went in and asked Coach Lombardi if he would see me. He said yes and I walked in. He recognized me and we talked a little but nothing about football. He didn't look well. He was drawn and pale and I remember being struck by how terribly tired he looked."

Jerry Kramer doesn't try to hide the way he felt about Vince Lombardi.

"He never shirked, sidestepped or took the easy way," Kramer says. "I felt something for him that is difficult to put into words."

Like love?

"Yes," Jerry Kramer says. "I'd say I loved this man."

SPORTS SHORTS

$1 Million Tennis, Says Hunt

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. — Lamar Hunt, millionaire sportsman and vice president of world championship tennis, today said that he was going to put together a series of 20 tournaments, plus a playoff, with $1 million in prize money, for the top 32 players in the world.

Golf

PORTLAND, Ore. — Tom Kite shot a three under par 67 in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Championship yesterday to forge into the lead after 36 holes with a four under total of 136.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — Lee Trevino and Dave Hill were favored in a wideopen field of touring pros for today's first round of the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Track and Field

TURIN, Italy — Wolfgang Nordwig of East Germany bettered his own world record set just two months ago in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 5.46 meters (17 feet, 11 inches) at the World University Games yesterday.

Hockey

OTTAWA — Ted Green, the Boston Bruins defenseman, was acquitted Thursday, bringing to an end the first criminal court action against professional hockey players for fighting on the ice.

Horse Racing

DEL MAR — Jockey Bill Shoemaker's effort to become the alltime riding champion today served as a prelude to Del Mar's biggest weekend of racing.

Shoemaker had six mounts on today's program and needed only two winners to tie the retired John Longden's mark of 6,032 victories. And should he fail today, he has five mounts Saturday including undefeated June Darling in the $74,425 Del Mar Debutante Stakes at six furlongs.

Auto Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. — It's a matter of sometimes tense watching and waiting today and tinkering with engines in advance of the half-million-dollar California 500 Sunday at the new Ontario Motor Speedway.

The 33 Qualifiers, led by Lloyd Ruby, the Wichita Falls, Tex., veteran, had their last chance to use the 2.5-mile oval Thursday in practice runs for the 500-mile race at the $25.5 million plant.

Drag Racing

INDIANAPOLIS — Jim Nicholl of Spring Valley, Calif., was first and defending Don Prudhomme, Granada Hills, Calif., second Thursday as qualifications opened for the 16th annual national championship drag races of the National Hot Rod Association.

Baseball

MONTREAL — Manager Gene Mauch of the Montreal Expos was suspended for three days and fined $100 Thursday night by National League President Chub Feeney for bumping home plate umpire Paul Pryor in Wednesday night's game with Pittsburgh.

INVESTING

Widow Is Astute Investor

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a 51-year-old working widow. I have invested the bulk of my late husband's estate in Federal Agency and utility bonds for safety of principal and high yield. Stocks worth about $8,500 were also left to me. Prior to his death last November, we had purchased T. Rowe Price Growth mutual fund on a systematic investment plan. Should I continue these quarterly investments? I expect to retire in eleven years and would also like to know which stocks to hold for growth until I retire. H.J.

A. You are to be commended part of the money to increase to 100 shares your holdings in American Hospital Supply and Pfizer, Inc. The balance could limited appreciation potential at the present time. Since this is not consistent with your investment goal, I would sell and use for your astute handling of your inheritance. Your stock portfolio includes two issues — Lykes-Youngstown $2.50 pfd. and Union Carbide — which while returning a generous income have be used to purchase shares of Gulf Oil. I would continue accumulating T. Rowe Price Growth fund. This period of depressed net asset value offers an excellent opportunity for lowering your average cost base per share.

Q. What do you think of Avnet, Inc.? I bought shares at 19 and several other prices down to 7. H.L.

A. Numerous acquisitions have aided Avnet in establishing a broad coverage of major electrical and electronics markets. Company's sales have continued to show good gains. However, mounting labor and materials costs, consolidation expenses and price erosion in certain operations have narrowed profit margins in recent quarters. For the nine months ended March 31, 1970, net income was off 19 per cent while sales advanced 15 per cent year-to-year. Although profits may continue to show little or no improvement in the next few quarters, penetration in several markets, including automobile and TV tube replacement parts, favor long-term growth prospects. Hold for possible price recovery.

Stock End Week Higher, Moving More

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished higher Friday in the heaviest trading of the week.

Optimism was generated by Thursday's unexpected sharp gain—the market traditionally attracts little demand prior to Labor Day — along with the spreading belief that interest rates will be coming down soon and that the economy is on the road to recovery.

Shortly before the close, the Dow Jones industrial average was up 5.27 at 770.54. And of the 1,605 issues on the tape, advances topped declines, 1,002 to 346.

Turnover swelled to around 15,000,000 shares from 14,110,000 shares Thursday. Some analysts said increased institutional participation helped build volume.

Closing prices included: Am T&T 47 3-8 up 3-8; Chrysler 24 3-4 and 5-8; Ford 49 7-8 up 7-8; Gen El 78 5-8 off 1-8; Gen Motors 73 3-4 off 1-4; IBM 272 up 2 1-4.

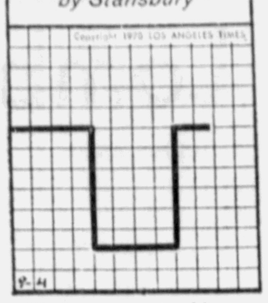

"A lot of money is on the sidelines," one analyst commented, "and as the market moves up, more of it is making its way into the market."

Lucien Hooper of W.E. Hutton & Co. said "institutions have suddenly decided they want to own more stocks."

Robert Johnson, director of research for Paine, Weber, Jackson & Curis said he thought institutions that had not anticipated the recent strong advance were now committing themselves "on a partial basis."

Another analyst commented that the market is being propelled upward by a growing realization on Wall Street that the Federal Reserve's monetary policy has become increasingly expansionary. This, he said, "has the potential of pushing the economy ahead."

Stockholders Are Seen As 'Family'

NEW YORK (UPI) —High school students attending the annual stockholders meeting of C.I.T. Financial Corp. were asked to record their impressions in essays.

"Everyone was like one big happy family being brought together to discuss family problems or the good things that happened during the year," one girl wrote. Another said:

"I think the atmosphere before and during the meeting gave an impression of one big happy family getting toegeher after being separated a year."

One reason for this atmosphere was suggested by another girl: "I think the stockholders felt secure in their investment."

Sears Reports Record Net Sales

CHICAGO (BW) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. has reported record net sales and income for the second quarter and first half of its 1970 fiscal year.

A slight upturn in sales and increased profit in the second quarter enabled the company to overcome a decline in earnings reported for the first quarter of this year.

Sears net sales for the three months ended July 31 were $2,280,924,000, an increase of 4.3 per cent over the record $2,186,160,000 last year.

Net income for the second quarter was $103,097,000 or 70 cents pre share. This was 6.6 per cent above the previous high of $101,409,000, or 66 per cents per share in the same period of 1969.

Pleasure Faire, Art Festival To Open

The Sausalito Arts Center and its surrounding grounds were a pageant of color, sight and sound today as final preparations continued for the 1970 "Festival of the Sun," which begins tomorrow at 10 a.m.

The three-day festival, which each year draws thousands of persons to Sausalito, will feature works and performances by more than 150 artists, who represent most of the fine arts in the bay area. It is sponsored by the arts center, 630 Nevada Street and held in the center and grounds.

Another festival, The Reanissance Pleasure Fair, opens tomorrow in a wooded aera at 1000 North San Pedro Road in Terra Linda.

The re-creation of a 16th Century English county fair in the reign of Queen Elizabeth I will also run Sunday and Monday from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. and succeeding Saturdays and Sundays through September.

A new feature of the Sausalito festival this year will be a children's arts and crafts festival, a miniature of the adult event. Puppeteer Mary Wyn Eckstrom will perform for the children who will display their works and receive arts and crafts instruction each day from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

This year's festival "will present the fullest spectrum of creative activities ever held in the art festival context," according to Robert Ellison, arts center director. He said the number of artists in the festival is up 30 per cent over last year.

The event is being arranged and handled by the Garden of Delights, a Sausalito-based production company which Ellison heads. Each day's program will begin at 10 a.m. and run through midnight, with a break between 6 and 8 p.m.

In addition to displays by painters, printmakers, sculptors, potters and other artists, the festival will feature demonstrations in such crafts as ceramics, photography, glass blowing and serigraphy.

Each day, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., the Garden of Delights will present a continuous environmental show in the center. Ellison said the presentation will attempt to recreate in theater the well-known painting, "Garden of Delights" by Hieonymous Bosch, 16th Century Dutch painter.

An adjacent baseball field will be the site of a wide variety of performing arts and musical events. Reservations will be needed for some events, according to Ellison, who said further information can be obtained from the arts center.

One highlight will be a presentation Monday at 8 p.m. of "Garden of Delights" by Heir-Ant Farm, a group of Sausalito environmentalists and the Garden of Delights will enact a history of the human race, with a sky show using colored spotlights, balloons and smoke machines.

Proceeds from general admission tickets to the festival will go toward operation of the center and for scholarships, the director said.

Parking for the festival will be provided on the grounds of Martin Luther King School, Ebbtide Avenue and Bridgeway. Shuttle Buses will run to and from the festival on a frequent basis. To accommodate San

Slowdown On Creek Building

By ERIK M. INGRAM

A 30-day moratorium on new construction along Corte Madera Creek was recommended last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission during a special session with other city bodies.

The action was applauded by about 35 conservationists who sat in attentive silence throughout the three-hour meeting. They had been urging the commission for more than a month to take such action as a means of protecting the salt marshlands along the creek.

The emergency ordinance recommendation will be considered by the city council at a special meeting Tuesday and will require approval from four of the five councilmen to become law.

The proposal, if accepted by the council, would halt all construction along both sides of the creek from the Bon Air Bridge to Highway 101. The only exception would be the subdivision known as Greenbrae Marina.

The building ban, the commission contends, would allow time to gather expert opinion on where boundary setbacks should be for an ordinance to protect the marshland. The creek banks would ultimately provide a nature area and "recreational greenbelt" open to the public.

Discussion among the commission, the city council and two members of the city's parks and recreation commission centered on the need for such an ordinance and its legality.

"I'm talking about the environment we are living in," Commissioner Leonard S. Rubin, an outspoken supporter of the measure told others present. "We are watching San Francisco Bay turn into a sewer. We are just trying to correct inadvertent errors made over the past 50 or 100 years.

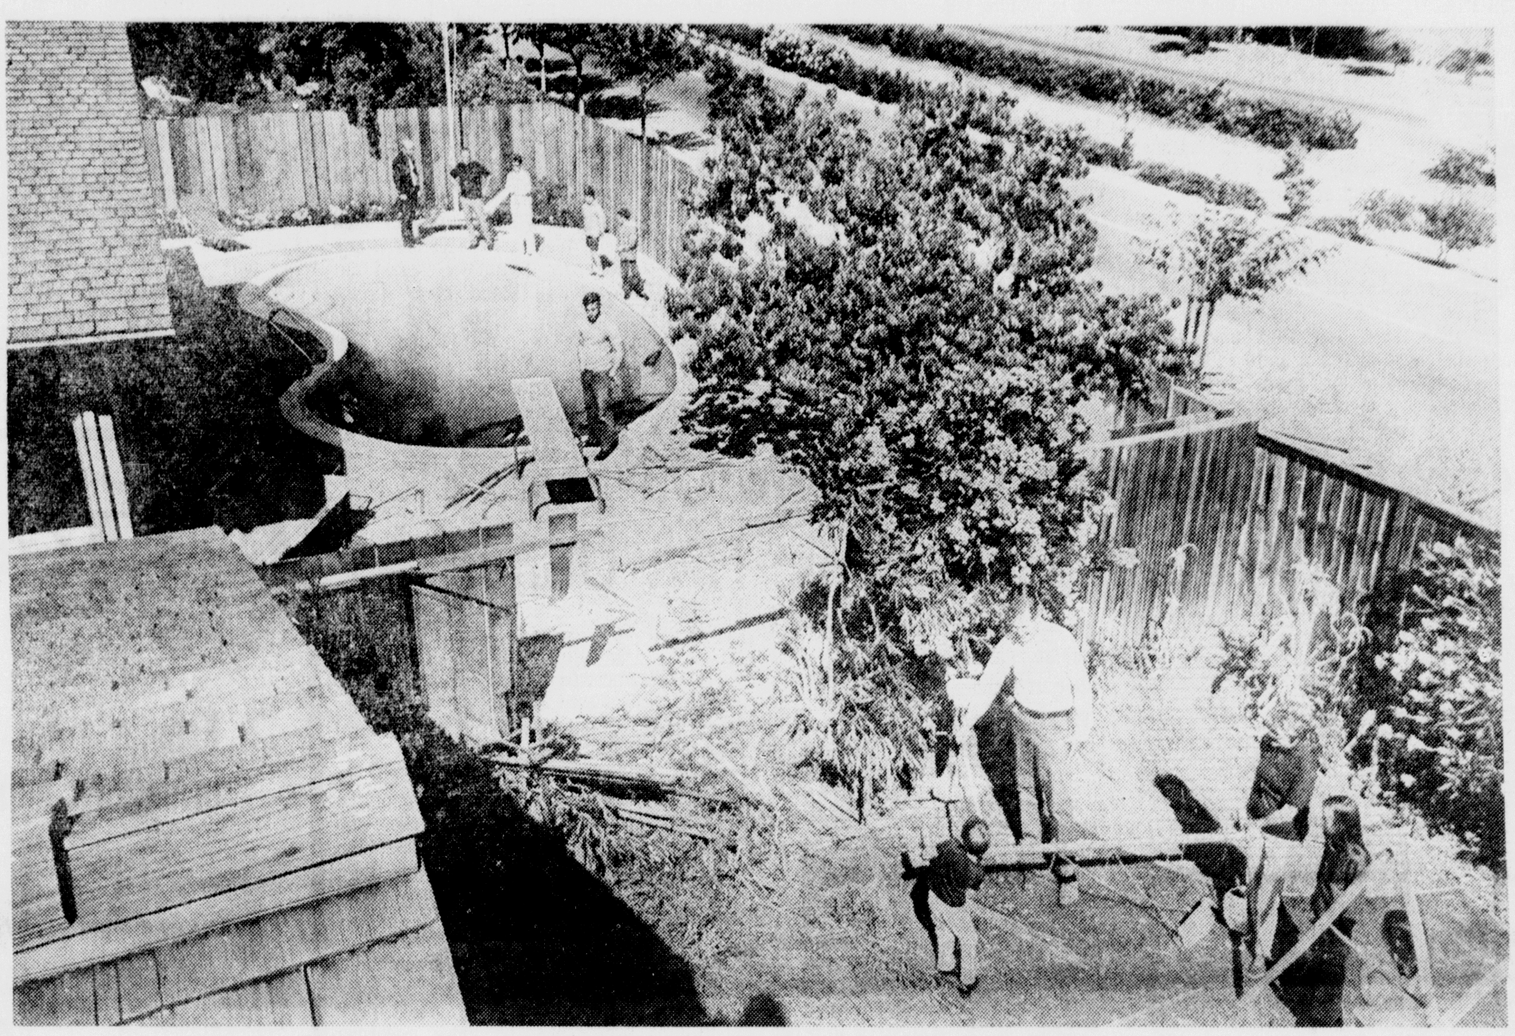

"We're not just talking about Larkspur, we're talking of San Rafael, Corte Madera and the entire Bay Area," he continued, adding the marsh of salt grass and pickleweed must be protected until a study on its security is completed.

Special city attorney Albert Bianchi told the groups such an emergency ordinance could be kept in effect for about 27 months by vote of the council at intervals.

However, Mayor Benton A. Sifford Jr. indicated the proposal probably will not get the unanimous approval from the city council that it received from the four planning commissioners present. (Commissioner Robert H. Lee was absent as were councilmen Neil Brixon and Earl J. O'Grady.)

Sifford told the planners he knew of one councilman who had informed him not to expect a favorable vote. He did not say

A RIDE ON THE WILD SIDE

Lack Of Teen-Age Work Sends Rate Up 5.1 Pct. Last Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate rose to 5.1 per cent last month, highest since the autumn of 1964, the government reported today.

A sharp increase in joblessness among teen-agers — from a 13.9 per cent rate in July to 15.9 per cent last month — was cited as the main reason for the high over-all unemployment level. The 5.1 per cent rate was a slight rise over July's rate of 5 per cent.

The Labor Department said the increase in unemployment to the highest percentage of the American labor force since a similar 5.1 per cent rate in October, 1964, was accompanied by the fourth drop in five months in nonfarm payrolls.

Nonfarm employment in August was 70,724,000, representing a decline—on a seasonally adjusted basis—of 90,000 from July. Almost all of the decline was among factory and construction workers.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported: "Jobless rates for most major groups in the labor force showed little or no change (but) the jobless rate for teen-agers increased significantly, from 13.9 to 15.9 per cent. Most of this rise occurred among white girls and brought the teen-age rate to its highest point since April, 1965."

Job opportunities have been tight this summer for young people.

The 0.1 per cent increase in the jobless rate was no surprise to government economists. The Nixon administration has predicted an early upturn in overall business conditions but has been concerned that there might be some time lag before economic improvements would reduce unemployment.

There has been speculation that the jobless rate might reach 5.5 per cent before it levels off—and government officials have not taken major issue with such estimates.

The new report on the job situation also showed:

—The total number of unemployed workers was 4.2 million in August, down 300,000 from July.

—Joblessness among full-time workers was unchanged from July at 4.7 per cent but the rate for part-time workers went up from 7.4 per cent to 8 per cent.

—"Jobless rates for both white (4.8 per cent) and Negro workers (8.4 per cent) were essentially unchanged in August. As a result, the ratio of Negro to white joblessness remained below the two to one

Bomb Suspects Held, But Talk Way Out

LITTLE FALLS, N.Y. (UPI) —Two fugitives sought in a fatal bombing at the University of Wisconsin fell into the hands of police for the second time Thursday and for the second time were released by authorities who failed to link their names with the case.

Police said two men carrying drivers licenses identifying them as Dwight Armstrong, 19, and David S. Fine, 18, were stopped here because their car had a faulty muffler.

They were questioned for about an hour and then let go by authorities who did not recognize their names.

It was reported earlier this week that police at a roadblock near Madison, Wis., stopped a car carrying Armstrong, his brother Karleton, 22, and two other men shortly after the Aug. 24 explosion but did not detain them when the brothers said they were on their way to a vacation area in upstate Wisconsin.

Little Falls Police said Dwight Armstrong and Fine told them they were on their way to visit "Leo Burt in Utica." Burt, 22, was the fourth suspect named by the FBI Wednesday.

It was not until four hours after Armstrong and Fine were released that Little Falls police discovered they were wanted.

Federal authorities have said the fugitives may be headed for Canada. It is a drive of about two hours from the Little Falls-Utica area to the Thousand Islands Bridge leading to Canada above Watertown in northern New York.

A FBI spokesman in Utica said the FBI was "doing everything logically possible to try and locate these individuals in this area. It's a big search of a big area."

Although the four suspects were subjects of a nationwide hunt by the FBI, a spokesman at State Police headquarters in Albany said they had received no special alert.

The spokesman said the usual procedure is for the FBI to

Grand Jury Indicts Magee

The Marin County Grand Jury today returned an indictment against San Quentin convict Ruchell Magee charging him with assaulting and murdering Judge Harold J. Haley.

The grand jury heard testimony about the Aug. 7 shootout from Assistant Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas who described the tragedy from his bed in Marin General Hospital where he has been a patient since the shootings.

In a secret session at the Marin Civic Center the grand jury also heard testimony from a pathologist, Dr. John P. Manwaring and a San Quentin records keeper.

Labor Day Will Close Most Offices

Banks, post offices, city halls, public libraries and most commercial establishments will be closed Monday in observance of Labor Day.

The Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice courts will be closed and regularly scheduled public meetings have been delayed or canceled.

Parking meters will not be operating in any city except Sausalito, where they are in effect every day of the year.

Sonoma County offices will also close as will city offices in Petaluma, and Rohnert Park and Cotati.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Most Marin and Southern Sonoma students will return to school on Tuesday, only to receive another holiday on Wednesday — Admission Day.

Changes in meetings of public bodies which would normally meet Monday include:

Belvedere City Council, Sept. 14 at 8 p.m. at city hall; Corte Madera Town Council, Tues-

Victim Of Stabbing Identified As Marinite

The stabbing victim whose body was found at Strawberry Point Wednesday was identified yesterday as Daniel Roger Jackson, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Jackson of Terra Linda.

Lt. Guido Battaglia of the Marin sheriff's department said today that the identification was made through an unemployment insurance application form found about 100 feet from Jackson's body.

Although the form had not been completed by Jackson, he had written in a return address of a San Rafael Post Office box. Lieutenant Battaglia said that the box belonged to Jackson's father, who identified the body yesterday.

Jackson had been stabbed 12 times, including once in the heart, with a slender instrument at least six inches long.

Lack of blood at the place on Seminary Drive where the body was found down an embankment led officers to believe that Jackson was killed elsewhere and his body dumped off the road sometime between 1 and 6:30 a.m.

Jackson's father told officers that his son, an Air Force veteran, had lived at home until last January. Since then he has had no permanent address.

The father said that he last heard from his son in a postcard postmarked Aug. 30 in which young Jackson wrote from San Rafael that he was going to Phoenix, Arix.

He said that he was going to attend a Post Office courier school in connection with his employment at the Rincon Annex branch in San Francisco.

Battaglia said today that a check showed Jackson had never been a postal employee and that there is no courier school in Phoenix.

Officers were still awaiting today the results of laboratory tests on articles, including three women's slips, found in a crushed cardboard suitcase which was on the roadway near the body.

Added Rangers

YOSEMITE (UPI) — Park officials, girding for an onslaught of visitors during the Labor Day weekend, have added another 65 men to the ranger force in hopes of preventing a disturbance similar to one which wracked the park July 4.

Normal Safety Protection Is Assured For Weekend

Normal police and fire protection for the county is assured for the long Labor Day weekend, despite the stalled a wage negotiations between safety workers and the county.

After a two-and-one-half hour meeting with San Francisco attorney Jake W. Ehrlich yesterday, safety employee spokesmen announced that Ehrlich will meet with them again sometime next week.

"It's entirely up to him now," said sheriff's Sgt. Wade R. Powell, speaking for the 210 employees in the sheriff's, fire and communications departments. "Until we hear from him (Ehrlich), we just sit tight and go about our regualr duties.

Informational pickets who have paraded in front of the Civic Center entrance since Tuesday will be called off, said Powell.

Sheriff's deputies, holding out for 12.5 per cent pay raise, and county firemen for a 10 per cent raise, turned their entire case over to Ehrlich. "We didn't talk fees as yet," said Powell. "He is not yet retained by us. He's going to call us in next week and tell us what he can or cannot do for us." Powell said attorney fees will probably come up for discussion at that time.

He said no further negotiations with the county negotiation team or with the state conciliator are planned until after the next meeting with Ehrlich.

"There will be no disruption of service, not to our knowledge," Powell assured county residents. "We don't want to do anything illegal. As we said before, we don't want walkouts and we don't want strikes, if we can possibly keep out of it." However, strikes or slowdowns cannot be ruled out completely, he added.

The delegation that called on Ehrlich yesterday included Powell; Alfred Curry, shop steward for the county employees; inspector Dennis Shine and deputy sheriff Wyman Tong.

Suharto In Bonn

BONN (UPI) — President Suharto of Indonesia arrived in West Germany today from The Netherlands where he spent 24 hours protected by extreme security measures.

Similar precautions were taken at Bonn's Wahn airport where West German President Gustav Heinemann and Foreign Minister Walter Scheel were on hand to greet Suharto.

Terrorist Attack

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI) — Terrorist attackers today bombed at least six business establishments and private homes and machine-gunned the quarters of members of the U.S. Embassy Marine guard, police said.

No victims were reported and damage was slight, police said. They said the residence of the U.S. Marines was raked by machinegun fire by assailants who fled without being identified.

New Legion Head

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — New American Legion National Commander Alfred P. Chamie says Legionnaires "need to reach out and involve ourselves with young people."

Chamie, 54, of Pacific Palisades, Calif., told the concluding session of the Legion's national convention Thursday the Legion must reach out to young people through its programs involving sportsmanship, citizenship and leadership training.

The week-long convention ended without the disruptions which had been forecast.

Ferry Disaster

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Indian press reports said today more than 100 persons, including 90 school children, were drowned Thursday in a ferry boat disaster in Mysore state.

According to the reports the accident took place when the ferry boat sank in the storm-swollen Krishna River near Bijapur city.

The children were sailing to a temple on a river island, where they were being given a meal on the annual festival day. The reports said the overloaded boat overturned as the children began playing about on board the vessel.

ACLU Request

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two officials of the American Civil Liberties Union Thursday called for an investigation by the House Internal Security Committee of the American Legion. At their convention earlier this week, the Legion had called for an investigation of the ACLU.

Edward J. Ennis, chairman of the board of the ACLU, and John de J. Pemberton Jr., executive director, cited a resolution the Legion adopted at its Portland, Ore., convention urging Congress to propose constitutional amendments limiting the Supreme Court's authority.

Ennis and Pemberton said that although the amendments might not be ratified, congressional action would be an attack on the independence of the federal judiciary. Justices would be under the threat of political retaliation and hostility from the legislative branch, they said.

Lindsay Objects

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay urged the Senate Thursday to reject federal financing of the supersonic transport because it would be a "complete misplacement of national priorities." He threatened to prevent any SST from landing at a New York City airport.

In an 1,100-word letter to Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., Lindsay said the impact of the huge 1,800-mile per hour plane on the environment would be "appalling" and termed the possibility of noise pollution "the worse fear of all."

Stennis is chairman of a transportation subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee which resumes hearings Sept. 14 on a $290 million Nixon administration request to continue construction of two prototypes of the plane.

Manila Deaths

MANILA (UPI) — A landslide caused by a torrential downpour crushed a family of six to death today and brought to 49 the death toll from five days of prodigious rains. President Ferdinand E. Marcos said the worst was over in Manila.

Another 7.7 inches of rain fell in the Manila area in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today, bringing to 32 inches the total since Monday.

Marcos said the state of emergency had passed but he extended for another week the "state of calamity" he proclaimed Wednesday.

Alcatraz Indians Turn Down Help

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Indians on Alcatraz Island rejected outside help Thursday and declared they would settle for nothing less than title to the former federal penitentiary they had seized.

"We're standing firm on our position—it has got to be title for the island and we're not settling for anything less," said Miss LaNada Means, speaking for the Indian Council. "After all, it's our land."

Dr. Thomas W. Matthews, National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization (Negro) president had told tribesmen he believed he could get the federal government to lease the island to Indians and also to pay them for maintaining a lighthouse.

His NEGRO seized Ellis Island in New York and convinced the government to permit the group to operate a rehabilitation center there.

Nixon, LBJ Lead Praise To Diaz

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI)— President Nixon and former President Johnson gathered with 600 leaders of government, business and industry Thursday night to pay homage to outgoing Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz. They praised him as a chief architect of hemispheric solidarity.

In a glittering state dinner held in the elegance of a 19th Century ballroom at his ocean-side resort just north of the border, Nixon said that Diaz Ordaz's six years in office had witnessed "perhaps the greatest prograss in the history of our two countries in ironing out our problems."

Johnson, recalling that he had met with the Mexican leader seven times in his years in office, invited him down to the LBJ Ranch to "rock with me on the banks of the Pedernales."

The diminutive leader, retiring from office Dec. 1, obviously relished the warmth and affection of his hosts but spoke with concern of the poverty in his own country.

"Wealth is no longer divorced from justice," he said, adding that all nations should aspire to developing a system that "puts wealth at the service of man and not man at the service of wealth."

"Just as we want political democracy, we aspire to economic democracy—to paraphrase the Gettysburg Address—the economy of the people, by the people and for the people."

Diaz Ordaz, accompanied by about 50 members of the Mexican government, spent 13 hours in his second meeting with President Nixon within two weeks.

Two such quick meetings were unprecedented, Nixon said, "but that is as it should be because the friendship between the two nations is unprecedented."

Prominent businessmen, more than a dozen admirals and generals, newspaper publishers and a contingent of Hollywood stars that included John Wayne, Frank Sinatra and Ricardo Montalban turned out for this second state dinner President Nixon has held outside of Washington. The other was last summer for South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

Cambodia Boiling; S. Vietnam Quiet

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong forces counterattacked in waves Thursday night in a series of assaults south of Phnom Penh near a key town recaptured a few hours earlier by Cambodian troops, military spokesmen said today.

Communiques from Saigon said fighting in Vietnam was light and order had been restored in the capital where angry disabled South Vietnamese veterans battled U.S. troops and police for nearly 24 hours.

The U. S. Command in Saigon said no Americans were killed in action in the 24-hour period from midnight Wednesday to midnight Thursday. It was the first such no-fatality report since June 11.

Cambodian spokesmen said the Viet Cong launched three waves of assaults against Cambodian defenders of the devastated town of Saang, 20 miles south of Phnom Penh and brought up 82mm mortars and 75mm recoiless rifles in the attack against Tram Khnar, less than two miles from Srang, recaptured by Cambodian forces Thursday. Srang is 26 miles south of the capital.

Cambodian spokesmen said it was part of a stepped-up Communist pressure in the region south of Phnom Penh. Saang was the scene of heavy fighting three months ago.

Cambodian spokesmen said 20 Communist troops were found dead on the edge of the Cambodian positions at Saang. Two Cambodian soldiers were killed along with one civilian and a Buddhist monk.

The Cambodians called in air strikes against the Communists attacking at Tram Khnar but in keeping with government policy, the nationality of the aircraft was withheld.

It broke out Thursday when veterans demanding higher pensions from the government opened fire and wounded three U.S. military policemen, seized their jeeps and a dilapidated building. The veterans' protests have recently taken on an anti-American tone and officials said a group of veterans became angry when stopped for an identity check by U.S. MPs.

Prime Minister Tran Thien Khiem went on television Thursday night to warn the veterans against further outbursts.

Henry Aaron, of the Atlanta Braves, became the first major league player to obtain 500 home runs and 3,000 hits.

Meany Paints A Frustrating Worker Era

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The acerage American worker won't have much to cheer about this Labor Day because he is in serious trouble trying to stretch his family budget to meet ever higher prices, George Meany said today.

"Workers are feeling a deep sense of frustration," said the AFL-CIO president. "Workers have been prived out of the market for a very long time, through no fault of their own. "They have been slipping backward," Meany said in his annual Labor Day message released in advance of Monday's holiday, "and the average American worker, who has a family to care for, children to educate and bills to pay, is in serious trouble."

The 76-year-old labor leader said workers are not the only Americans to suffer because of the current inflation — the worst in 20 years — which he blamed on the "ill-conceived" policies and actions of the Nixon administration. He said the poor, pensioners and small businessmen also have been hit hard by inflation and recession.

"Labor Day 1970 is a time of great uncertainty and anxiety for many Americans, as much for American workers as for anyone else," said Meany, who will join a group of other labor leaders and their wives at a dinner with President Nixon at the White House Labor Day evening.

The affair, the first of its kind held by any president on Labor Day, was another effort in a continuing program by Nixon to maintain cordial personal relations with Meany and other labor leaders at a time when they continue to attack his economic and other domestic policies.

Population Hike

LONDON (UPI)—The population of England and Wales is expected to increase by 9.7 million to about 59 million between 1969 and 2001, according to a report Thursday by the Registrar General.

Reagan Optimistic On State's Shifting Economy; Hits Unruh

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today painted an optimistic picture of California's shifting economy and contended "we have never been more prosperous."

He asked citizens to ignore pessimists—presumably including Jess Unruh—who cry economic "doom."

In what amounted to a preview of a basic speech the governor will use on the campaign trail beginning Monday, the Republican candidate for re-election said "It is time we ended our obsession with what is wrong and realized how much is right" with society.

"Hard-hats and soft-hats, blue collar and white," Reagan told the annual host breakfast sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce, "have been picked at, sworn at, rioted against and down-graded until we have a built-in guilt complex."

The governor said in prepared remarks that he does not understand "the small percentage" of young people who of love beads and beat up the "cannot wait to put on a string dean in the name of peace."

Reagan devoted a significant portion of his speech to defending the California economy.

Assemblyman Jess Unruh, the governor's Democratic opponent, intends to make rising unemployment and reduced spending power a key issue in the campaign which kicks off Labor Day. Unruh contends Reagan has not done enough to prepare California for a peacetime economy as the nation phases out of the Vietnam War.

The latest Reagan Administration figures show that the statewide unemployment rate in July was 6.2 per cent, compared to 6 per cent in June and 4.4 per cent in July, 1969.

Reagan told the state business leaders that "after three straight years of the lowest unemployment we have known in decades, we are in an economic pinch that has increased unemployment to almost the level we were accustomed to in the several years prior to 1967.

"I have no intention of minimizing the hardship of the trained and willing worker who is unable to find a job," the governor continued, "But there is no reason to give way to panic."

Reagan said "an effort had to be made to slow inflation" and it was "long overdue."

"We have never been more prosperous, or more generous with our prosperity; never more truly concerned with the welfare of the less fortunate, with education and equality of opportunity," he added.

$220,000 Picasso Painting Is Taken

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) —A French street scene painted more than 30 years ago by Spanish artist Pablo Picasso and valued at about $222,000 was stolen by hold-up men, police said today.

Senora Encarnacion Sanchez de Correa told police armed burglars entered her home here and made off with the approximately yard-square painting willed to her by her brother-in-law, Spanish painter Antonio Correa, about 20 years ago. The painting depicts a narrow street bathed in sunlight, a smashed violin and a vase of illuminated flowers, she said.

LaBianca Weapon Offers No Clues

A police fingerprint expert testified Thursday at the trial of Charles Manson and three female codefendants that a pearl-handled carving fork stuck in Leno LaBianca's abdomen did not have even a smudge of a fingerprint on it.

"It gave me the impression that the handle had been wiped off," said officer Harold J. Dolan.

"There was not even a smudge. If it had been handled at all, there would have been at least fragmentary prints."

Dolan said he had matched a print taken from the front door of the Tate residence with a print of Watson's right ring finger. Watson, 24, was indicted for the Tate-LaBianca murders, but will be tried later because he has been fighting extradition from Texas.

In New Orleans, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled yesterday that unless the Supreme Court decided otherwise, Watson must be extradited to California by next Friday to face trials in the murders of the actress and six others. The court ruled Aug. 31 there was no merit to arguments by Watson's attorneys that the former members of the "Manson Family" should not be extradited because he could not receive a fair trial in California.

Ordinarily that ruling would not take effect until 20 days later, to give Watson time to file new motions or appeals.

But the Circuit Court granted a request by Texas officials that the waiting period be shortened by nine days.

The court ruled appeals for a rehearing may be filed even after Watson is sent to Los Angeles. Watson's attorneys filed a rehearing request with the circuit court Thursday.

Dolan said he found 50 fingerprints in the Tate house, including 22 prints which belonged to the five victims—Miss Tate, Jay Sebring, Abigail Folger, Voityck Frykowski and Stephen Parent. Some prints were too smudged to be compared and the others were unidentified, he said.

A total of 25 fingerprints were found in the Los Feliz District home of LaBianca, a grocer. Nineteen of the prints belonged to LaBianca, his wife, or her son, Frank Struthers Jr., Dolan said. Six were unidentified.

Recorder Stolen

A tape recorder of undetermined value was reported taken from an office at the Marin Community Mental Health Center between 5:30 p.m. Aug. 21 and 8 a.m. Aug. 24, according to the Marin County Sheriff's Department.

FIVE LOSERS SINCE 1960 NOSE COUNT

This chart shows the percentage change in population state-by-state between 1960 and 1970. The information is based on preliminary data of the U.S. Census Bureau. Only five states show a drop in population — North and South Dakota, Mississippi, West Virginia and Wyoming. California is second behind Arizona as the state with the biggest population increase.

Little Falls Police said a check of the car showed it was registered to "a private party in Westchester County" and had not been reported stolen.

But police in Westchester County said today the car had been stolen between 7:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. Thursday from a parking place about a half mile from the Penn Central railroad depot in the New York suburb of North White Plains.

The Armstrong brothers, Fine and Burt all were named Wednesday in federal warrants charging them with sabotage, destruction of government property and conspiracy in the bombing in Madison.

Sheriff Ralph Hearn of Sauk County, Wis., said Thursday he would seek a warrant charging Karleton Armstrong with the attempted bombing of a power substation.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, alerted by the FBI, said Thursday they were aiding in the search for the men.

In Washington, the Justice Department urged Wisconsin officials to file murder charges against the four in order to alleviate any extradition problems. Reports circulated in Washington that at least two of the four, Fine and Burt, had fled to Canada by means of "underground aid."

Dane County District Attorney James C. Boll said he would file murder charges "at a later date."

The blast severely damaged the six-tsory Sterling hall which housed the Physics Department and the Army Mathematics Research Center. Damages have been estimated as high as more than $6 million. Physics researcher Robert E. Fassnacht, 33, the father of three, was killed and four others were injured.

Israeli Premier Moves Up Date Of Talks With U.S.

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli Premier Golda Meir, concerned about the growing Egyptian missile crisis, has advanced the date of her planned visit to the United States for talks with President Nixon, diplomatic sources said today in Jerusalem.

The Suez Canal cease-fire line remained quiet despite the tension but heavy fighting broke out on the Israeli-Lebanese border today and Israeli jets went into action against Arab guerrilla bases.

Mrs. Meir, in what was considered a decisive victory for Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, dropped her conciliatory policy toward the missile buildup and demanded a return to the situation that prevailed before the cease-fire went into effect Aug. 7.

Dayan demanded that from the start, threatened to resign and suggested the New York Mideast peace talks be abandoned if the status quo is not restored. He also made it clear he thought Israel was capable of knocking out the missile sites if they are not removed by diplomatic means.

Diplomatic sources said they thought Mrs. Meir would ask Nixon to press Egypt to remove the missiles and that she would ask for more military aid to counter the 400 missiles and 125 MIG21 jets Egypt is reported receiving from Russia.

A spokesman for the Palestine Armed Struggle Command said in Beirut that heavy fighting broke out along the Lebanese-Israeli border and that Israeli planes went into action in the afternoon "and the battle is still going on."

The spokesman said the fighting started at dawn when Israel opened artillery fire on two Palestinian guerrilla bases made it clear it is ready to take military action against Egypt if the United States does not force withdrawal of Soviet-made missiles installed in the Suez Canal cease-fire zone.

The sources said Mrs. Meir, who had planned to attend the 25th anniversary celebrations of the United Nations in New York in October, would leave for the United States in about 10 days. These reports were backed by an announcement from the United Jewish Appeal in New York which said Mrs. Meir would "pay a brief visit to the United States in the latter part on the slopes of Mount Herman near the South Lebanese village of Kfar Chouba and then sent in infantrymen. "Our fighters engaged them in heavy combot," the spokesman said.

An Israeli anniuncement said only that Israeli jets bombed guerrilla bases in the area and that all planes returned safely.

The report came as Israel of September in connection with the humanitarian programs supported by the United Jewish Appeal."

The announcement said she would meet the leadership of the American Jewish community at a specially-convened gathering to be held in New York City.

In London, the Institute for Strategic Studies reported today the Soviet Union is deploying upwards of 400 SAM3 ground-to-air missiles in 45 sites in Egypt. The institute, an international defense study center, said Moscow also has promised Egypt 150 more MIG21 jet fighters.

Nixon administration officials in Washington expressed the hope that now that the United States has publicly supported Israeli charges of Soviet-Egyptian violations of the cease-fire, Israel would send its representatives back to New York to continue the peace talks. However, Israeli officials both in Washington and Jerusalem insist the U.S. protest alone is not enough and the missiles must be pulled out before the discussions can continue.

However, the United States appeared unwilling to try to force Egypt and its Soviet allies to retreat on the issue.

pattern that has prevailed for many years. August marked the tenth month out of the last twelve in which this has occurred."

—Average weekly earnings of factory workers increased 70 cents over July to $122.15, a gain of 18 cents over a year since August, 1969. Average hourly earnings rose by a penny from July to $3.24—a gain of x8 cents over a year ago.

— Unemployment among white-collar workers, after reaching a 10-year high of 3.1 per cent in July, fell to 2.7 per cent, but the rate for blue collar workers rose to 7 per cent from 6.6 per in July.

— Manufacturing payrolls dropped by 75,000 workers, on a seasonally adjusted basis, to 19,553,000.

which councilman was against the measure.

With a backdrop of a large strip map of the creek, Councilman William G. Fleckles, questioning legalities, said he felt property owners would take the position that such an ordinance would effectively limit the use and value of the land and may seek court action.

Bianchi agreed, adding the courts were the only place to finally decide the issue. However, he continued, proof of public use of the marshland for a period of more than five years could be a determinant of its future public use.

With Bianchi's assurances that the city was in a favorable legal position, the officials agreed that a 30 day halt to use of the lands adjacent the creek was a reasonable period to initiate a study on drafting of a future ordinance.

If after 30 days, with council approval, an ordinance to protect the marshland by establishing mandatory building setbacks appears feasible, the council may continue the emergency ban. If it does not appear feasible, the council may lift the prohibition.

In related action last night, the planners unanimously approved a recommendation to the council that it authorize the commission to hire an expert to determine the boundaries of the marshland. Such a report would allow the commission to determine where construction setbacks should extend to insure survival of the marshland.

Slide Repair Contract Given

The Tiburon City Council last night awarded a $10,540 contract to D. Venturini Trucking and Grading Co. to repair a landslide on Mar West Street, according to Mayor Denis T. Rice.

The only other bid was for $13,170 from Ghilotti Brothers Co. of San Rafael. Engineers had estimated the work would cost the city $10,300, Rice said.

No other business was conducted at last night's special meeting, he said.

Radios Stolen

Three radios valued at $800 were taken during the past three weeks from his boat while at Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor at 100 Loch Lomond Drive, Jerome Bellach of 32 Twain Harte Lane, San Rafael, reported yesterday to police.

OBITUARIES

Rose Foster Dies At 54; Rites Set

Rose M. Foster of San Rafael died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 54.

Mrs. Foster was born in East Orange, N.J., but had lived in San Rafael since 1922. She lived at 53 Beach Road for the past two years.

She and her husband, George R., operated a beauty and wig shop in San Francisco in the early 1960s.

Mrs. Foster was a member of the San Rafael Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Also surviving are a son, Edward G. of the family home and a daughter, Claudia Culiver of San Francisco.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael followed by burial at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

HOWARD GILBERT

Howard Westley Gilbert, a 25-year resident of Marin, died yesterday at his Larkspur home following a short illness. He was 80.

Gilbert, who lived at No. 1 Broadwaly, was a native of Jeffersonville, Ind., but had spent most of his life in New York and California.

Following his graduation from Hanover College in Indiana, Gilbert began his career as a concert singer and voice teacher in New York. He moved to California in 1940.

A veteran of World War I, he was discovered yesterday by a friend. Gilbert had been last seen at another friend's home the day before.

He is survived by a sister in Philadelphia.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary.

A Requiem Mass for Mary H. Heer, 74, of 114 Sycamore Avenue, San Anselmo, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Anselm's Church, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Heer, widow of Harry V. Heer, died Wednesday at a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of San Rafael, she lived in San Jose most of her life, and returned to Marin five years ago. She was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, San Jose Chapter.

Surviving are a sister, Martha Colombo of San Anselmo, and two brothers, James and Harry Wall, both of San Rafael.

Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery, San Jose. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

VIOLA COLBY

Private family services were held today for Viola E. Colby, 59, of 55 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Colby, wife of Henry V. Colby, a San Francisco attorney, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Colby had been a resident of California for 24 years and of Marin for 18 years.

Surviving are her husband, Henry, a son, Dr. James Spilker Jr. of Los Altos Hills; two daughters Evelyn Kunst of San Rafael, and Phyllis Freeman of Sunnyvale; four sisters, Nettie Killian of Mill Valley, Emma Irman and Louise Hall, both of Denver, and Elsie Schaffer of Phoenix, Ariz., and 12 grandchildren.

Private burial was at Greenlawn Memorial Part, Colma. The family prefers that memorial contributions be made to the Marin County Heart Association.

CLARENCE MARCY

Funeral for Clarence A. Marcy, 86, of Sonoma, father of Dawn Rose and Ferne Williams of Mill Valley, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Funeral Chapel, Sonoma.

Marcy, a native of Pennsylvania, died Tuesday at a local convalescent hospital after a long illness. He was a retired district superintendent and teacher with the Los Angeles School System and a member of the Retired Teachers Association.

He is also survived by his wife, Nellie; another daughter, Margaret Meyer of Florida; four grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

ELIZABETH FITZGARRALD

Elizabeth E. Fitzgarrald of Greenbrae died today at a local hospital after a short illness. She was 78.

Born in Rickville, Colo., she moved to Clay Center, Kan. as a girl. Six years after marrying James Fitzgarrald in 1910, she moved to Butte, Mont.

She moved to San Francisco in 1923 and remained there until 1960 when she moved to 195 Via Lerida in Greenbrae.

Mrs. Fitzgarrald belonged to the Christian Science Mother Church in Boston, Mass.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Josephine Ouellette of Greenbrae and Geraldine Martin of Elkhart, Ind.; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was today in San Rafael followed by inurnment at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

The family asked that memorial contributions be made to the Heart Association.

CHARLES ALLEN

The 5-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rial Allen of 7689 Lakeville Highway, Petaluma, died last night in his sleep.

The Sonoma County Coroner's office attributed to natural causes the death of Charles Coleman Allen, who was pronounced dead on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital, where he was taken when he failed to waken.

Graveside service will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Willits Cemetery, Willits.

IT'S FESTIVAL TIME AGAIN IN SAUSALITO

Sausalito artist Serge Trubach is the center of attraction, if the signs read right. The fine arts painter seems quite at home amid all these directional posters he has helped prepare for this weekend's three-day Sausalito Arts festival. This year's annual event, entitled "Festival of the Sun" starts tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Sausalito Art Center on Nevada street and runs to 6 p.m. daily. The signs, city officials and festival directors hope will route traffic in and out of Sausalito via the north. (See story, page 1.)

10 Hurt In Sonoma, Marin Road Wrecks

An Idaho couple and their five children were among 10 persons injured in traffic accidents in Marin and southern Sonoma yesterday, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Merlin T. Reusser, 35, of McCall, Idaho, was treated at Novato General Hospital for pain in the left hand after his car, northbound on Highway 101 north of Novato at 10:15 p.m., was hit from the rear by one driven by Jesse J. Amarse Jr., 32, of Petaluma.

Officers said the impact caused the Reusser vehicle to leave the freeway and hit a utility pole. Treated for cuts and bruises at the hospital were three Reusser children, Vicki, 9, Donald, 11, and Lisa, 12. Reusser's wife, Eleen, 30, and two other children, Linda, 12, and Karen, 6, reportedly received minor injuries but were not treated.

In another accident, Judson H. Clark, 77, of Walnut Creek, was reported in good condition at Novato General Hospital with bruises and a fractured rib.

Officers said that Clark, southbound on Lakeville Road at the intersection of Highway 37 in Sonoma County at 5:45 p.m., stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the path of a car driven by Max R. Kaplan, 54, of 14 Pierce Drive, Novato.

Kaplan was treated for bruises and shoulder and leg pain. Clark was cited by the patrol for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Robert I. Lewis, 27, of 906 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was taken to Marin General Hospital and treated for scrapes and a fractured left collarbone after his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Jerome B. York, 54, of 15 Tree Top Way, Kentfield.

Officers said Lewis pulled into the side of York's car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Stetson Avenue in Kentfield at 5:40 p.m.

Girl Arrested As Pot Suspect

A 15-year-old Novato girl was arrested yesterday after a patrolman found three flower pots containing suspected marijuana seeds and young plants on her front porch, Novato police reported today.

Lorraine Hugh Davidson, of 1682 Indian Valley Road, began tearing up plants and throwing them away when told the drug abuse bureau in the sheriff's office would be called, according to the report.

She was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of cultivating marijuana.

Sausalito Trustees Vote For 24 School District Transfers

With a minimum of discussion, the Sausalito School District Board yesterday approved interdistrict transfers for 24 youngsters.

By the action, trustees left the question of where the students will attend school next week up to other southern Marin school districts and the Marin County Board of Education.

Of the transfer requests granted, 17 are asking to attend school in the Reed School District and seven are applying for a place in the Mill Valley School District.

The Mill Valley School Board will meet today at 7 p.m. to consider the requests. The Reed School Board has not yet set a time for meeting on the applications.

If any of the youngsters are refused admission by both districts, the county board of education will hear appeals next week.

Whether all the children will have a place to attend classes when school begins Tuesday in all southern Marin districts remained in doubt today.

According to Lyle Wright, coordinator for the county schools office, the county board plans to hear appeals at its Tuesday night meeting.

But if Reed acts on the requests before Tuesday, Wright said it is "possible" the county board might decide to hold a special meeting on Monday.

Wright noted the Mill Valley District plans to make some decision today, but said the county board would be more likely to hold the special meeting Monday if all the transfer requests, not only those from Mill Valley, were up for consideration.

In-depth studies of each application have been prepared by the Sausalito district in conjunction with the county schools office.

Although the Sausalito School Board gave blanket approval to all the transfer requests being considered yesterday, trustees declared that any future applications will have to be decided on an individual basis.

The board also agreed to pay the full cost of educating the children to any district which accepts Sausalito transfers, minus state and federal aid given that district.

Trustees also agreed to hold a public hearing on the dismissal of Gabe Jackson, district community worker-educational aide, at its Sept. 14 meeting. Jackson, who received the board's charges against him last week, requested a public hearing on those charges on Wednesday.

Proposal To Seek Quicker FBI Entry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Panama has rejected three proposed treaties for operation of the Panama Canal, according to the State Department.

A spokesman said Panama has told the United States a proposed nine-member board for control of the canal should have a majority of Panamanian members, instead of a U.S. majority as proposed in a 1967 understanding. The board would control the Canal Zone until it is turned over to Panama in 1999.

Electric Typewriter Stolen From School

Burglars took a $379 electric typewriter from Hill Junior High School between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. yesterday, Novato police reported today.

A groundfloor window was broken to enter the school, but no other damage or theft was noted, according to the report.

Club Will Honor Japanese Visitor

Kiyoshi Suzuki, past president of the Rotary Club of Atami, Japan, will attend the Terra Linda Rotary Club noon luncheon Tuesday at Lin Fa restaurant, Terra Linda, at a special "Atami Day" meeting.

Suzuki will be appearing as part of Rotary's international friendship program with the Terra Linda club as the "matching club" with the Atama club.

Suzuki is vice president of the Atami Development Planning Committee, vice president of Management Research Conference in Shizuoka and president of the Planning and Reconstructing Committee of Atami Station Plaza.

Burglary, Drug Suspects Held

Two Petaluma youths were arrested at 3:30 a.m. today on suspicion of committing three burglaries and possessing marijuana.

Curtis Matthew Gray, 16, of 124 Alta Drive, and Michael Elbert Murphy, 16, of 525 Adrienne Drive, were booked into Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.

The police first detained the youths for curfew violation and said they found marijuana in their possession and believed they were responsible for three burglaries including the theft of coins from the Magic Wand Car Wash, 412 Petaluma Boulevard North; coins from a vending machine at Burkhart's Chevron station, 732 East Washington Street, and the theft of a bottle of champagne from Deli-Delights, Petaluma Plaza.

Cotati Approves 60-Foot Lot Size

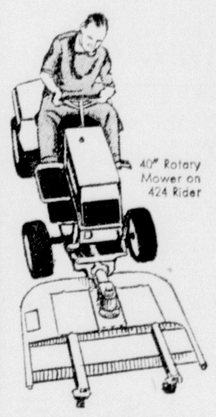

The Cotati City Council last night adopted a subdivision ordinance setting lot widths of 60 feet, although most members said they preferred a 50-foot requirement.

The council said that while 50-foot lot widths seemed more practical for developers, the ordinance should specify 60 feet to correspond with the zoning ordinance.

They said developers wanting smaller frontages could file requests for variances. The minimum lot size was set at 6,000 square feet.

In other action, the council denied the appeal of Mark Rose for two self-service gasoline pumps at his grocery store on east Cotati Avenue. The council noted that such a combination is not permitted in the service station

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

New Zealand's Bruce Bell Is True Champ–Study Why

Many a bridge expert thinks he is doing well if he wins half of the tournaments in which he competes, but the rest of the world is put to shame by Bruce Bell, of Auckland, N.Z., with 20 wins in 24 appearances since World War II. Today's hand is taken from the 1970 New Zealand team championship, won, as usual, by Bell's team.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS

West led the eight of diamonds, a card that looked suspiciously like a singleton. If so, Bell had to worry about preventing the loss of three diamonds and one club. In fact, these tricks were lost at the other table of the match.

Since there was no reason to rush in with the ace of diamonds, Bell played low from the dummy at the first trick. East won with the jack of diamonds and returned the suit, giving West a ruff. West then got out by leading the king of hearts to dummy's ace.

LEAVES TRUMP OUT

Declarer drew one round of trumps with dummy's queen, ruffed a heart, and led a club. West stepped up with the ace of clubs and got out safely with another club.

Now South could safely draw a second round of trumps. It would have been wrong to lead a second trump earlier since if East had the ace of clubs, he would be in position to lead a third trump and thus remove the last trump from dummy.

The New Zealand expert next led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed a heart to return to his hand and led the queen of clubs to discard dummy's last diamond. At the 12th trick, South led his last diamond and ruffed it in dummy.

13TH TRICK

The 12th trick had arrived, and East still had a trump. But declarer led the last heart from dummy, and East ruffed vainly as South overruffed. Those 20 wins in 24 years would seem to be no accident.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - J 7
♥ - K Q 8 7 2
♣ - A 10 7 6 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts. The hand is far too strong for the pre-emptive raise of four hearts.

Police Committee To Discuss Goals

A public seminar on police community relations will be held at 8 P.M. next Wednesday in the planning commission chambers at the Civic Center.

The Police Community Relations Committee, headed by Bella Aaron, will outline the goals and activities of the current one-year project to improve relations between police and the community.

Charles F. Williams, director of the one-year program, and Mrs. Aaron will lead the discussion. Members of the police community relations advisory committee will be introduced.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Sept. 4, the 247th day of 1970 with 118 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1609 Henry Hudson discovered the island of Manhattan.

In 1781 Spanish settlers founded the city of Los Angeles.

In 1940 Adolf Hitler promised the German people he would invade Great Britain, a promise he never carried out.

In 1969 Brazilian terrorists kidnaped American Ambassador Burke Elbrick. He was released three days later when the Brazilian government freed 15 political prisoners.

A thought for the day: F. Scott Fitzgerald said, "In a real dark horse of the soul it is always 3 o'clock in the morning."

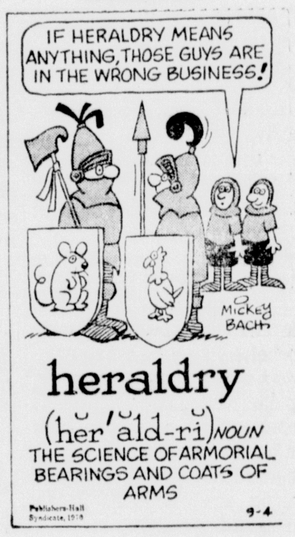

Tiburon Firemen Study Invitation

Members of the Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Association have been invited to join the Marin County Association of Firemen, according to Fire Chief Franklin W. Buscher.

The invitation was extended at the group's Wednesday meeting by Capt. James Kennon of the San Rafael Fire Department, association president. The firemen will study the group's bylaws and vote on whether to join at its next meeting, Buscher said.

The association also welcomed new members Robert Brooks, James La Torre, William Von Lackus and William Steiger.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Steaks, Dancing And Top-Floor View–All In Night At Bernard's

In San Francisco, a place like Bernard's Executive Lounge, with its top floor location, would probably be mobbed at dinner time — simply because it was there.

In downtown San Rafael, the idea of a restaurant you can't see from your car while driving by still has to catch on, I guess. Taking an elevator in the big city is a round-the-clock occurrence. Here, after sundown, the very thought must be abhorrent, the way people avoid it.

This is borne out in the attendance record at Bernard's, a cozy little retreat on the fifth floor of the Reynold C. Johnson Building at 1299 Fourth Street. At lunch time, space is at a premium. Downtown businessmen and office workers crowd it to the walls. However, at night, when the lights are low and it should be at its best, you seldom have to wait for a table.

The chef, Wally Price, cooks both the lunch and dinner meals and both times he is a master at his profession. The view from the windows looking out on the city is the same as at lunch, but is made more fascinating with the coming of dusk.

The owner of this clublike restaurant is Don Bernard, who conducted a successful operation in San Francisco before he opened in Marin. With his full beard it strikes me that he might well be cast in the role of an English country squire in tweeds with pipe and dog. But, since there is little call in business these days for country squires in tweeds with pipe and dog, he has become a restaurateur, and he takes this work seriously, moving with surprising alacrity from group to group in the manner of a proper host.

I won't even tempt you with the lunch menu, as you will probably find the place too crowded, anyway. But dinners run to steaks (New York, teriyaki and lemon pepper, sirloin), brochettes, seafoods, sweetbreads, scallopini and other popular selections. Biggest favorites among diners are Wally's lemon pepper steak and his baked fillet of sole Marguery.

Along about 9:30 on Friday and Saturday nights (but not tonight or tomorrow night), a few of the center tables are removed and the space is used for dancing. Lee Charlton on drums, Mel Martin on various wind instruments and Mike Thatcher at the electric piano make the music. They came from such widely separated points as Alabama, Sacramento and Los Angeles, but together turn out pleasing renditions of both new and some of the older favorites.

They are not here tonight because of the weekend holiday coming up. But they'll be back next week. Meanwhile, concentrate on the dinner. Sunday is the regular closing day. This weekend Don is closing Monday, too.

IT'S NOT FOR ME to urge you on the highways this weekend, but traditionally this is the last big chance for a three-day summer weekend fling at river, lake or seashore or mountains. For some Marinites, much of this activity will be centered in nearby Sonoma County.

If that's where you will be going, I suggest any one of the three popular Italian restaurants at Occidental — Union Hotel, Negri's or Fiori's. And they'll be open all three days. They all keep an eye on each other — if one stays open the others wouldn't dare to close. So take your pick.

CAZANOMA LODGE in Cazadero is a nice woodsy place to go. It, too, will be open for both lunches and dinners all three days. But after this weekend it will return to closing on Mondays, and in October to serving only on weekends. After that it will close for the season, opening again in March.

German and American food is the fare — and good.

IF YOU ARE OVER on the coast, one place to go is the Tides at Bodega Bay, which has completed its new restaurant. It has all kinds of seafoods and is open seven days a week.

AT JENNER BY THE SEA, near the mouth of the Russian River, Jerry and Hazel Berg also serve fine seafoods, and have quite a collection of redwood burl furniture pieces and novelties.

FOR PEOPLE ON THE RUN or who haven't time to stop long to eat, there's a new take-out food spot at 3362 South Gravenstein Highway, Sebastopol open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 2:30 a.m.

It's called Jesse's Barbecue Inn, operated by Jess J. Fortner who lives not far from there. He'll serve you barbecued ribs, chicken or beef on the spot or make deliveries in that area.

BACK IN MARIN, to round out the Labor Day weekend, Don Johnson at London Arms on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile has decided to keep open Monday, Sept. 7 — even though it's his regular day of closing.

Service will be from 4 to 10:30 p.m.

AT THIS WRITING, Ramona was sure she would have her Mexican dinery on C Street, San Rafael open again by tonight, with remodeling completed — or so nearly so that any remaining work can be picked up in the regular routine of things.

It will be open just for dinners — not for lunches yet. She'll have to cool down and recover a bit before renewing mid-day service. Things have been too strenuous the last few weeks. At last account she was chasing the plumber out of the kitchen with a butchr knife, or he was chasing her out of the kitchen with a length of pipe — I'm not quite sure which.

The place is very nice with its new look. It has a waiting entry now — something it's needed.

THE FRENCH may not admit to having anything to do with the popular French fries, but according to one story, Thomas Jefferson discovered them being prepared by some of the great chefs of France and brought the idea back to Monticello.

So France gets the credit whether it wants it or not.

Incidentally the National Fish Fryers Association of Britain holds that the ideal beverage to accompany fish and chips is champagne, instead of beer. You might try it at London Arms. Don has both.

Not a bad idea with hamburger and French fries either, instead of coke. Sam's in Tiburon features it — with hamburgers, anyway.

FRED CHERRY'S newest productions are two more wine vinegars — lemon champagne and Salad Sauce a la Bordeau. The last is rich and garlicky. You dilute it with wine instead of water when you're ready to serve.

DON'T HOLDUP YOUR NOSE in disdain or your hands in horror if you see someone plopping lumps of ice in his wine. On a hot day in France you'll see it done quite often in a red vin ordinaire — and in Portugal it's sometimes done with port.

THIS WEEK a fine Sausalito restaurant — the Spinnaker — celebrated completion of its 10th year in business. Our congratulations to Bill McDonnell and Don Lynam on their record of consistently good service and excellent food.

Apartments Win Approval On Conditions

The Novato Plan Review Committee has approved, subject to several conditions, plans for a 24-unit apartment on the northwest corner of Hill Road and Diablo Avenue.

Conditions of approval related to changes in architectural design, street improvement, landscaping, lighting and irrigation plans.

The committee on Wednesday also recommended that the planning commission grant a variance to permit construction of the apartments with one parking space less than required for the number of units included.

The Novato Plan Review Committee also:

ALAMEDA DEL PRADO — Approved changing plans for the Alameda Del Prado apartments, now under construction south of the Ignacio-Highway 101 interchange to allow installation of roof-mounted, rather than the previously approved pad-mounted, air conditioners.

BAHIA LIGHTING — Continued for modification proposals for outside lighting to be used throughout the Bahia development.

REVIEW — Reviewed without action a proposal by Blumenfeld Theaters to build a movie house next to the downtown shopping center and a proposed design for a Shell service station at San Marin and San Andreas drives.

LITTLE COOLER WEATHER

San Rafael, which has experienced a mild summer, will continue to be on the cool side this month with the approach of the change of seasons. According to information supplied by the U.S. Weather Bureau, temperatures will be below normal with little chance of rain during the next 30 days. Last year daytime temperatures for San Rafael averaged near the 69-degree mark with overnight lows in the 50s.

Mill Valley Boy, 12, Is Drowned

I-J Special Report

GUERNEVILLE — A 12-year-old Mill Valley boy drowned yesterday after falling down a 159-foot slope into the Russian River at Summerhome Park.

The Sonoma County Sheriff's substation at Guerneville said William Cary, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Cary Jr. of 381 Lovell Avenue was playing with two young cousins on a hill above the river when he fell at about 9:30 a.m.

Deputies borrowed a private boat from the Summerhome Park boat dock to recover the body.

The Edna McGuire School student was staying at the summer home of an uncle, Dr. Steven Cary, also of Mill Valley.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by a sister, Elizabeth, and a brother, David, and his grandparents, Dr. William S. Cary and Dr. and Mrs. John K. Young, all of Mill Valley.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Guerneville Redwood Chapel.

Felony Suspect Gets Added Charge Of Pot

A 21-year-old Forest Knolls woman facing trial on three felony counts of sex perversion and one of battery upon a police officer was re-booked yesterday into Marin County Jail on a marijuana charge.

After a preliminary hearing in municipal court, Rebecca Matthews was ordered held for trial in superior court by visiting Judge Robert N. Conners of Humboldt County. The judge ordered Miss Mathews remanded into custody and set bail at $1,250. After a struggle with matrons and bailiffs, the woman was taken to jail. A matron picking up her jacket found a small bag of suspected marijuana in the pocket.

Miss Mathews was orginally arrested at Kent Lake Aug. 2 after she was reportedly engaging in sex acts in the nude with several men while a crowd of hippies and children watched, played guitars and joked.

Secret Testimony Reveals Deadly Buckshot Supplied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Lawmen at the People's Park riot in May of last year were supplied for a time only with deadly buckshot, secret testimony at the trial of a former Alameda County Sheriff's deputy revealed Thursday.

The testimony was originally given by the defendant in the current case, Lawrence Riche, at a federal grand jury inquiry into the bloody riot which occurred in Berkeley.

At the January, 1970 federal hearing, Riche testified that he and other officers trying to control the disturbance were ordered to fire their two rounds of birdshot and the following two rounds of lethal buckshot "only if it was necessary."

He told the hearing he had reloaded with birdshot once after firing a round "at a gentleman on Regent Street" and later "after all of a sudden some rocks started hitting" near the point he was guarding.

Authorities had tried to bring ammunition to the officers two or three times during a lull, Riche continued, "but everytime they came, they had buckshot, at which time we rejected it each time and told them to take it back."

Riche said he did not want the heavy buckshot because "I didn't want to kill anybody."

After the right delivery was made, Riche said he reloaded with birdshot when rocks began raining down near his sentry post.

"I raised my shotgun and I fired a round of birdshot," he said.

He said he didn't think he had hit anyone because he had aimed "up high," but someone told him a man had been hit.

Rountree Eyed For Brazil Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon is expected to nominate career diplomat William Manning Rountree as new U.S. ambassador to Brazil, diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said the Brazilian government already had given approval to the selection of the 53-year-old Rountree as successor to Charles Burke Elbrick.

Rountree has been in the foreign service since 1943, most recently has been ambassador to South Africa.

Safeway Sets Fresh Label Pilot Program

OAKLAND (UPI)—Shoppers at Safeway Stores will soon be able to determine the freshness of the products they are buying by looking at the labels.

A company spokesman said Safeway opened a pilot campaign Wednesday in Washington, D.C. newspapers explaining to customers how to read the freshness code on its products.

As an example, the ads said, a 9-5 on a carton of milk means it shouldn't remain on the shelves beyond Sept. 5. That figure does not mean the milk will be bad after that date, however.

"This is a pilot program that we hope will be nationwide before the end of the year," said Dwayne Carlstrom, press relations chief for Safeway, the second biggest food chain in the country.

He said the system, called "open dating," has been in use for about 30 years, primarily for the benefit of Safeway employes.

Carlstrom said the decision to make the "open dating" code understandable to customers came in the wake of consumer interest in food freshness and quality.

Virginia Knauer, White House assistant for consumer affairs, had immediate praise for the pilot program in Washington, D.C.

She said Safeway "should be commended for its educational efforts to teach consumers how to use the system," and urged other food chains to follow suit.

The initial ads, which were run in Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland in addition to the national capital, concerned open dating just on milk. Safeway said subsequent ads will tell consumers how to read codes on other products.

Cleaver Talk

Sonoma Agency Approves Cotati Annexation Plan

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Local Agency Formation Commission yesterday approved an annexation to Cotati, but turned down a 96-acre Petaluma annexation request.

The commission approved the annexation of 58 acres to Cotati, including land south of East Cotati Avenue, and west of Park and Myrtle avenues owned by Fred W. Rohnert and Dorothy Rohnert Spreckles.

The commission said that since the land is also adjacent to Rohnert Park, the exact boundary line should be worked out by the two city councils.

Refused was the request of William Lawrence to annex 96 acres at the west edge of Petaluma bounded by Denman Road, Old Redwood Highway and Ely Road.

The commission noted that the land is five miles from the center of Petaluma with many unincorporated areas in between.

BAY PROJECT — A scale model of an 18.4-acre project in the bay north of the Ferry Building in San Francisco shows the 10-story hotel outboard of the stores and offices patterned after the glass-covered Grand Galleria of Milan. Its critics claim it will set a precedent for similar projects all around the bay.

FERRY PORT PLAZA

Controversy On Waterfront Plan

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — A precedent-setting $120 million development proposed for San Francisco's waterfront yesterday aroused a storm of controversy before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The precedent, which would allow virtually any kind of development on the bay under certain conditions, could open up vast areas of the bay to developments previously barred by BCDC — including the waterfront in Richardson Bay and Sausalito.

At issue was a proposal by BCDC's staff to encourage private development to improve public access and shoreline appearance in areas where the bay is now inaccessible and the shoreline unattractive because of obsolete wharves or other structures or fill.

The staff proposed that new construction "may be used for any purpose, whether or not water-related, that does not adversely affect enjoyment of the bay and its shoreline."

Critics of the proposed regulation — dubbed the "rule of equivalencies" — claimed it would open the door to massive development around the bay. They argued the commission should stick to its present rule of requiring developments to be "water-related."

Executive Director Joseph E. Bodovitz said that the staff proposed the regulation so commissioners would have a basis for evaluating projects such as the one presented yesterday by Oceanic Properties, a subsidiary of the giant Hawaiian development firm of Castle and Cooke. Limited partners in the project are the Ford Foundation and Kidder Peabody and Co.

The 18.4-acre project, roughly the size of Alcatraz Island, would replace four piers just north of the Ferry Building, thus relying on the proposed "rule of equivalencies." The project, called Ferry Port Plaza, would fill 4.5 acres for a four-level subsurface garage for 2,400 cars and cover 13.9 acres with a platform built on piles.

The platform would support offices, stores and a 10-story, 1,200-room hotel standing 141 feet high. A three-acre park and public walkway would be built around the perimeter of the project.

The four dilapidated piers to be removed cover 11.8 acres, well short of the 18.4 acres to be covered by the project. The developers, however, argued that they still would be opening up an equivalent amount of the bay by dredging shallow, stagnant areas close to the shore.

More than 200 persons jammed the hearing in the state Building, most of them opposed to the project and to the proposed regulation. Few had time to speak yesterday, however, and the hearing was continued to 2 p.m. on Sept. 17, again in Room 1194 at 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Bodovitz reported that the commission had received one letter supporting the Oceanic Properties project from the Greater San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. A record 649 letters, cards and telegrams had swamped the commission from opponents of the project, he said, topping the previous record set earlier this year when the county of Marin unsuccessfully sought BCDC endorsement of a master plan for Richardson Bay.

Also received was a letter from the Army Corps of Engineers, which noted that the corps would have to consider the environmental impact of the project.

The manager of the project, Dick M. Wilkinson, said that the offices and hotel were water-oriented, and that because of height limitations "there almost isn't anything else we can do." He said the project would bring San Francisco up to $6 million a year in new tax revenue.

Circulation of water in the area would be improved, Wilkinson argued, because the pilings under the platform would be further apart than those supporting the four piers to be removed.

Barry L. Bunshoft, a San Francisco attirney speaking for the Save San Francisco Bay Association, said that the transfer of the port from the state to San Francisco two years ago "did not contemplate high-rise offices and hotels," (The association last month branded the project "the greatest threat to the protection of the bay which has yet to come before the commission.")

Miriam E. Wolff, director of the Port of San Francisco, argued the project was the first of many that will be needed to finance $100 million in improvements to the port. "Everything we do that is not related to commerce and navigation is incidental," she said.

The project would displace the Golden Gate Brideg District's ferry terminal at the old heliport, as well as its maintenance facility at Pier 7. A new ferry landing would be needed.

Construction of the project, according to Oceanic's schedule, would begin next spring and be completed in the summer of 1975.

The chairman of the commission, Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park, said that before voting, the commission first must get an opinion from the attorney general's office on whether the "rule of equivalencies" can be adopted without amending the BCDC's bay plan.

Amendment of the bay plan would require a separate public hearing and a two-thirds vote of the commission. The legal opinion is due next month.

Society Names President-Elect

Dr. Joseph J. Alderson of Sleepy Hollow was nominated last night for 1971 president-elect of the Marin Medical Society. (The president-elect advances automatically to president of following year. Dr. T. Scott Strathairn of San Rafael will be 1971 president.)

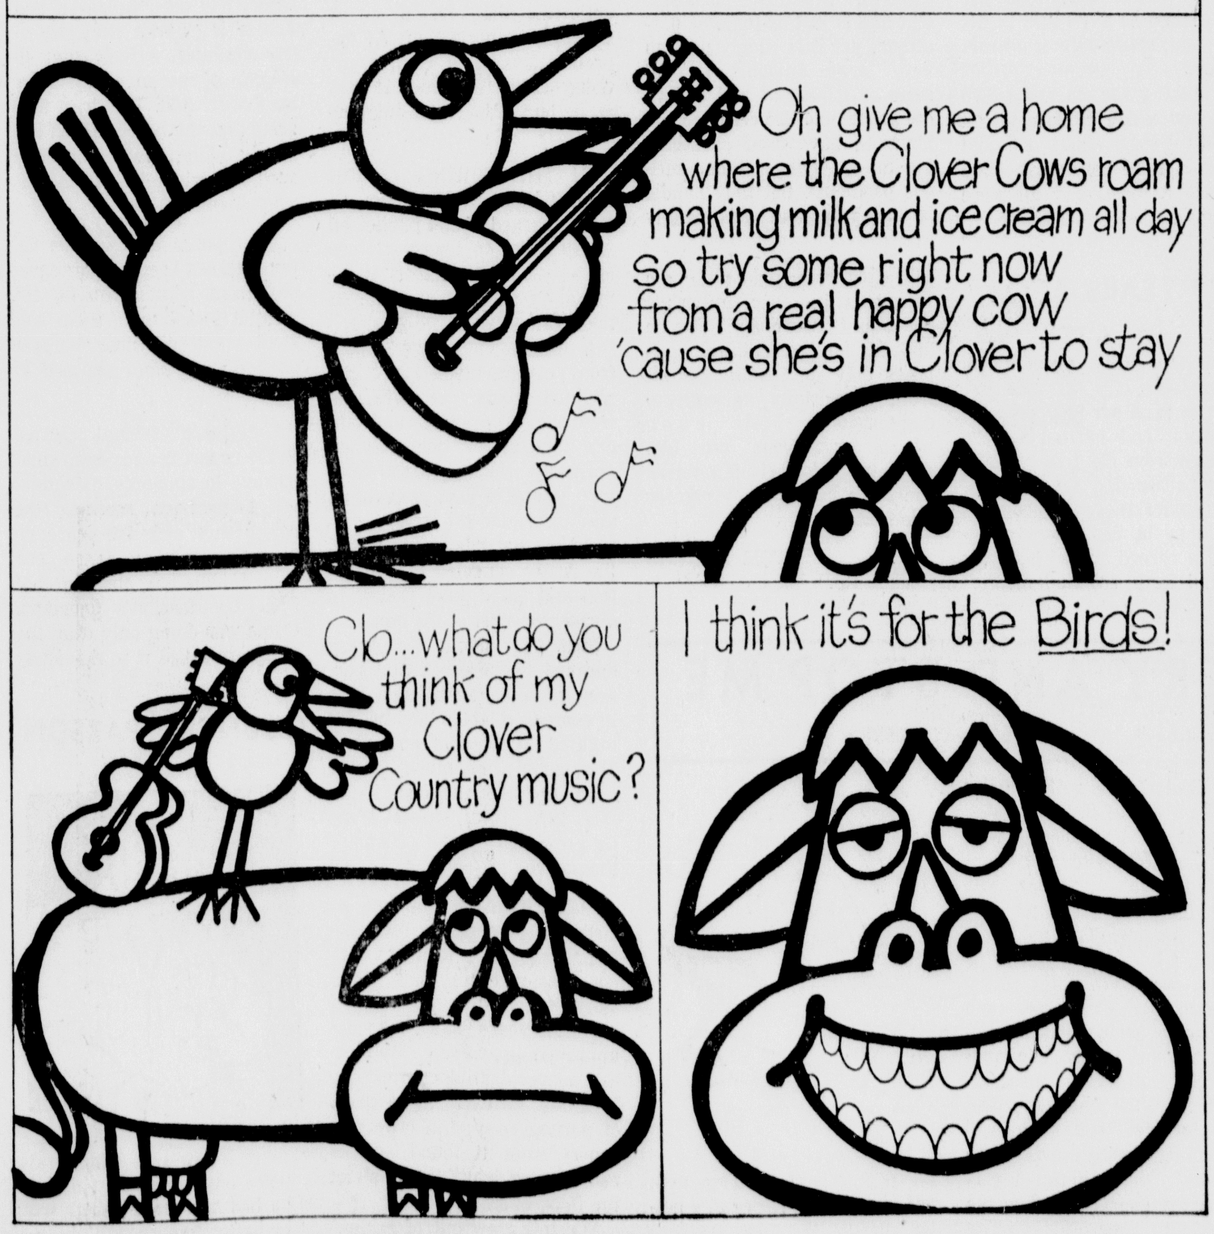

The nominating committee's choice for vice president, Dr. A. J. Brinckerhoff of Novato, declined the nomination because of poor health. He recently suffered a heart attack. Another nominee will be proposed at the election meeting, Oct. 1 at the Meadow Club above Fairfax.

Nominated for directors were Doctors Charles D. Daily of San Rafael and Mervyn F. Burke of Kentfield; for California Medical Association delegate, Dr. John R. Lee of Mill Valley; for alternate delegate, Dr. David J. Costanza of San Anselmo.

More Violence On Campus? Insurance Firms Think So

Will the resumption of school next week be followed soon by resumption of demonstrations, violence, vandalism?

We'd like to think it won't. But insurance companies, hard-headed about such things, are betting that it will.

University of California's premium for insurance covering its nine campuses last year was $200,000, with the first quarter-million dollars of damage to be born by the university itself. This year, the premium is $344,000, and the university must bear the first ONE MILLION DOLLARS itself.

LOCAL SCHOOLS have not reached the state where they must pay the first million, or even the first quarter-million, of damage costs themselves before an insurance company will write a comprehensive coverage policy. But coverage for the San Rafael city schools, which cost a $28,061 premium two years ago, went up to $45,911 this year. This is with the first $1,000 in each instance deductible, so does not cover the window breakage so common in school buildings.

According to a report by the Council of State Governments, insurance companies said campus losses from student violence were almost unknown a few years ago, but exceeded a million dollars a month last year, nationwide.

Student disorders in 43 cities during a single three-week period, last May 1-21, consumed 135,994 National Guard man-days — again according to the Council of State Governments. Costs of extra police and National Guard to quell campus violence ran into the millions in several states last year.

THIRTY-TWO legislatures this year passed laws dealing with campus unrest, the council reported.

The California Legislature, however, added only one law aimed directly at campus trouble: AB 2445 by Assemblyman Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, which makes refusal of a teacher to perform his regular assignment a cause for immediate suspension.

Killed in the Assembly Education Committee were AB 2204, which would have denied pay to a teacher who absented himself to participate in a strike; AB 633, which would have forbidden rehiring a teacher who "automatically resigned" under the five-day absence rule, and SB 634, which would have cancelled tenure of striking teachers. Teacher strikes at colleges have accompanied student violence quite frequently.

Killed in the Senate Education Committee were AB 92, which would have withheld state funds from districts for time lost through "willful action by employees," and SB 1197, which prescribed additional suspension for students repeatedly disciplined.

SB 1166, allowing a school administrative officer to declare an on campus state of emergency, died in Senate Judiciary. AB 2329, which would have made it a misdemeanor for anyone once ousted from campus to re-enter that campus within the school year, died on the inactive file. So did the "Angela Davis Bill," proposed Senate Constitutional Amendment 11,which would have prohibited employment by University of California of anyone advocating violent overthrow of the government.

California legislators, it appears, aren't betting the way the insurance companies are betting. We hope the legislators are right.

Vocational Education Trial May Give Schools New Look

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A little known bill, which could have a material effect on the future of education in California, was passed during the closing hours of the 1970 legislature. It so happens that the measure is not one dedicated to the whims and fancies of the educators, but essentially is designed to assist the high school and junior college student make a living.

The measure was by Assemblyman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee. It provides for an experiment of four years duration in a school district yet to be selected to develop an individualized instructional program that includes vocational education as a regular part of the curriculum.

SPEAKER BOB Monagan, lauding the purposes of the bill, says that no longer can a student depend on a high school diploma to qualify him for a job when he graduates. This, said Monagan, means new types of education for high schoolers. Career planning and career preparation have become as necessary in this generation, as were the three R's of a few years ago.

It is pointed out that of every five students in high school today, three will be working in some way after their high school graduation. The fourth will probably take a job within a year, and the fifth is the one expected to go on to college.

Despite these facts the secondary school primarily is oriented today to the college-bound student. Therefore the majority of students are ill-prepared to enter the working world when they get out of high school.

IT IS THIS vast majority of young people, along with an increasing number of adults whose jobs are displaced by automation and advancing technology, who pose one of society's major problems, and will continue to be an increasing problem unless some steps are taken to provide the means for this group to take care of itself.

This group can be reached through education for marketable skills at least partially, and this is the preparatory work Veysey anticipates in his legislation. It's time that the politicians start giving some thought to the future if they expect there will be any future.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Insecticide Perils May Be Over-Rated

Your editorial, "Saving the Environment," in the Sept. 1 issue quite properly observes that protection of the environment against contamination is not as simple as some people believe.

However, you make some statements in the editorial which need to be qualified or clarified.

DDT does, in fact, break down into harmless compounds, but the process takes some time, depending on a variety of conditions, and some portion of the residue may persist for several years.

While residues of DDT and its metabolites tend to build up in food chains, the accumulation process does not continue indefinitely . . .

So far as I know, the only field evidence linking DDT with harmful environmental effects is in connection with thin-sheiled eggs in the raptor group of birds. But there are some contradictions in the evidence on egg-thinning, which may also be caused by other compounds (such as the polychlorinated biphenyls) which are widely dispersed in the environment. And the available evidence does not explain why DDT should cause such an effect in some species and not in others.

All of this duscussion is, of course, somewhat academic because most registrations for use of DDT in this country have been cancelled and remaining uses are being phased out.

Replacement products (including parathion) are generally less satisfactory from several standpoints. But I think it necessary to make a further point about the toxicity hazards of parathion and some comparable materials. Parathion is a hazardous material, but it can be used without causing injury or death if proper precautions are followed. For all practical purposes, chlorine is just as toxic as parathion, yet it is widely used in very large amounts for all sorts of industrial and chemical processes. Experienced applicators have used parathion for many years without serious problems, but they handle it carefully and respectfully . . .

In California, parathion (along with other materials rated as "hazardous") can be applied for agricultural purposes only by specific permit from the county agricultural commissioner. And even where restrictions are less stringent, relatively few farms are likely to have any use for this material.

Reception We Receive Reflects Our Attitudes

(Reprinted from Vallejo Times-Herald)

If you really want to know why the young are so angry with society, try a little experiment, suggests John Holt, teacher and author of education-reform like "How Children Fail."

Let your hair grow long, or get a reasonably realistic wig. Dress in authentic hippie clothes. Get a little scruffy and dirty. Then walk about in the streets of whatever city you live in.

What you will see in the faces of a good many people, says Holt, is the thought, deeply felt and very clearly communicated, "If I could, I would kill you."

That's nothing. If you really want to encounter the look that kills, try this experiment: Rent a Gestapo uniform and walk down the streets of almost any city in Europe.

THIS IS CERTAINLY not to imply that hippies and Nazis have anything in common. In fact the one is total anathema to the other. It is only to suggest that in both cases the unfriendly looks of passersby would involve a bit more than an automatic reaction to somebody who is dressed differently.

One need not delve deeply into reasons. The sight of a scruffy and dirty hippie, whatever he may or may not symbolize to the viewer, is simply offensive to the eye and oppressive to the spirit, like an overflowing trash can on the sidewalk. The hippie, at his worst, is as much an insult to himself as to everyone who comes in contact with him.

Are disgust and fear and hate the only emotions people carry about them on the street, ready to express spontaneously?

Try another experiment:

GET A HAIRCUT (not necessarily short) and a shave (or a beard trim), if you are male, or a shampoo and hairset, if you are female. Dress in neat, clean clothes (not necessarily Ivy League or high fashion). Take off the sunglasses so people can see your eyes. Walk erectly and with a purposeful step. Don't stare but look candidly at people, with a smile ready to form on your lips.

What you will see in the faces of a good many people is the thought, deeply felt and very clearly communicated, "A good day to you, and how nice to see you,"

Sure there is no accounting for taste, and taste does change, but there is no pretending that such a thing as taste does not exist, either.

Of course, people should be free to dress as they please and be as scroungy as they please.

But before young people complain about the lack of love in the world, they should first take a long look in the mirror.

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — "By any criterion the civil rights record of the Nixon administration is better than any of its predecessors."

Skepticism was so great that not one bothered to demand: prove it.

We took Mitchell's statement as so challenging that it ought to be checked, not dismissed out of hand. We didn't set out to prove or disprove it, only to look at the facts. Here is what we found:

MONEY — The budgets of the civil rights division of the Justice Department for the last two fiscal years of the Johnson administration were $2.6 million and $3 million.

For the first two years of the Nixon administration they were $4,370,000 and $5,300,000.

STAFF — The number of Justice Department lawyers handling civil rights cases during the last two years of the Johnson administration was 105 and 116.

For the first two years of the Nixon administration it was 138 and 159.

CASES — During the last fiscal year of the Johnson administration 98 civil rights cases were filed. In fiscal 1969 the Nixon administration filed 145 civil rights cases and in fiscal 1970, 197 cases — or double the number of civil rights cases over 1968 involving school integration, fair housing, voting rights and equal employment opportunity.

Question: Were these expanded assets — money, manpower and case load — put to significant use?

SCHOOL DESEGREGATION — Prior to the 1969-70 school year only 5.2 per cent or 164,273 of the 3.1 million Negro public school students in 11 southern states had been in desegregated school systems.

At the opening of the 1970-71 school year, either as the result of court orders or voluntary agreements, 58.9 per cent or 1.8 million Negro children were in schools in desegregated systems.

More headway is imminent. As the result of new litigation plus the negotiating efforts of both Health, Education and Welfare and the Justice Department, it is a near certainty that 97 per cent or all but 7,000 of the 3.1 million southern black students will, within the next month, be attending school in desegregated systems.

More than 500 districts will be desegregated this fall — half at the direction of court orders and half as the result of HEW-Justice Department negotiations.

Through aggressive negotiation and litigation, it is accurate to say that the dual school system as it existed prior to the Supreme Court decision of 1954 is being eliminated.

PHILADELPHIA PLAN — This is the first co-ordinated federal attempt to remedy racial discrimination in construction unions where there has been extreme anti-Negro bias. It was fought by the unions and by some political liberals. It has been upheld by the courts and is opening up new job opportunities to minorities.

HOUSING — The civil rights division of the Justice Department is ulitizing the fair housing law to open up suburban housing to low-income blacks. It has been filing a nationwide network of suits to make houses, apartments and developments available to nonwhites to strike down obstacles to low-income housing and to prevent block-busting of stable neighborhoods by unscrupulous real estate firms.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, who heads the civil rights division, would undoubtedly agree that much remains to be done and that this record does not touch the racially discriminatory practices in the northern school districts which neither the courts nor any administration has begun to deal with effectively.

But when Attorney General Mitchell says the civil rights record of the Nixon administration bears favorable comparison with any of its predecessors, it is clear that he has a case which no public jury can lightly dismiss.

Nerve Gas, Pornography Have Lessons For Congress

By DANIEL RAPOPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pornography and nerve gas ought to have taught Congress a lesson —but probably haven't. Both subjects illustrate how Congress can become agitated over its own action or inaction.

For years, the House and Senate paid virtually no attention to the Pentagon's chemical and biological warfare program. It was one of those activities that rested on a standing authorization. At appropriations time each year, Congress got a chance to look at it, but little came out publicly.

IN THE SPRING of 1969 Rep. Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., learned of and publicized Army plans to transport tons of obsolete poison gas—including nerve gas—across the country for burial at sea.

A storm of protest arose from communities along the planned route, as well as from conservationists and others. Scores of congressmen normally friendly to the military joined in loud complaints and excoriated the Army.

Under that kind of pressure, the Army canceled the operation and found other means to dispose of most of the gas.

Just last month the Army dumped into the sea that portion of the nerve gas that it contended could not be detoxified at its southern sites. The burial took place despite more protests and criticism—this time from many Dixie congressmen who consider themselves pro-military.

PORNOGRAPHY is not so clear an example of congressional neglect turning into congressional ire, but it is working its way up.

Three years ago Congress approved legislation establishing a presidential commission to study virtually all aspects of pornography with orders to report what it found and to recommend what to do about the flood of smut.

The bill grew out of numerous complaints lawmakers were receiving from constitutents objecting to the increased availability of obscene materials. Congress, caught between pressure from home and court decisions blocking a crackdown, hoped to strike a blow against pornography with a commission.

THE COMMISSION has been working busily. A draft of its report has been prepared and makes it clear a majority of the commission feels that ill effects of pornography have been overrated. The draft suggests that the best solution lies in abolishing laws that deny such materials to adults who want them.

It proposes enacting or retaining laws keeping pornography from adults who do not want it thrust upon them and from children whose parents do not want them exposed to it.

Early congressional reaction to the report ranges from mild outrage to apoplexy. Lawmakers have been roasting the commission over the proverbial coals. As they do so, one cannot help but observe that the commission's principal crime was doing only what the Congress asked it to do—study

When a master plan for redevelopment of Tiburon's Hilarita site passed the city council on June 8, supporters of the ambitious project heaved sighs of relief.

The battle for permission to build 112 units of moderate income housing where the old World War II housing now stands had been a long one, and proponents looked forward to early completion of the development.

Now it appears that the battle is not over. Opponents — and there are quite a few — feel that the master plan approval was but a temporary setback. They have regrouped and are preparing for the final round — the precise plan stage.

THE SHOWDOWN will come late this year or early next, when the Tiburon Ecumenical Association, sponsor of the project, submits precise plans to the city.

Joining with the ecumenical association in support are some present residents of the project and other citizens who want moderate income housing in Tiburon.

Briefly, opponents argue that the 112 units are far too many for the site; that a citizens committee recommendation, in 1965, to which the city council agreed, called for no more than 56 units, and that the "mix" of units encourages large families, where the citizens committee urged a project intended for the elderly.

The ecumenical association, a coalition of four Tiburon churches, says that it needs 112 units to make the project economically feasible; that the 56-unit recommendation was just that — a recommendation, not a hard and fast rule, and that the critical housing shortage necessitates concentration of three and four-bedroom units.

THERE ARE OTHER issues, too. One Hilarita resident, Clarence O. Bullard, believes that much of the opposition is based on the possibility that large numbers of blacks and poor people will live there.

This is denied by three key opponents of the project: Herbert E. Wenig, owner of nearby property; Allan N. Littman, member of the city's planning commission, and City Councilman Branwell D. Fanning, who voted against the master plan approval.

In a letter to the city council on June 16, Fanning wrote: "I would personally prefer to see such housing scattered throughout the community so that it would not be an isolated pocket with all the social stigma which can develop."

Fanning also compared the future Hilarita with Marin City, and said the project "is going to breed great unhappiness among the citizens."

When the councilman voted against master plan approval on June 8, he said: "I don't want to see Tiburon acquire a ghetto that we'll have to live with for a long time."

This theme also was mentioned by Stewart W. Hopkins at the hearing. He said, "Tiburon needs an instant slum like it needs a hole in the head."

So the battle lines are drawn, with one side contending that the proposal will cram too many people into what was never intended to be an apartment development, and the other side maintaining that the count is in desperate need of moderate-income housing and that the strain on the community won't be that great.

New Chief For Laney College

Stein, 45, has been dean of student personnel services at Los Angeles City College.

Dr. Morena resigned to become assistant superintendent of administration at the City College of San Francisco.

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fusselman

Why will some individuals lead with their chins time after time? The front page article in the Tuesday I-J: "Marin Safety Employees In 11th Hour Wage Hike Plea." The employees, representative addressed the supervisors.

"Our salaries are below all Bay Area sheriffs' departments in basic salary . . . The average pay in the Bay Area is $922 per month, and a 10 per cent raise for deputies would bring their pay to $984."

He said Marin firemen work 96 hours per week, whereas the hours in all other counties in the state are 72 per week, except for one instance of 84 hours.

IN REPLY the chairman of the board, doing the chin-leading act, said he realizes that county safety workers should have some pay differential, but the county must rely on its negotiating team since that is the procedure agreed upon by both sides. He urged the safety employees' negotiating team to continue talking with the county team in an effort to reach an agreement.

That little speech is probably the most illuminating one that ever came out of the Brasilia smog. Yes, again, who does run the store?

Meeting after meeting the agenda lists a closed-door meeting with the county team to give it instructions. Who does he think he is kidding? What kind of hoo-mali-mali is he peddling? Bruce heads up the team.

QUESTION: Does the board really give him the instructions or is it the other way around?

Is the chairman saying that the board will rubber stamp whatever is brought in? Is the board once again abdicating its responsibility? Is this a cop-out with the board staying aloof from the whole matter?

Do you know how the negotiations are carried out? Well, give a listen. Each side is locked in a separate room and the mediator runs back and forth from one to the other. How is that for playing games?

Who has brought about such polarization? One man and his two assistants. As I said last week, the employees are completely resentful of him even though Supervisor Michael Wornum thinks Alan Bruce is a valuable man and must be properly "recompensed."

IN READING OVER last week's column, it seemed to me that you would be interested in some elaboration of the saga of Bruce's pay.

What follows is that elaboration, starting with his employment on March 1, 1957 as assistant administrator. December 1, 1960, when the boss quit, he was moved up to that job.

The figures are for salary and fringe benefits annually.

March 1, 1957 — $9,701.40

December 1, 1960 — $12,834.00

During those three years as assistant, he maneuvered (as per the schedule in last week's column) to a final increase of $3,130.60 per year.

Dec. 1, 1960 (as administrator) $14,835.00

June 30, 1964 — $18,630. Again with constant increases he worked it up during this four years and seven months until he had achieved an increase of $3,795.

Jan. 1, 1965, came the big raise to $24,150 — an annual increase of $5,520.

July 1, 1969 — $32,210 — In four and one-half years to an annual boost of $8,060.

He will receive on Jan. 1, 1971 a raise of $1,610.50 (5 per cent) to a total of $33,820.50.

This all means that since he started he has increased his annual salary and fringe benefits $24,119.

Does he or doesn't he run the county?

Jerry Lewis To Lead Muscular Dystrophy Show

Entertainer Jerry Lewis will conduct a telethon Sunday evening and all day Monday to raise funds to combat muscular dystrophy.

Jack Carney of Ross will be master of ceremonies for the local coverage, reported Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael, telethon chairman in Marin and Sonoma County. The television show will start at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, on Channel 44.

The Marin Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America has set Sunday and Monday to focus attention on the disease and to solicit funds.

Business Firm Seeking Woman

A San Lorenzo firm is seeking information about Cecile Levy, whose last known address was at 56 Bell Avenue, Fairfax, about 1958. She is entitled to some unclaimed money, according to the firm which left the amount unspecified.

Anyone having information of her whereabouts or names or addresses of her relatives or friends should notify the firm of Raymond T. O'Malley of P.O. Box 157, San Lorenzo.

If she has died, the firm would like to know when and where she died, if she had heirs or an estate.

Another Plea Of Innocent On Pot Count

Michael Dennis Giammarese, 24, of San Rafael yesterday pleaded innocent for the second time in Marin Municipal Court to charges of growing and possessing marijuana May 12 in his 49 Harbor Street apartment.

Giammarese, who is also known as Michael Dennis McLeod, previously pleaded innocent to the charges, but they were dismissed July 6 when the district attorney was not ready to move the case and later refiled.

Giammarese was arrested after a police officer notted a suspected marijuana plant growing in Giammarese's window. When police entered the apartment, they found two plants allegedly marijuana and found a plastic bag of vegetable matter in his pocket.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. set Sept. 14 for a preliminary hearing on the case.

Marin Rights Group To Postpone Meeting

The regular meeting of the Marin Human Rights Commission will be postponed from next Thursday until 8 P.M., Sept. 17, in the Board of Supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Chairman James Quiett said next week's meeting was put over because several commissioners are out of county, either on vacation or on business.

Headline Wrong

A headline in yesterday's Independent-Journal erred in reporting the correct plea in the marijuana case of Alfred Louis Citos, 27, of Sausalito. It should have read "innocent" instead of "guilty."

Trustees Say Creek Work Rendering College Unsafe

Marin Community College District trustees charged last night the College of Marin campus isn't ready to open because of unsafe conditions created by the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project.

With the scheduled opening less than a week away and the campus reportedly hazardous, trustees armed administrators with two emergency powers to use if necessary.

They voted that if need be, the district should undertake emergency corrective work itself and take legal action against the contractor, J B and C Co. of Arizona, and the Army Corps of Engineers to insure safety.

Supt.-President John A. Grasham explained these steps would be taken only if necessary to enforce safety measures and have the college on an operating basis by the scheduled opening Thursday.

Trustees labeled the creek project through the campus a "sloppy job" and a "fiasco," and doubted that the contractor could correct the unsafe conditions before opening day.

Board president Elizabeth M. Deedy said she had "seldom seen a worse construction job going anywhere," and Trustee Robert E. Rogers said he was concerned about the "sloppy engineering procedures being used."

The board was dismayed as Planning Director Dale A. Fleming read a list of unsafe conditions he said had to be remedied before the opening of the college.

The list included unsafe conditions along the construction channel, a broken fire loop and absence of adequate water service to the College Center and an unsafe and unusable parking lot; hazards that would be corrected by the district if necessary.

Listed in the resolution calling for legal action if necessary to have the contractor and the corps of engineers take whatever measures needed to insure safety were:

Unsafe approach to the Data Process Building, unstable power pole next to the Data Process Building, a broken power pole adjacent to the Student Personnel Building, unstable approaches to the temporary pedestrian bridge across the creek, inadequate barricades, debris, hazardous traffic flow and inadequate lighting of the construction site.

Trustees experssed concern about the safety of the temporary pedestrian bridge and Fleming said it was adequate if the traffic was "static."

Trustee Donald K. Felt had doubts about college students being "static" and asserted: "I think we're entitled to a really safe bridge."

Mrs. Deedy said the district staff has spent many hours trying to correct the deficiencies, and Trustee Charles W. Gray said it was the obligation of the Army, since it was their project.

Trustees agreed to invite Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, to inspect the site.

They voted to ask the Marin County Flood Control District to provide a safety patrol during all hours of student occupancy, day and night, for 30 days starting Thursday.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers proposed the patrol saying, "I'd be alarmed if one student fell into a hole dug at three in the afternoon and no one knew until they found the student in it the next morning."

The board also voted that the district shall seek reimbursement for any money it might spend on emergency work, the proposed legal action or the proposed safety patrol.

Fleming also reported a series of contract violations by the contractor such as trespassing on college property, trucks driving where they weren't supposed to drive, lack of cleanup of debris, lack of warning signs, greater use of college utilities than agreed upon, property damage to the campus, and improper employee parking.

North Campus Plans To State Panel Next

The next hurdle for the Marin Community College District's plans for a north campus at Novato is the state Coordinating Council of Higher Education.

Supt. President John A. Grasham reported to trustees last night that the district's plans will be before the council next Thursday in Sacramento.

The district plans a north campus for 5,000 students, with the first phase to accommodate 2,200 whereas the council's policy calls for 10,000 capacity Grasham explaind.

"We still have the potential issue of size," he advised trustees.

Council approval is needed if the college is to qualify for state funds.

Grasham, board president Elizabeth M. Deedy, Planning Director Dale A. Fleming and possibly other trustees are scheduled to appear before the council to support the district's plan for a north college.

Trustees also authorized formation of a committee to coordinate its campaign for a $17 million bond measure to complete construction at the Kentfield campus and build the first phase of the north campus and replacement of the present 35-cent construction tax rate with a 25-cent increase in the operating tax rate.

Both propositions will be before the voters Nov. 3. The coordinating committee will be composed of trustees, administrators, faculty members, nonteaching employees, students and residents.

The Marin Community College Board Also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Sara Shea, library clerk 1, who was on leave.

HIRED — Hired Virginia B. Smith as library clerk 1, at $486 a month, and Patricia Grey Eichhorn as switchboard operator at $536 a month.

LAND SALE — Approved an agreement on the sale of .14 acres in the "oxbow" bend of Corte Madera Creek to the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

CALENDAR CHANGE — Changed the school calendar to conform to a recent change by the state, designating as holidays, Lincoln Day Feb. 12, and Washington Day Feb. 15.

EDUCATION PROGRAM — Authorized application for federal funds for "cooperative education" program, whereby students alternate periods of academic study with periods of off-campus employment, with specific plans subject to board approval.

POLICY — Approved revisions to the policy on community use of district property, including a provision that when events are held which support out-of-district activities, the district shall receive 40 per cent of the gross or the rental fee, whichever is larger.

ENROLLMENT — Received a report from Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, that fall enrollment as of 3 p.m. yesterday was 5,755 as compared to 5,545 in the fall of 1969, and is expected to reach from 5,900 to 6,000.

THEATER PRAISED — Commended the College of Marin Drama Department for its Greek theater program during the summer, which drew much favorable comment from playgoers and critics.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until a special session Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Testing Office to discuss the Golden Gate Bridge Corridor Study and art facilities, with the next regular meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. Sept. 17 at Olney Hall.

Idea Canvassing Half Completed

Directors of the Enchanted Knolls Homeowners Association, canvassing their area for new members and suggestions on how the group can help them, have been told that their job is about half done.

President Robert B. Rankin told the board Wednesday that about 12 new members have joined the association as a result of the drive. The group also has received several suggestions, which "we are checking out," Rankin said.

The board also welcomed new director Robert E. Murphy, of 40 Keats Drive, and renewed its efforts to fill the remaining vacancy on the panel.

Seven Indicted On Murder Count

CHICAGO (UPI) — Seven members of the Black P Stone nation, including four of its top leaders, have been indicted for the murder of policeman James A. Alfano Jr.

The indictments handed up Thursday also charged the seven suspects with conspiracy to murder Chicago policemen.

The suspects were identified as Elton Wicks, 20; Dennis Griffin, 21; Lamar Bell, 26; Charles Bey, 25; Lee Jackson, 26; William Troope, 22; and Tony Carter, 17.

Thursday night, a powder bomb exploded on the porch behind the apartment of Bey's mother, Mrs. Dolores Bey. She told police she did not know who had done it. She said her son never had been in the apartment, police said.

The bomb broke a railing and three windows. Police said they had no clues.

Proposed Pacts For Canal Are Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., plans to introduce legislation next week to allow the FBI to enter all cases where a policemen is killed 24 hours after the crime.

Williams said the legislation would be similar to the "Lindbergh Law" which permits the FBI to enter all kidnap cases after 24 hours on the assumption that the person who committed the crime has crossed state lines and is subject to federal jurisdiction.

GETTING IT TOGETHER FOR FALL '70

This fall's fashion scope is more perplexing and puzzling than most. The hemline debate has caused shoppers to halt in their tracks and walk through stores in a daze. The total look will also include changes in hair styles, shoes and hats. Simplicity is the key to the hair fashion, left, presented by the California Hair Fashion Committee. Hair is given a soft, fluid movement with large soft waves. There is very little height at the crown, to conform to the new small head look. Notice the pouf curl in front of the model's ear. Shoe fashions, center, from left, include the long look of the stocking boot in shimmering gold lame, a boot to walk with the midi in shiny black calf with nail heads on the side and for lean, lanky, lowdown skirts an oxford in shiny patent reptile. The crochet cloche, right, is a popular head cover for fall .

She's On Stage With A Cause

London Express Service

They are unlikely to ever find a place in a book of quotations, but coming from the woman who was the dynamo behind the revolution in the British theater in the 'fifties, these words are worth savoring.

"I'm not really interested in theater. I'm only interested in social change. I don't know what we are doing up here supporting Lord Harewood in this sort of rubbish. . We are just really a shower of bums. We came up here for a good holiday."

The unlikely occasion for those remarks was the Edinburg Festival of 1964. The woman who made them — Joan Littlewood, artistic director of Theatre Workshop — had been officially invited to present a production.

On another occasion:

"They offered me the Order of British Empire. I told them what to do with it!"

Shakespeare? "Bill weren't a bad old hack."

Herself? "I'm a saboteur of culture."

This from the woman who gave the theater such international smash hits as "Fings Ain't Wot They Used T'Be," "A Taste of Honey" and "Oh, What a Lovely War." The woman whose constant battles with the British censor played no small part in the recent reduction of his power. The woman who rebelled against the established West End theater so successfully, that her style became the new establishment and she became a winner of international prizes for drama, a cult hero of the theatrical world.

Twice, when she found herself caught in the trap of fame and commercial success she got out for long spells of restless globe trotting.

BUT NOW she is back at the Theatre Royal, Stratford.

At the Stratford that nestles peacefully on the banks of the River Avon and the works of William Shakespeare.

The other Stratford — the one that peers out on life through the smoke and grime of London's East End.

The starting point for her great triumphs of the 'fifties and 'sixties will open next month on a new production "Forward — For A Better Tomorrow." It is a sort of documentary - cum - musical - cum-comedy about contemporary life in Birmingham. By curious chance the title was the Conservative Party's slogan during the summer election in Britain.

To be sure, left wing politics have never been far from Joan's contemporary productions. As one critic wrote amidst superlatives, "I wish they didn't have to drag that political margarine - box - on-wheels behind them all the time." He was reviewing a production of Ben Jonson's "Volpone" at the time.

BUT FOR Littlewood, theater and her campaign for social change are inseparable. The stage is the battleground for her revolution — a fact that enraged critics and organizers at the Edinburgh Festival when she portrayed Hotspur in Henry IV as a sort of anti-war protester. Critics don't like Shakespeare being messed about.

But this is what Littlewood is all about.

She seeks relevance in classic works, not reverence. Her methods are equally revolutionary. With modern plays, one of her techniques is to use the new script as raw material and fit it into the production by a lot of heavy cutting and rewriting in rehearsal.

Rebellion started early in life for Joan Maudie Littlewood, born of working class parents in South London fifty odd years ago.

Her parents scraped to send her to a convent, and there the nuns wanted her to get a scholarship to a university.

"I WOULDN'T go. Instead I got a grant to study painting in Paris." But Paris didn't suit her and within a year she was back in England studying at the famous Royal Academy of Dramatic Art on an eleven shillings ($1.50) a week council grant, living in a disused bathroom in Soho. She did a bit of charring to earn enough to eat.

Ironically, the woman who was to kill for once and for all the French-windows/"Anyone for tennis?" style of acting was awarded a RADA gold medal.

Again Littlewood rebelled.

"There were hunger marches outside and inside were girls being taught to play this tennis club stuff," she says.

So she went on the road, walked to Manchester and there founded Theatre Union which toured the north, staging plays by Shakespeare, Brecht and Lope de Vega. They played in miners' clubs, on the steps of public baths and on the back of their old lorry. Five wasn't an unusual audience. But Joan had found what she wanted to do. She had the basis of a "British People's Theatre" — she saw herself, and still does, as a working class woman out to entertain working class audiences. She wanted to give them fun. And if the play had to be cut or altered to do this, Joan wouldn't hesitate to do it.

THEN CAME war and five of her company were killed. The other five came back, pooled their gratuities, bought the necessary equipment and went on tour again. Once more, the productions were reckoned to the brilliant — the audiences poor. They toured Czechoslovakia and Sweden and went, uninvited to play at the Edinburgh Festival. They toured the Welsh coal mines and entertained strikers. Money was scarce. Actors printed tickets and programs and one year, when their lorry broke down, they had to hitchhike, to complete their tour.

In the same year they were invited to perform at the Royal Opera House in Stockholm. Yet a year later they were working on a farm to earn enough money to stage another production back in England.

In 1953 Littlewood's Theatre Workshop left the north and moved into Stratford to a derelict theater that had been used for striptease and a disinterested neighborhood.

They played to near empty houses for two years before success came in the form of three big hits and an invitation to the Paris International Theatre Festival where they were acclaimed with rapture.

But success turned sour for Miss Littlewood. Her company began to play to packed houses back in Stratford — but to houses mainly made up by West End audiences who made a "pilgrimage" to the East End. Workshop coined money as hit after hit transferred to the West End —but with each hit went a number of actors on whom the company's style and brilliance had been built up.

MISS LITTLEWOOD did not blame them.

"After all, we could only afford to pay them fifteen quid a week top wack," she says.

But she probably hated her success, for she was no longer fulfilling her ideal to serve a single community —the local East Enders — and above all, she had no freedom to fail.

In 1961 she left Stratford for two years, partly because she wasn't allowed more time to rehearse a play to whose second night Princess Margaret had accepted an invitation.

She travelled and worked in Africa and returned to make her film "Sparrers Can't Sing" and stage her most triumphant success "Oh, What a Lovely War."

It seems that that hit persuaded her more than ever that she was caught in the theater's trap of fame and with her plans to build a giant fun palace — a huge entertainment center for the East End —thwarted through lack of official support, she went off again, this time roaming and teaching in places as far apart as New Delhi and Chicago.

SHE RETURNED to stage "MacBird" and the big success "Mrs. Wilson's Diary" after another round of battles with the Lord Chancellor and then went off again to make a film in India.

She also worked in the East End and became something of a St. Joan to Cockney children.

"What sort of life do they get in these slums?" she asked when curious reporters went to see her at work in what have now been called Adventure Playgrounds. They were simply bomb sites around the theater which she cleared of rubble so the kids could play

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

By MOLLY MARIN

Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy and Switzerland were the scenes of many exciting experiences for Mrs. Roy Sorenson, who has just returned to Sausalito from a United Church Tour on which she was accompanied by her 14-year-old grandson, Peter Roy Sorenson of Woodside.

The first part of their trip from New York included a stop at Munich, Garmisch, in the Bavarian Alps before they went to Oberammergau. There Mrs. Sorenson reports that the Passion Play held them spellbound for five and a half hours as they lived the ancient drama with 6,000 other persons who jammed the theater.

After visiting East and West Germany they flew to Leningrad, where Mrs. Sorenson was surprised to find the well prepared girl guides ready to answer even questions on the belief in God. A friendly old peasant woman guided them through a tour of the Alexander Nevsky Monastery, where they were impressed with the icons and the reverent crowds of peasants and older persons at mass. In Russia they also visited Moscow with its many attractions for tourists.

Returning to Berlin, they went on to Frankfurt and Heidelberg before going on to Lucerne, Lichtenstein and Innsbruck.

In Italy highlights were Venice, Rome and Florence. There they had dinner with Barbara Salomon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice S. Salomon of Sausalito, who is a student at the Stanford-in-Italy campus in Florence.

Mrs. Sorenson and Peter returned to this country from Geneva.

THEIR GOLDEN wedding anniversary was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Simon Pericou of Richmond at a party Sunday at the San Rafael home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Martens. Mrs. Pericou is the former Alice Bergue who was born in Fairfax. The couple were married Aug. 28, 1920, and lived in Marin until they moved to Richmond many years ago.

The party was attended by some 20 family members and friends.

DR. AND MRS. Robert D. Dunbar, recently married at the home of friends in Laguna Beach, are living in Kentfield.

The bride, who is the former Mrs. Josephine Reid of Fairfax, is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph LoCoco of San Francisco and the late Mr. LoCoco.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR SAID DISTRICT TO INCUR A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS IN THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF $11,500,000 FOR THE PURPOSE OF THE ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION AND COMPLETION OF IMPROVEMENTS TO THE DISTRICT'S WATERWORKS SYSTEM; CALLING A SPECIAL DISTRICT BOND ELECTION IN SAID DISTRICT FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF SAID DISTRICT THE MEASURE OF INCURRING SAID INDEBTEDNESS BY THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF SAID DISTRICT; STATING SAID MEASURE AND THE PURPOSE FOR WHICH SAID PROPOSED INDEBTEDNESS IS TO BE INCURRED, THE AMOUNT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF SAID INDEBTEDNESS, THE MAXIMUM TERM THE BONDS PROPOSED TO BE ISSUED SHALL RUN BEFORE MATURITY, AND THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST TO BE PAID THEREON; MAKING PROVISION FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF TAXES; AND FIXING THE DATE OF SAID ELECTION, PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME AND FOR NOTICE THEREOF, AND CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL DISTRICT BOND ELECTION WITH THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA GENERAL ELECTION TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 3, 1970.

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") has required its General Manager and Chief Engineer to file with the board the following reports: (1) "District Improvement Report, 1970-1980" dated December, 1969, (2) "District Improvement Report, 1970-1974" dated July, 1970, (3) "Marin Aqueduct Section I" dated September, 1969, (4) "Marin Aqueduct Section II" dated February, 1970 and (5) "Russian River Water Plan" dated 1969 (including Section B thereof entitled "Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct"), including in said reports described in the foregoing clauses (1) to (4), inclusive, estimates of the costs of the proposed improvements therein described and estimates of the bonded indebtedness required therefor and said General Manager and Chief Engineer has filed with the board said reports which have heretofore been and are hereby approved by the board and said reports show that the estimated costs of the proposed improvements hereinafter described (being portions of the improvements described in said reports) is $11,500,000 and that said estimated costs shall be financed by a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $11,500,000;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

Section 1. The board deems it necessary and hereby declares the necessity for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $11,500,000 for the purposes described in the measure hereinafter set forth in Section 2.

Section 2. A special district bond election (the "election") shall be held and the same is hereby called and ordered to be held in the district on Tuesday, the 3rd day of November, 1970, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the district the measure of incurring a bonded indebtedness of the district in the amount and for the purposes set forth in the following measure (the "measure"), to wit:

MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT BOND MEASURE

MEASURE: (Water System Improvements) Shall Marin Municipal Water District incur a bonded indebtness in the principal amount of $11,500,000 for acquisition, construction and completion of improvements to the district's waterworks system comprising facilities for water supply, transmission and distribution, including (a) Marin Aqueduct from Novato to Hamilton Field together with pipes, connections, pump stations and storage reservoir; (b) distribution system improvements, including replacement and addition of transmission and distribution mains and of storage tanks and pumps, and treatment plant and control system improvements; (c) lands, easements and rights-of-way; (d) expenses of proceedings for the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds; and (e) other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for said improvements?	YES
	NO

Section 3. The amount of the bonded indebtedness to be incurred for the purposes set forth in the measure is the principal sum of $11,500,000; the maximum term the bonds or any series thereof proposed to be issued shall run before maturity shall be forty (40) years after the date of issuance of such bonds or series thereof; and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said bonds shall not exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, payable semiannually (except that interest for the first year may be payable at the end of that year). If the majority of the votes required by law cast at the election are in favor of and assent to the incurring of said bonded indebtedness, then the board shall, by resolution, at such time or times as it deems proper, issue bonds of the district for the whole or any part of said bonded indebtedness so authorized and may from time to time provide for the issuance of such amounts of bonds as the necessity thereof may appear, until the full amount of such bonds authorized shall have been issued. Said full amount of bonds may be divided into two or more series and different dates fixed for the bonds of each series. The maximum term which the bonds of any series shall run before maturity shall not exceed forty (40) years from the date of each series respectively.

Section 4.

(a) The board does hereby submit the measure to the qualified voters of the district at the election and designates and refers to the measure as the measure to be set forth in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at the election.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as provided herein and in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911 (the "law"), and in all particulars not recited in this resolution or provided in the law, the election shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(e) The election shall be and is hereby consolidated with the State of California General Election to be held in the district on the 3rd day of November, 1970, pursuant to law, and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the area of the district for the election shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County for said General Election and set forth or to be set forth in the notice of election officers and polling places for said General Election published or to be published by the County Clerk of said County, as required by law, to which notice reference is hereby specifically made for the designation of the precincts, polling places and officers of the election; provided, however, that no person not a qualified elector of the district shall be permitted to vote at the election. The Board of Supervisors of Marin County is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect of the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said General Election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. Each voter to vote for the measure and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (+) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" on the ballot to the right of the measure and to vote against the measure and against incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (+) in the blank space opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of the measure; except that if and to the extent that Votomatic ballot cards are used at said elections, each voter to vote for the measure and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the measure, and to vote against the measure and against incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (+) may be marked with pen or pencil; except that if and to the extent that Votronic ballots are provided for absent voters, each absent voter shall stamp a mark (.) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" or opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall likewise be canvassed or caused to be canvassed by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein and in the law. The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

Section 5. Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: If the revenues of the district are or in the judgment of the board will probably be inadequate for any cause to pay the principal of or interest on said bonded debt as it becomes due, the board shall cause a tax to be levied, as provided in the law, sufficient to provide for such deficit and to pay the amount of such principal and interest as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available. The board shall annually determine the amounts necessary to be raised by taxation as aforesaid during each fiscal year and shall fix the rate or rates of tax to be levied which will raise the amounts of money required by the district, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the Board of Supervisors of Marin County is required by law to fix its tax rate, the board shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County the rate or rates so fixed and shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County a statement in writing containing the following: (a) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonded debt of the district as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; and (b) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the district. The board shall direct that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, said Board of Supervisors of Marin County shall levy, in addition to such other tax as may be levied by such Board of Supervisors at the rate or rates so fixed by the board, a tax upon the property within the district, and it shall be the duty of said Board of Supervisors to levy the tax as required. The board hereby determines that all taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be levied upon all taxable property within the district. Said tax shall be collected at the same time, form and manner as other county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be paid to the district. All taxes for the payment of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be a lien on all property within the district taxable for district purposes, all of which said property is hereby stated by the board to be benefited by said bonded indebtness. All taxes for the district shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Interest on any of said bonds issued by the district and coming due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy after the sale of said bonds are available and interest on any of said bonds coming due before the expiration of one year following completion of the acquisition and construction of the works and improvements for which said bonds were issued may be paid from the proceeds of sale of said bonds.

Section 6. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need be given.

Section 7. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 13th day of August, 1970, by the following vote:

MR. AND MRS. MARK LOEGERING

Linda McDonald Bride In Novato

Linda McDonald and Mark Loegering, both of Novato, were married Saturday at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato.

Mary Bremner was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's brother, Steve Loegering, served as best man. Guests were ushered to their seats by Richard Whisenhunt. All are residents of Novato.

A reception was held at Cloud Five restaurant in Novato.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McDonald of Novato. She was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin. Teralee McDonald of Novato and Mrs. John Robbins of Ruth are her sisters, and she is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Vickers of Oakland and Mrs. Anna McDonald of Novato. Prior to her marriage Linda was employed by Mack Photo Service in San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Loegering of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is also a graduate of Novato High School and also attended College of Marin. His sisters are Patty, Lisa and Terri Loegering. He is in the Army.

The couple will live in Baltimore, Md.

on them. She bought a warehouse for them to play in, encouraged them to read books and discussed them and let them act out their own improvised plays in her theater.

And now she is at work rehearsing in the theater herself. She has also been invited to direct a play at the French Theatre National Populaire's Anglo-Saxon season — scene of Theatre Workshop's first impact 15 years ago. She will be directing in French.

"It's not the first time I've directed in a foreign language," she says ruefully. "I did two seasons with a multilingual group, speaking English, French and Arabic at a cultural center in Lunisia."

ON BEING BLACK

How Parents Can Help Teacher

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

DEAR PARENTS:

In a recent meeting with a group of dedicated black schoolteachers we discussed some the contemporary barrage of criticism that ers during the school year. We acknowledged of the problems that have and will face teachhas been levied upon teachers and sought to come up with solutions to some of the problems present in the innercity schools.

A major concern emerging from the discussion was the profound lack of parental cooperation and participation in the overwhelming, yet all-important task of educating our children.

Now, if you're a somewhat defensive parent, and many of us are, you're initially going to say, "Well, what are parents supposed to do? It's the teacher's job to teach — that's why we send our child to school."

INDEED, EVEN on a nonacademic basis, there is much that parents can and should do to aid and abet learning in the classroom.

For starters, you can put your child to bed at a decent hour in the evening. When he's been watching television all hours of the night, the next day, if he gets to school at all, he sleeps the entire morning away in the classroom. If he's not out cold, he's irritable, groggy and inattentive. Learning cannot take place for him. Turn off the television and see that it stays off.

And, you can make sure your child is bathed and has clean clothing to wear to school. It's not enough to send children to take care of these tasks; they need supervision and help. You say you don't have many clothes? All the more reason to take care of what you've got. Help your child to wash out his few pieces in the evening. This will save him from the embarrassment of being unclean.

Then there's breakfast. You can feed your child in the morning. You say you're on welfare and have limited food money? Well, a bowl of oatmeal covered with canned milk costs about the same price, and is more nutritious than that bottle of orange soda and bag of potato chips that your child picks up on the way to school. The difference, of course, is that you have to 'get-on-up' and prepare the oatmeal for him. Well?

On the nights of Open House or parent-teacher conferences, you don't show because you've been working all day and you're tired? Well, after living all day, most of us are tired — you're in the majority this time. In our present situation we black parents simply don't have a choice — we can't afford not to go to school and see about our children.

ANOTHER POPULAR warning coming from you is "nobody better put their hands on my kid." Okay. If your child has been properly controlled, guided and disciplined at home, there will be no need for him to be admonished in the classroom. But, do you dare to send your child off in the care of another individual or institution for eight hours a day and expect him to be subject to no discipline and no guidance?

Children are children. And they need and want guidance and discipline. They must have it to learn. And remember, your child is just one of 30 children in a classroom. Can you imagine having 30 children at home with you all day and not imposing some direction and organization upon them?

You say your child doesn't like his teacher or the teacher doesn't like him? Well, your child doesn't have to like his teacher. Still it is incumbent upon you to encourage your child to respect the teacher's expertise and position. There may be a few rotten apples (teachers) in the barrel, but by and large, teachers are a dedicated and vitally necessary group of individuals. And, as adults, we must respect their expertise and support them in every way possible.

The fact of the matter is, as a group, we blacks are still lagging behind in our society. And, education is certainly one of our greatest tools for competing and ultimately bridging this gap. Our children must go to school. They must learn. We must help them.

When your child comes home from school today, just look at him or her. Beautiful, right? Resolve this year to give him every opportunity, at the expense of personal inconvenience, to stand tall with that up-coming generation that promises to be the hope of our planet.

HELEN HELP US!

Squash Ugly Rumors So They Don't Return To Haunt You

DEAR HELEN:

During the holidays our 16-year-old daughter met a boy on leave from the Army. They dated steadily for nine days, met each other's families, attended church together, and he asked her to keep his class ring.

He sent her a few gifts, and told her he was saving up to buy her a set of rings. We didn't approve of this, so they decided to wait until he got home and they knew each other better.

Then last month his mother called, very angry, to demand all his gifts and his class ring back. She even wanted the letters her son had sent our daughter.

The other day I found out why. It seems she had heard that our Cynthia was pregnant. I don't know how this rumor started but it is definitely untrue. Cynthia hasn't even dated since the boy left, nor has she been to a doctor.

I want to call this woman and tell her how unfair she is to believe without checking, but evidently it runs in the family, for Cynthia has now received a letter from Vietnam saying they were through.

Should I explode or keep quiet and be glad Cynthia does not seem crushed? — UPSET MOM

DEAR MOM:

I'd explode in a coldly quiet way, and keep on being glad Cynthia has outgrown the boy. If you don't squash rumors, get them out in the open and stomp 'em or they may rise up to haunt you later on. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My church is not my church anymore. It voted to exclude a Negro family (the man is a sociologist, his wife a teacher) from membership. "Of course it's not bigotry," they were quick to explain. "Just that these folks would feel out of place."

One woman in particular belittles me for dropping out each time we meet. She thinks her stuffy Sunday-Christians are the only ones headed for Heaven. Could you give me something good and cutting to say to her? — WANTING A COMEBACK

DEAR WANTING:

"Cutting" isn't Christian, but if you must, how about: "Your church reminds me of divinity fudge: All whites and full of nuts." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Whatever makes "Really Burning" think her generation has some corner on anti-litter consciences? Boy, I wish she could see the yards and streets around our schools, strewn with garbage, cans, and broken bottles — it makes Vietnam look like Bali Hai.

I just picked up debris thrown out by a kid in a car, and I take big fat issue with her finky brand of buck-passing. There is something so phony — and sad — about all that "generation" rap. Big problems get cliche-ed to death before they have a chance to be solved. If any generation must be indicted for the pollution problem, the young will be hanging right in there too. Face it, the mess-mongers on this old globe come in all sizes, ages and colors. Try attacking problems instead of insulting people, R.B., and you'll be staggered at how many sizes, etc. are swinging in there with you. — A BIT SCORCHED MYSELF.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Christmas Cards Offered By The Marin Heart Assn.

Four original and exclusively designed Christmas cards are offered for the 1970 holiday season by the Marin County Heart Association.

In his two new designs, Al Tolf, San Francisco artist, creates San Francisco scenes, one an Aquatic Park setting with Coit Tower and Golden Gate Bridge and the other a satellite depicting San Francisco in space.

Contributions support heart research programs —a total of $242,000 in projects is now being conducted at Bay Area Research institutions alone.

Christmas cards may be ordered from the Marin County Heart Association, San Rafael. A notation on the inside of each card denotes that "proceeds from cards are used to further heart research."

Driftwood Unit To Present Its Annual Fizz Party As Benefit

A fizz party will be held for prospective sustaining members and friends by the members of the Driftwood Unit of the Marin Foundation on Friday from 10 a.m. to noon.

The guests will gather at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fleming Jr. of Belvedere for the party, which has become an annual event with proceeds to benefit the Group Homes operated by the Marin Foundation.

Mrs. Richard Kehne of Belvedere is chairman for the party, and Mrs. A.L. Caceres of Belvedere is reservations chairman. Tickets will also be available at the door, announced unit president Mrs. Donald McCune.

THE LEAGUE of Women Voters of Central Marin will sponsor a public program Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Meadows in Terra Linda when legislature candidates Peter Behr and Michael Peevey will discuss their views on "Women's Role in Politics."

Chairmen of the meeting are Mrs. J.A. Silverman of San Anselmo and Mrs. David Appien of Novato.

Mrs. James Good, league president, said that the program is part of the group's continuing program to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. League membership is now open to all women citizens over 18 years old.

THE SISTERHOOD of Congregation Rodef Sholom will have as a highlight of its membership luncheon the singers from the Marin Shakespeare Festival. The singers will perform selections from Elizabethan times.

The luncheon will be held Thursday, beginning at 11:30 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Milton Frank in Loch Lomond.

The new rabbi of Temple Rodef Sholom, David Davis, will be the guest of honor and speak briefly.

Reservations chairmen for the luncheon are Mmes. H.C. Lurie and Allen Rosen, both of San Rafael. Child care will be provided at the temple.

MRS. THOMAS Moscrop of Novato will speak on astrology for the opening meeting of the Novato Federated Women's Club Thursday at the Peacock restaurant in Novato. The business meeting will begin at 11:15 a.m., followed by luncheon.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Kenneth Beagle and Claude Lewin. New club members are Mmes. Rex Harkey, Harry Young, Charles Delaney, E.R. Lang and Robert Mezares, all of Novato.

THE OFFICIAL visit of district deputy president Mrs. Eva Benson of Petaluma to Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley. The district marshal, Mrs. Leona George, will accompany Mrs. Benson.

Mrs. Lottie MacDermond is chairman for the evening.

A COFFEE hour for parents will be given by the McKinley School Parent-Teacher Association of Petaluma on Tuesday, the first day of school. Hours are 8:30 to 10: a.m. and noon to 1:30 p.m.

GETTING THE EDGE

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Parents' Magazine. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Boatniks" — Disney's slapstick sea comedy offers light summer entertainment for the family.

"Hello Dolly" — Adaptation of Broadway hit. Barbra Streisand stars as a conniving matchmaker, in the 1900's, who has her eyes on wealthy, crusty Walter Matthau. There are lavish sets and costumes and much singing for Streisand fans.

Jungle Book" — Kipling's tale of an East Indian boy reared in the jungle by a family of wolves is brought to life in a full-length animated cartoon by Disney. A delight for the young at heart.

"Love Bug"—A little car with human feelings becomes the devoted friend of a discouraged racing car driver. Their adventures are a delight.

"Out-of-Towners" — Very broad satire of hazards of New York life and misadventures of a small city businessman who brings his wife along for a job interview. Hilarious comedy.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Airport" — Gripping story, during a paralyzing blizzard, of the workings at a large airport. A large jet is stuck, blocking a runaway that is desperately needed to land a disabled plane. There is an outstanding, star-studded cast. The buildup is intense and may be too exciting for younger children.

"Darling Lili" — Combination comic romance and espionage story of World War I with Julie Andrews as an English music hall star, who is also a German spy. Romance is predictable and pace of film slow moving but the songs are memorable.

"Good Guys and the Bad Guys" — Two aging westerners, one a small town marshal and the other a paunchy outlaw are being eased out of their jobs by progress and politics. To prove themselves to the towns' people they unite to stop a robbery. All is quite corny but fun.

"Five Man Army" — A professional thief recruits four bandits during the 1914 Revolution in old Mexico to steal a train that is transporting a half million dollars. Plot is treated in such a farcial manner that the voilence and brutal action don't seem real. Photography is excellent and ending a complete surprise.

"Kelly's Heros" — A World War II satirical melodrama about a group of misfits who rob a German bank of 16 million dollars in gold bullion. The violence is well laced with comedy and humor and several subplots give large cast parts to play.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is the framework for a musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, raucous and at times tasteless, it isnot suitable for young children.

"Patton" — An unusually well-made film with a brilliant characterization by George C. Scott. There is very strong dialogue.

"Sterile Cuckoo" — A kooky college girl and a boy who is square and serious. Their love affair and first sex experience are told with simplicity and insight. Acting is excellent.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources says Adults Only)

"El Condor" — An ex-convict, a cowboy and 100 Apaches join forces to steal gold hidden in a Mexican fortress. Several bloody battles, a gory duel, nudity, sex and cursing make up this hackneyed story which is disappointingly second rate.

"Getting Straight" — Satiric melodrama that tries to give both sides of student rebellion on college campuses as experienced by a student-teacher. Violenve, sex scenes and foul language are abundant.

"The Virgin and the Gypsy" — D.H. Lawrences story of a free spirited girl in the 1920's who tries to escape the confines of her family. A handsome gypsy becomes the object of her erotic fantasies. Although there is nudity, it is handled tastefully and the photography is lyrical.

ADULTS ONLY

"Grasshopper" — Small town girl from Canada comes to Los Angeles and moves on to Las Vegas as a chorus girl. Film relates all her sex adventures along the way. It is tedious and shallow.

"Loving" — The quiet desperation of suburban life is artfully explored in story of a commercial artist on the brink of disaster. There are realistic frank language and sex scenes.

"M-A-S-H" — Hilarious, subtle anti-war comedy of three army surgeons who develop outlandish life-style to survive the gore that passes before their eyes. Sex, nudity and profanity.

Seventh Youth Sought In Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A seventh youth wanted in the killing of a patrolman has been in the custody of police three times but each time escaped, a homicide detective testified Thursday.

Detective Jack Cleary was on the witness stand at the trial of six youths with Spanish surnames who are charged with killing patrolman Joseph Brodnik.

He said the wanted youth, Gil Lopez, has been arrested in other jurisdictions three times since a hunt for him here started. Each time, the detective continued, he was released before fingerprint checks showed he was being hunted.

The trial is in recess until next Thursday.

Special Meeting

The Mill Valley School District board will hold a special meeting today at 8 p.m. at Park School to consider requests for interdistrict transfers.

Painting Display

Higher Box Fees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The rental fees for post office boxes will be increased by 8 per cent starting Nov. 1, in a move the Post Office says will bring in an additional $8 million revenue each year.

Pontiff Guards Cancel Protest

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI's 150-member pontifical Gendarme corps planned a demonstration outside the Pope's summer home to back pay increase demands but gave it up when the government reinforced the Italian Carabinieri (National Police) posted at the villa.

"We had planned a peaceful demonstration," one gendarme said. "But we decided to call it off to avoid embarrassment to the Carabinieri."

The Gendarmes have refused since Tuesday to collect their monthly paychecks unless a 10 per cent pay raise is backdated to July, 1969, as was a similar raise for other Vatican employes.

South Sonoma Schools Will Close Wednesday

All public schools in southern Sonoma will open on Tuesday, closed Wednesday for Admission Day and re-open on Thursday.

A headline in yesterday's Independent-Journal erroneously stated schools would open on Wednesday.

Easter Seal Society, Center Point Grants

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council board has approved grants-in-aid totalling $560 to the Marin Easter Seal Society and Center Point of Marin.

The board also approved Wednesday night the establishment of a Neighborhood Service Center to be located somewhere within the Fairfax-San Anselmo area.

Meeting at the Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, the board, according to member Robert P. Simmons, approved expending $4,216 for a six-month program to aid the poor in the San Anselmo-Fairfax area.

Expected to be established by next month, the new service center will provide information on existing county social services to families in need.

The center, which is to be staffed by volunteers, will also provide legal assistance, emergency food, housing services, and interpretation of welfare regulations, Simmons said. A location for the center has not been determined.

In other action the board approved granting the Easter Seal Society $260 for its speech therapy program and $300 to Center Point of Marin for its drug abuse program.

Autopsy Slated On Rock Member

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An autopsy was scheduled today for Alan C. Wilson, 27, a member of the Canned Heat rock group whose body was found in a sleeping bag behind a house in Topanga Canyon.

A spokesman for Liberty Records, the group's recording company, said sleeping pills were found in Wilson's pocket and he had been depressed recently.

Sheriff's deputies said Wilson had been camping behind the home of Mrs. Verlie Hite, a friend, and that his van-camper was found nearby. Mrs. Hite found the body Thursday.

Alleged Leader Is Granted Stay

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A federal judge has granted alleged Mafia chieftain Carlos Marcello an indefinite stay on his two-year jail term which was to begin today.

U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals could convene to consider Marcello's appeal for a new trial on charges he struck an FBI agent. Wisdom said his ruling was a routine decision because Marcello had not exhausted his appeals.

Marcello had been scheduled to report to authorities in Houston today to begin the two year sentence given him in a Houston Federal Court earlier this year. He was convicted of striking an FBI agent at the New Orleans International Airport in 1966.

Stiffer Explosive Penalties Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., says Congress should enact stiffer criminal penalties, including death, for illegal use of explosives.

THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1970 17

'UNEASE AND FEAR'

Briton Focuses On American 'Mood'

BY PAT ANGLE

A youhg English film maker, assigned by a British television network to capture "the mood of America" finds the country in a disturbed state, "filled with unease and fear."

David Filkin, head of a six-man film crew from the British Broadcasting Corporation, was in Sausalito recently to study the affects and problems of school integration.

During his three-month stay in this country — where the crew ignored the large cities and focussed on three towns in "small family America" — the producer-director found some disquieting trends.

"In the past the average man and woman were content to sit at home, knowing that the forces of law and order would sort out the problems," the 27-year-old Filkin said to assess the discoveries he had made in his journeys.

"Now, these same people are beginning to feel there isn't a chance those problems will be solved by ordinary means," he continued, "and I see this feeling as a great danger for America."

Before coming to Sausalito to look at the school district, the documentary makers visited, Kent, Ohio, where four students were shot and killed by National Guardsmen in May. They also filmed a sequence in the coal-mining country of West Virginia, scene of the January slaying of labor leader Joseph Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

Everywhere they went, Filkin said the crew discovered one upsetting similarity: Most people have guns — poised and ready — and will use them they say, for their own protection. To Britishers, who live in a country where the average citizen has never even held a gun in his hands (and the low incidence of violent death reflect this fact), this revelation was shocking.

The polarization of young and old and the resulting hatred was most evident in Kent, where the crew interviewed scores of people, from eyewitnesses to the killings to members of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

One girl, who had watched as the soldiers killed the students, tolk Filkin the young people had only been teasing the guardsmen "in a friendly way" because they were irritated at the troups' presence on campus. "She said the young people had been tossing cannisters of tear gas back at the guards and lobbing rocks in front of them," he said.

On the other hand, members of the VFW told the film makers "if they had been on campus, they would have shot more of the students," Filkin continued.

From all of the 360 minutes of interviews, the producer sees America 1970 as "a place where both extremes seem to fear each other and don't want to meet — or understand — those on the other side.

"And the people in the middleground seem to be waiting in the wings, somewhat hoping their part in solving the dilemmas may be more than a walk-on," Filkin continued.

The BBC team was especially interested to see what was happening in Sausalito — only one of the American towns to strive for total racial integration — since Britain is now experiencing racial tensions.

"We came here because Sausalito has done something the rest of the country hasn't done," he said, " and we were very interested to see how it was working out."

The crew spent a lot of time talking to people in both Marin City and Sausalito and visiting their homes to obtain a view of "what life is like" in both communities. In addition, school officials — including the controversial former Principal Sidney F. Walton Jr. — were interviewed.

The producer said he was gratified and impressed by the openess of those with whom he spoke. "People will talk so freely and really tell you what they feel" he said with a pleasure of a newsman who has garnered many good quotes.

He found black residents of the school district "convinced the integration attempt is nothing more than a sop to the consciences of liberal whites — not a real attempt to advance black education."

On the other side, he found white parents equally disenchanted and equally convinced "that anyone but the mildest of black men is highly likely to be a militant and revolutionary."

Filkin said he feels the conflicts in the school system have resulted in "the eclipse of the liberal" in the district. "What started off as a largely liberal idea for integration has turned into a confrontation between conservative whites and more militant blacks and whites," he explained.

The producer said he is afraid the fear and hatred on both sides is "so great it will eventually result in overt emotional action, an atmosphere where tension and violence come first and solutions to problems are left to the last."

Filkin, who last visited the U.S. 10 years ago said he believes the three documentaries — to be broadcast to Britain in October — will show "America is awakening from and reevaluating the old American dream, despite all the hurt and pain this causes."

Although the films are being widely publicized and will probably be seen by millions of Britishers, Filkin is unsure how they will be received. The average Englishman, he said, still thinks of America as the great streng giant, the land where anything can happen and everything will work out. But the films show something very different and, at times, very unpleasant.

"Many people who see them may not want to believe them," he said with a shrug.

CHP Is Searching For Witnesses To Fatal Crash

California Highway Patrol officers today requested witnesses to yesterday's fatal car crash on Highway 101 near Marin City contact the patrol office at 6120 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

Sgt. Richard O'Brien said the request was made in an effort to determine the cause of the accident which killed Arletta Pelet of 160 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, and injured her husband, Pierre.

O'Brien said their southbound auto swerved off the freeway for some undetermined reason and the patrol is now seeking persons who saw the vehicle before or during its plunge over the embankment at 8:15 a.m.

Missing Statue

Helen Montpart of 136 Renee Drive, Petaluma, told police yesterday that a lawn statue of a pixie pushing a wheelbarrow had been stolen from her yard sometime since Monday. It was valued at $25.

Annexation Asked By San Pedro School

San Pedro School in East San Rafael, opposite Loch Lomond, wants to annex to the City of San Rafael to get police and fire protection.

The request for annexation will come before the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the board of Supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Novato Sanitary District will ask for annexation of 160 acres on the west side of Highway 101 on either side of San Marin Drive in Novato. More than a thousand townhouses and apartments, plus a regional shopping center are planned on the site.

The commissioners will also discuss the formation of a county fire protection district for all unincorporated areas that are served by the county fire department. Such a district would permit special zones to be set up in communities that want improved service.

Sleepy Hollow Group Is Seeking Debris Baskets

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Association last night passed a resolution asking the Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District to supply debris containers at the Sleepy Hollow Stables for residents.

The intent of the resolution is to prevent rubbish dumping in creeks and along fire roads, according to board president Merritt A. Robinson.

The Sleepy Hollow Homes Association also:

PANELING — Approved a $2,400 contract with Burt Milnes Contractor of San Anselmo for repaneling and redecorating the older portion of the association clubhouse.

FENCE — Decided to fence in the clubhouse property as soon as possible to curb breakins.

WATER — Voted to invite a representative of the Marin Municipal Water District to the board's quarterly meeting Oct. 15 to explain the effects on Sleepy Hollow of the district's bond issue to be voted on at the November general election.

Candidates Differ On How To Unite School District

By GEORGE NEVIN

Candidates for two vacancies on the Sausalito School District Board last night agreed that unity is needed if the quality of education in the district is to be improved, but failed to concur on how best to achieve that unity.

The four hopefuls, Robert E. Fisher Jr. and Royce Y. McLemore of Marin City and Robert R. Lyon and Robert A. Thompson of Sausalito spoke at a candidates night sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council.

They found they were on common ground on several areas: all thought that the per-pupil cost of education was much too high; that students should have little say in how the schools are run; and that school board meetings must be conducted in a more orderly manner.

Differences arose, however, on how best to achieve these objectives.

Replying to a question about how he would conduct a board meeting, Fisher said that "many legitimate grievances would dissipate with a more balanced, more representative board."

In contrast, Thompson said he would adopt a "no-nonsense" approach at board meetings. "They (the meetings) have been dominated by black militants who have shrewdly convinced their followers that the only way to deal with whitey is to scare him half to death." He would meet such attempts with firmness, he said.

Lyon felt that chaotic meetings could be avoided by "electing a board with a common dedication," while Mrs. McLemore said she thought president Nathaniel Johnson was doing a good job in conducting the meetings.

Asked what he would do to halt declining enrollment in the district, Lyon said he would work for stability and an end to harrassment of parents. "This is what contributed to the exodus," he said.

Fisher said he thought the decline would halt if his program of "quality, equality and education" were followed.

People are "fed up to the eyeballs with the way the district is run," said Thompson. "We've got to stop talking and start doing something," he said. Only then would the picture change.

Mrs. McLemore called for more "parent involvement" to halt slipping enrollment. "It's been lack of communication between parents and teachers that has brought this about," she said.

Each candidate said he felt that the roughly $2,000 that it takes to educate each child is excessive. Thompson said the district could save money by finding out "which employees are in the pork barrel category and cutting them out."

Mrs. McLemore agreed that the cost is too great for the results and suggested closing Central school in order to save money. Fisher agreed, and Lyon suggested a thorough budget review to cut costs.

Responding to a question about the role of students in running the school, Fisher said "students aren't control addicts" but said that he would see that "their voices are heard."

Both Lyon and Thompson said children had no business running a school. "They should have precious little control over that," Thompson said, "but they should know what's going on."

Mrs. McLemore, however, stated that "we must move with the times. What better way to teach the democratic process than to allow students to have a hand in making decisions about things that affect them?"

The candidates then were read questions submitted by the audience of about 75. In reply to an inquiry on his ability to administer a $1.3 million budget, Fisher said he has had experience working with budgets of $25 million at a data processing firm and $3 million as a cabinet member at the College of Marin.

Another questioner asked how the candidates felt about hiring militant revolutionaries. Lyon said he felt that "a certain amount of militancy in black people is proper" but that "there are degrees of militancy. When it's used to disrupt and force ideas on others, that's going too far."

Mrs. McLemore defined "militant" as "one who stands behind his beliefs" and "revolutionary" as "one who works for change," and said that, on that basis, she saw nothing wrong with hiring such persons. Fisher agreed, saying that the district already has hired such a man, Henry Hopkins, new principal at Martin Luther King School.

Thompson said he, too, agreed with Mrs. McLemore on the basis of her definition, but that no one who fit the "commonly accepted meaning of the term (militant)" should work for the district.

Draft Now Keeps Duplicate Files

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Selective Service, in an effort to stop the outbreak of attacks on draft files across the country, has revealed that every state now has duplicate records on each registrant.

As a result, the agency said Thursday, vandalism and other attacks on draft files will do nothing to slow down the process of induction. A spokesman said the only result of such attacks is to make it more difficult for local boards to help registrants with their problems.

The Selective Service said the state-by-state duplicates are held in "duplicate central locaters" in each state draft office.

What's the Use?
it's
Labor Day

AND, as everybody knows, people don't read ads on Labor Day, Memorial Day, or Easter, or Christmas. Or New Year's. Or in the summer.

UNFORTUNATELY "everybody" is wrong.

ASK any readership research organization. You'll learn that people don't turn off their minds at Yuletide, Whitsuntide, high tide, or low tide.

NEWSPAPER readership doesn't go downhill during the skiing season, or the haying season.

ADVERTISING readership doesn't take a dip in the summer.

WE'VE celebrated many Labor Days at the Independent-Journal. We've seen many summers. And we've learned that readership of both editorial and advertising pages stay at the same high level every day of every week and month of the year.

NO MATTER where you advertise, "season is no reason to draw a blank with your customers and prospects.

EVEN during holidays, people read.

THANKS for helping us prove it.

And – Oh, Yes,
Have a Good Holiday!

Terra Linda Announces Recreation

Many recreation programs for people of all ages have been announced by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District, all activities to be held in the recreation center.

Flag football for boys from grades 3 through 8 has already started, but there is room for more boys from these grades.

The 1 p.m. Saturday movies start tomorrow with "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College". This will be followed with Capt. Horatio Hornblower" on Sept. 12; "Invasion of the Astros" on Sept. 19 and "Wackiest Ship in the Army" on Sept. 26.

Tiny tot classes for children 3 to 5 years old will be held from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each Friday, starting Sept. 25.

A teen-age dance will be held from 8 to 11 p.m., Sept. 11 with the Nazgul furnishing the music for the dance.

Other programs being planned include: ballet for children, judo for boys, boxing, arts and crafts, guitar lessons, cake decorating, classes for preschoolers, teen nights, ceramic and painting, and yoga.

Sunny Hills Rezoning Plea To Be Heard

Rezoning of approximately one half-acre of Sunny Hills from general commercial to single family residence will be considered at 8 p.m. Wednesday by the San Anselmo Planning Commission at the San Anselmo City Hall.

The meeting was postponed from its regular time at 8 p.m. Monday.

A portion of the Sunny Hills land at 910 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was rezoned to commercial in 1956. This was subdivided in 1966 for the construction of the Red Hills Shopping Center. That left approximately a half-acre in the commercial zone.

The commission will also consider a nonconforming use permit for a 4,800 square foot building for the San Francisco Theological Seminary at Austin Avenue and Kensington Street; a change in the city code on construction of driveways and sidewalks in the public right-of-way and zoning of an undeveloped 65 unit subdivision owned by Donald V. Johnson at the end of Sonoma Avenue.

Building Design Board Created

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Planning Commission yesterday created an architectural review committee to assure appropriate building designs.

Named to the committee were three members of the county planning staff, Lloyd Johnson, Wesley Vail and Richard Vandra.

The commission noted that complaints had been received that some buildings recently approved did not blend with existing buildings.

Picture Developed In Polluted Water

TOKYO (UPI)—The Mainichi newspaper today printed a photograph it said was developed by water from polluted streams.

"River water in Japan is so polluted as to be useable in place of film developer," the newspaper said in an article on the experiment.

The Mainichi Shimbun collected water from 13 places along rivers, ditches and canals near sacred Mount Fuji. The streams are polluted by wastes from paper mills.

Rohnert Park Opens Ramps At Highway

Rohnert Park officially opened its new southbound on-off ramps on Highway 101 yesterday, but heard that funds may not be available for construction of the overpass next year as had been hoped.

Allan S. Hart, district engineer, said that cuts in highway construction funds and a larger share going to Southern California may cause a delay in plans for the overpass at the Rohnert Park Expressway.

The Rohnert Park City Council had hoped that funds would be allocated in the 1971-72 budget with construction underway by next year. All engineering work has been completed.

The new ramps on the west side of the freeway connect with Santa Rosa Avenue and largely undeveloped land. Future plans for the area include a motel, restaurant, service stations and shopping center.

Participating in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies were Warren K. Hopkins, Rohnert Park vice mayor; Ignazio A. Vella, acting chairman of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors; Sil Cincera, president of the Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce and City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan.

Boy, 3, Hurt When Hit By Passing Car

A 3-year-old Novato boy was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for multiple scrapes received when he was hit by a car while crossing Feliz Drive, Novato, police reported today.

Stephen Thomas Parr, of 1616 Novato Boulevard, ran from between two parked cars into the path of a car driven by Geraldine Raffaele Vukson, 29, of 19 Estrella Way, according to the report.

Lab Directive Will Mean More Workers

Because of a directive from the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control board, the San Rafael Sanitation District must hire additional employees and build a small laboratory.

City engineer Ely Caillouette reported yesterday that the district board on Wednesday approved employment of a plant operator at a salary of $706-733 a month. The new man will conduct a battery of tests of raw sewage, effluent and discharge water at the Irene Street Treatment Plant.

The board took the move, Caillouette said, after the Water Quality Control Board ordered the complicated tests made as part of a self-monitoring program it has imposed on most dischargers in the San Francisco Bay Area. The new tests triple the number of checks the district must make, he said.

Directors also approved the employment of an architect to design a small laboratory where the tests will be conducted. The concrete block lab will be built at the Irene Street Plant.

The San Rafael Sanitation District board also:

Candy Sales Firm Owner Faces 29 Additional Counts

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — The owner of a house-to-house candy selling operation which was run out of San Anselmo in July has had 29 additional labor code violations attached to six earlier counts.

Oakland Police said today Fritz Thus, head of Student Opportunity of Lafayette, which employed juveniles as salesmen, agreed Aug. 26 after his first arrest in Oakland Aug. 17 to stop all illegal activities. Two days later, one of Thus' supervisors was picked up with seven children aged 11 to 13, allegedly selling candy again.

Besides the new labor code counts, Thus was also cited for seven violations of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Thus was earlier charged with two counts of this violation.

Thus has been free on $2,000 bail and is to appear in Dept 11 of the Oakland-Piedmont Judicial District on Sept. 17 for setting of a trial date on the 44 counts, after pleading innocent Aug 15.

In July, two 16-year-old peddlers were apprehended by San Anselmo police and told to leave town. Police warned Thus, whom the youths had identified as the head of the company, that his activities violated the anti-peddling ordinance in that city. His employees reappeared on July 27, and were again ordered from town.

School Board To Hear Appeals Of Rejections

The Marin County Board of Education will consider at least two interdistrict attendance appeals Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the county schools office.

The appeals involve two children from the Sausalito School District who were refused admittance to the Reed School District and two children from the Bolinas Stinson School District who were rejected by the Mill Valley School District.

Other appeals may also be taken up should they be requested between the time the agenda was drafted and the meeting.

The board will also consider three requests for intercounty attendance from San Francisco students applying for attendance in the Tamalpais High School District.

Petaluma Driver In Good Condition

Steven Miyano, 19, of 2971 Skillman Lane, Petaluma, was reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital with facial cuts suffered at 12:50 a.m. today when his car struck a post on Highway 101 south of Pepper Road, Petaluma.

The California Highway Patrol said Miyano apparently fell asleep at the wheel and struck a steel post.

New Idea On Welfare Funds

BERKELEY (UPI) — The state government should lessen the burden of urban property tax payers by paying the complete bill for education and welfare, the League of California Cities executive director asserts.

"The fiscal crisis now confronting urban governments would be eased considerably if these two services were removed from the property tax," director Richard Carpenter said Thursday at a Western American Assembly seminar on the states and urban crisis.

"All would agree, I believe, that the revenue raising ability of the state is superior to that of local governments," he added.

Clausen Appoints Representative

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, has appointed Gordon Tippit of Santa Rosa, a 49-year-old retired Army intelligence colonel, as his new field representative.

Tippit retired at Fort Meade in Maryland in June after 28 years in the Army. He previously served at Two Rock Ranch Army Station, and had planned to retire to live in Sonoma County.

It's A 13-Game NFL Exhibition Weekend

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

"Gol-lee."

Terry Bradshaw says that, usually when he's pleased. And he's bound to be mighty pleased over the fact he'll be showing his impressive wares to the home town folks tonight when he quarterbacks the resurgent Pittsburgh Steelers against the Boston Patriots at Shreveport, La. The game helps kickoff a 13-game National Football League exhibition weekend.

Bradshaw, dubbed the Li'l Abner of football, has electrified observers of the pro scene with his field generalship and passing prowess in directing the once-hapless Steelers to two victories (over Minnesota and the New York Giants) in three games. In last week's win over the Giants, Bradshaw numbered a 37-yard touchdown pass to rookie wide receiver Ron Shanklin among his 15 completions in 23 attempts for 244 yards.

The probability that Bradshaw will be filling the air with footballs and "gol-lees" in his pro debut before the home folks, coupled with a shoulder injury to Boston quarterback Mike Taliaferro, that may severely limit his playing time, spells trouble for the Pats (0-2).

On Saturday, the New York Jets tangle with the New Orleans Saints, the Giants play the Philadelphia Eagles at Princeton, N.J., the World Champion Kansas City Chiefs oppose the Dallas Cowboys, the Baltimore Colts play the Detroit Lions at Raleigh, N.R., the Chicago Bears meet the Denver Broncos, the Houston Oilers play the Los Angeles Rams at Pasadena, Calif., and the St. Louis Cardinals meet the San Diego Chargers in the first game, while the Minnesota Vikings tangle with the Cleveland Browns in the nightcap of the ninth annual doubleheader at Cleveland.

Also the Cincinnati Bengals challenge the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee, Wis., and the Washington Redskins meet the Miami Dolphins at Tampa, Fla.

The Oakland Raiders (1-3) gun for their third straight win in exhibition play over their Bay rivals, the San Francisco Forty Niners (1-2) in a Sunday contest that caps the fifth exhibition weekend.

Bradshaw was the lone bright spot for the Steelers following their dismal 1-13 record last season when they outguessed the Bears (who had an equally poor season) in a coin flip and made the star signal-caller at Louisiana Tech the nation's No. 1 draft pick.

A flock of flattering offers for Bradshaw's services hit the Steeler's front office following Terry's election. The Patriots ofered six regulars. Baltimore and New Orleans made equally sensational offers. And word had it that Denver was willing to part with Floyd Little.

Don Shula, former Colts head coach and now Miami mentor, once laid guidelines by which to judge rookie quarterbacks.

"You can always find out quick about a rookie quarterback," said Shula. "You ask him to throw long for accuracy and you ask him to throw those sideline passes. If he can do both well, you know he is special." Don Shula knows Terry Bradshaw is special. He coached him in the North-South game last winter.

"He was hitting hands at 65 yards," Shula marvelled. "And he was throwing the sideline passes as well as (John) Unitas and (Y.A.) Tittle ever did."

National Television cameras (NBC 6 p.m. PDT) will focus on the Chiefs' first appearance in Dallas since the former Dallas Texans left the Lone Star state and moved to Kansas City in 1963.

A Short Review Of Kezar Rules

It's been so long since Oakland Raider fans last visited Kezar Stadium — two years — that I'd like to remind them of a few rules of the house. Just to make them feel more at home when their Pride and Poise Boys meet San Francisco's Pooped and Pummelled Boys in the big game Sunday.

You see, Raider fans are a spoiled lot. They not only have a great football team — best pro record over the past three years — but their stadium is a swanky mansion by most sweatbox standards. Hence, they are so very well mannered that they may be in for a shock during their visit to Mary Kezar's Playpen in Golden Gate Park. Kezar, you know, is the slum of pro sports, according to some East Bay visitors.

First of all, you hoity toity visitors from the East Bay should be advised to wear old clothes. I mean, the alpacas and alligators are okay over in your immaculate Hegenberger Road digs, but not at Kezar. Just sitting down will get you a seagull calling card on the posterior. Or, if the dirty birds don't get you from the rear they'll attack from above with their built-in bomb sights.

Kezar Is Always Wet

Nice thing about Kezar, folks, is that you don't have to sneak booze past the gendarmes like you do at the Oakland Coliseum where Martini Marshalls man every gate. Kezar is not a dry state. In fact, it is the Barbary Coast of sportsdom. There were times, when the 49ers were winning, that every Sunday was New Year's Eve at Kezar. Now, they're just a bunch of sullen drunks.

Please be prepared for a little discomfort. Those pampered posteriors of yours, caressed all these years by the comfy of the Coliseum's theater-type seats, will be brutally mauled by the benches that Kezar calls seats. Each bench consists of two parallel lengths of hardwood, separated ever so slightly. I mention this so that Sunday evening, when you disrobe for bedie-bye, back up to a mirror to observe a perfect cross. (Just a little extra service provided by the I-J Sports Department, Fun and Games Division.)

Rough On The Kidneys

The bench seating arrangement, by the way, also is rough on the old kidneys. You can pick up a pair of kidney pads at most sports shops to protect against the guy sitting behind you. Everyone in Kezar has big, hard knees.

Now, if the 49ers should happen to score a touchdown or execute a particularly exciting play, be prepared to duck. I mean, there is the omnipresent slob who will jump for joy, forgetting the full container of beer he has in his hands. But don't worry, it washes out, and, besides, is good for the hair.

Another important item to remember is that when you go to the — uh, er — powder rooms, go IN the door marked EXIT and go OUT the door marked ENTER. That's the way 49er fans have been educated all these years, and if you don't do it their way you'll be in a melluva hess.

I once knew a guy who went against the mainstream and didn't come out for three days. And all he wanted was a hot dog.

The Kezar cans, to put it bluntly, are the Black Hole of Calcutta. A capacity crowd Biffie Brigade is tougher than the line of scrimmage. Vietnam is a relative picnic. If you happen to get caught in the ebbtide, just mind your own business, keep your eyes straight ahead, don't talk to strangers, and if captured just give your name, rank and serial number.

One Of Three Choices

Oh, I almost forgot the parking problem. I know, over in your baliwick you're accustomed to cruising down a big freeway, onto an offramp, thence into a huge parking lot.

But Kezar? Heh-heh-heh. There are three alternatives: (1) Walk; (2) Stay home and listen to it on the radio; (3) Fly, and bail out over Haight and Ashbury.

Well, that's about all. I do hope you have fun. Don't worry about wiping your feet like you do at home and you can yell all you want.

But, please don't knock the joint. There are those of us who were raised with the 49ers in Kezar and we can bellyache all we want about the inconveniences, but deep down inside we love the place. And we can't stand to hear visitors complain. Be our guests; but, mind your manners, heah?

Raider End On 'Doubtful' List

Coach John Madden also announced Thursday a starting front four of Carleton Oats, Ben Davidson, Art Thoms and Tom Keating, indicating second year man Thoms is leading the race to fill in for the departed Ike Lassiter.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT — Australian John Newcombe spilled during U.S. Open Tennis Tournament match against Mexico's Joaquin Loyo-Mayo yesterday at Forest Hills, N.Y., but bounced back for 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 triumph.

American Players Hoping To Keep Up With Aussies

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) —The 42-year-old Pancho Gonzalez and the 23-year-old Cliff Richey go to the courts today, carrying America's hopes to keep up with the phalanx of Australians in the U.S. Open Tennis championships.

Gonzalez, of Malibu, Calif., seeded 14th, faces Russian Vladimir Korotkov, and Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., meets Allen Fox of Los Angeles in second-round action.

Laver, off to what is becoming a typically rocky start for him, had service trouble in the first set, then set down his countryman, Allan Stone, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

CHALLENGE

Waiting for Gonzalez and Richey to catch up was seventh seeded Arthur Ashe, who made his debut against the up and coming Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn. Tanner, serving marvelously, challenged Ashe at his own game, took the first set in a tie break, and held his serve until the 10th game of the second set, when Ashe broke through. The scores were 6-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4. Tanner, 18-year-old soph at Stanford, whistled 19 aces past Ashe during the match, while Ashe had 14.

Other American seeds who won Thursday included 11th seed Stan Smith, who took out Bill Brown of Omaha, Neb. 7-5, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; 16th seed Clark Graebner of New York who sent Ray Keldie of Australia to the sidelines, 6-1, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4, and 19th seed Dennis Ralston, who took an international test from Georges Goven of France, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4, 7-6.

The girls began their drive for their $7,500 first money, and Mrs. Margaret Smith Court, the defender who is seeking the grand slam, gave an indication of how fit she is by trouncing Pam Austin of Rolling Hills, Calif., 6-1, 6-0, in 27 minutes.

All the seeded ladies advanced with similar straight sets triumphs. In order of their seeds, second ranked Rosemary Casals of San Francisco put out Christiana Spinoza of Spain, 6-3, 6-0; Nancy Richey of San Angelo won over Laura Dupont, Charlotte, N.C., 6-2, 6-3; Francoise Durr of Paris won over Mary Ann Curtis of St. Louis, 7-5, 6-0, and Virginia Wade of England, the 1968 champion here, won over Pam O'Shaugnessy of Fullerton, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

Sharon Walsh Wins

Bay Meadows Opens

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Bay Meadows opens its 78-day thoroughbred racing season today with something new for bettors. A two dollar exacta (picking the first and second place horses) will be sold on the first race, replacing the daily double — fixture for two decades.

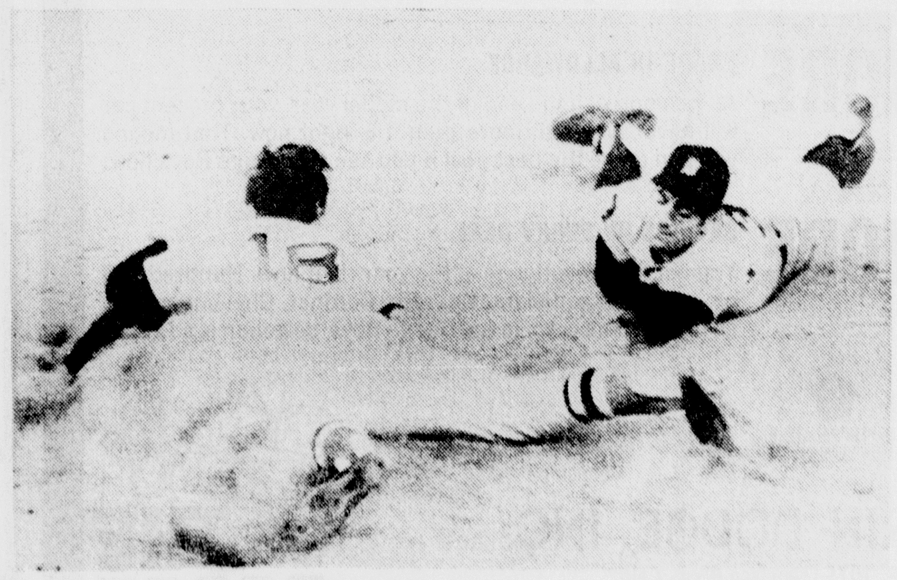

Busy Weekend Ahead For Bowler DeYoung

The 20-year-old San Rafael bowler defeated Ted Hendrickson in the finals of the Warriors' match game championships, rolling a 224 game for a 16-pin lead and then striking out in the 10th frame of the final game to close out the match, 427-415.

Now DeYoung will travel to Alhambra Bowl in Sacramento to face the Sacramento, Los Angels and San Diego match game winners at 2 p.m. tomorrow. The foursome of bowlers will then roll at Castle Lanes in San Francisco at 7 p.m. for more prize money. Sunday they bowl at University Lanes in San Diego and finish up at 5 p.m. Monday in Costa Mesa.

DeYoung, part-time desk man at Nave Lanes near Ignacio, finished the San Francisco eliminations averaging 214 with five 900-plus four-game series.

RED SOX LOSE BATTLE, WIN WAR

Boston's Ken Brett (18) was forced out at second base by Detroit's scrambling Dick McAuliffe while trying to stretch a single into a double during their American League game last night at Boston. The home town Red Sox, however, went on to notch a 5-2 triumph.

Greenwood Qualifies For Tourney

George Greenwood of San Rafael yesterday was one of 14 players from the field of 82 to qualify for the U.S. Senior Amateur Golf Championships Sept. 21-26 at the California Golf Club in San Francisco.

Greenwood, the 1968 Indian Valley (Novato) club champion who at 55 just qualified for senior competition, fired a 77 yesterday in the qualifying round at Lake Merced Country Club.

Medalist honors went to Steve Stimac of Contra Costa with a 72.

Greenwood was the only one of six Marin County entrants to qualify. The other Marin entrants were Orville Suttles of Marin Country Club, Novato; Robert Dreyfus, San Geronimo National Club; and Milton Gabbs, Ed Vest and George Kerrigan, all of the Meadow Club near Fairfax.

A'S UNHAPPY MAN

Fernandez Wants Out

OAKLAND (UPI)—A brief moment of glory sometimes is not enough to heal old wounds.

Frank Fernandez, unhappy on the bench of the Oakland A's, pinchhit a three-run homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning Thursday night for a 4-3 victory over Chicago.

The game-winning blast earned the brawny catcher an undisclosed bonus payment from A's owner Charlie Finley. Fernandez, however, still hopes to be traded to another ballclub.

HAD ENOUGH

"I came here figuring I was going to play a lot," Fernandez said in the Oakland dressing room. "But it's turned into another one of those years, and I've had enough of them."

Fernandez has no gripe with the A's other than the fact that he's had to divide the backstop duty with Dave Duncan and Gene Tenace.

"Nothing's changed because of this game," Fernanedz said. "If I had my choice, I'd like to be traded."

Fernandez, batting .213, has 15 homers among his 53 hits. Seven of the roundtrippers have won games and two of the seven have come in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Giants To Open Set With Braves

ATLANTA (UPI)—The last time the San Francisco Giants were in Atlanta Stadium, they were a distant 18 games down in the National League West standings.

That was back in July. Tonight the Giants are back in the land of peach trees and moonshine at the very slightly improved position of 16 1-2 games off the pace in the wake of dropping two out of three games to the division-leading Cincinnati Reds.

Thursday night in Cincinnati the Giants lost 7-3 to the Reds.

Tonight, in Atlanta, they kick off a three-day, three-game series with Frank Reberger (5-5) on the mound versus the Braves' Pat Jarvis (15-11).

Thursday's loss to the Reds was creditable to the batting of Pete Rose, who drove home three runs with a homer and a double, and Johnny Bench, who added a double and a pair of singles on a rain-soaked evening.

Cincinnati's Clay Carroll preserved Tony Cloniger's seventh win against five losses, relieving Cloninger in the eighth after the Giants began to apply wood to ball.

Cloniger was nicked for three runs and four hits when the Giants bunched singles by hiter recalled from the minors a few weeks ago, now is playing ahead of Fernandez. But even before Tenace arrived, Fernandez had to split the catching duty with Duncan.

The situation is not unlike that which faced Fernandez in his two years with the New York Yankees. He shared the catching chores at New York with Jake Gibbs before being traded to Oakland prior to the 1970 season.

Fernandez' homer Wednesday night moved Oakland to within six games of first-place Minnesota in the American League West. The A's swept their three games with the White Sox. Tonight they begin a three-game set against Kansas City, as Jim Hunter (15-12) matches pitches with Al Fitzmorris (7-4).

Lombardi Tribute On Television

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Broadcasting Company announced Thursday it will present a tribute to the late Vince Lombardi in an ABC sports special today at 4:30 p.m. PDT.

The special, "Vince Lombardi: What His Life Was All About" will pre-empt "The Flying Nun," usually seen at that time.

Golfers Reach Amateur Finals

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI) — Sandy Galbraith, senior at Chapman College from San Carlos, and Steve Bohn, a San Jose State senior from Roseville, meet over 36 holes today in the finals of the Northern California amateur golf tourney at Spyglass Hill.

Two rounds were played Thursday and semi-final action saw Galbraith defeat Tom Culligan III of San Mateo 4-3 while Bohn edged Art McNickle of San Francisco on the 19th hole.

Bears Down To One-A-Day Drills

BERKELEY (UPI)—California Bears Coach Ray Willsey said Thursday he would end his two-a-day drills Friday despite the fact he's not yet satisfied with his team's overall readiness.

"The team is ragged, they're stale mentally and physically and not doing what they're supposed to," Willsey said after viewing films of Wednesday's practice. "However, this is expected at this time of year."

The Cal coach said his Bears would scrimmage Saturday afternoon at Memorial Stadium and he hoped the trainer would return some of the injured to the field by that time.

PREP FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Quality, Little Quantity For Marin Catholic Team

(First in a series on Marin County high school football prospects)

By DAVID EINSTEIN

When Marin Catholic football coach Reverend John Heaney says, "My first 11 players will go against anyone," he's supplying a clue to both strength and weakness of his 1970 team.

The weakness, as has been the case at the Kentfield school for as long anybody can remember, is that so few people come out for the team. At this point, Father Heaney has 49 candidates for both the varsity and junior varsity. By comparison, Terra Linda had more than 40 come out for the varsity alone.

So when he talks confidently about his first 11 players, Father Heaney is indicating that his depth is not too good. He will not have enough players for even a rudimentary platoon system.

FIRST RATE

It happens, however, that his first 11 players are first rate, and a few are better than that. Mark Lewis, senior tailback who las year rolled up close to any high school team. His size is not impressive, 5-10, 160 pounds, but his balance is uncanny. An all-around athelte, he may compete next spring in the national AAU decathlon.

Two other members of last year's starting backfield — quarterback Matt Hamilton and fullback Pat Parnow — are back, giving Father Heaney the experience necessary to effectively run the power I offense, which he and assistant coach Bruno Banducci have decided will work best for the Wildcats this year.

Both coaches prefer a pro offense, and Banducci especially likes to throw the ball. But with Marin's small lineman and quick running backs, the power I, with Lewis in the tailback spot, should work well.

TEAM CAPTAINS

Lewis, of course, is one of the team captains. The other is two-way tackle Tim Thompson. A 190-pound senior, Thompson makes up in speed what he gives away in weight. He is the Wildcats' top lineman, with apologies to Leo Fahy, a senior tight end, who has impressed Father Heaney tremendously in practice. Fahy, a letterman, also weighs 190.

The other veterans on the club are end Sherman Little, tackle Pat Kerfoot, guard Bob Cummesky and halfback Dave Rovero.

Father Heaney, in his first year as coach, will be trying to win while at the same time building for next year. The accent is on youth; the team has 19 jurors and only nine seniors. So the coach must have his eye at least a little on 1971.

Inexperience will hurt the Wildcats this year, but a new coaching staff and the running of Lewis should lead them to a winning season. They were 3-4-2, won-lost-tied last year.

Marin's opening preseason game will be at Albany Sept. 18. A practice scrimmage against Tomales is scheduled for next Friday at Tomales.

By AL GIDDINGS

Dove season didn't open with the traditional bang! In fact, things were desperately slow. I checked Nicasio, Novato and off Atherton Avenue near Black Point without seeing a hunter.

Over at St. Vincent's Pheasant Club about 20 hunters took about 60 doves. Larry Ott from San Geronimo, hunting the St. Vincent's area was high man for the day with eight choice birds. His partner Carl Palacchi of San Rafael had four. They hunted five hours averaging three shots an hour, so Larry getting one for two had a good average! But the shoot was really slow for the opener.

Now while I was at St. Vincent's, Chris Tharsing, the congenial club keeper, gave me an old time recipe for those of you who don't get any doves, but might find it easier getting bluejays. Jays are predatory birds, so there's no limit.

Here's the recipe for bluejay pie: Simmer two pounds of bluejay breasts in water to cover until tender, with two sprigs parsley, three stalks celery, two carrots, one onion sliced, one teaspoon of salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper When the meat is cooked tender, drain off the liquid, reducing to three cups by boiling. Thicken with four tablespoons of flour, then return the meat and vegetables cut up some what, with one four ounce can of mushrooms and three tablespoons of chopped pimento Turn this into a casserole, cover with baking powder biscuits and bake until biscuits are done! It's fit for the epicure!!

Incidentally Chris says the pheasant club should be in operation by tomorrow for you club members. Seven months of pheasant hunting! Now you can't beat that! The St. Vincent's Club has continually improved with lots of land and good cover. Go out and take a look; it's worth your while. Of course after you taste that bluejay pie, you may never eat another pheasant?

I STOPPED down at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier where enthusiastic Frank Spencer, the keeper, now hangs his hat. He had another list of names, a mile long, of guys and gals all catching bass still trolling the Richmond Bridge or the Brothers Islands areas. One fisherman, Brian Bulen, took a big four-pound bass off the pier. Brian being 9 years old, figures he got the biggest fish in the bay. You know, I had asked Frank to get me a fish or two for the fish check by the Department of Fish and Game. Along comes this gal Mae Timmer, last Monday with a 22-pounder she had just nailed at the bridge. Now, Frank, seeing this big fat specimen, thinks, "Here is a prize for Al — just right!" That Mae Timmer almost threw Frank in the drink when he made his pitch for that fish.

Oh well, I got the 10 fish needed (not hers) and delivered them to Sacramento yesterday. Now we'll see what cooks! Thanks for the help!

Sil Testa is supposed to have taken two salmon weighing eleven and five pounds from California City. And a D. G. Young is reported to have landed a 30-pounder in the same area! Boy, with bass all over the bridge area, and a touch of big salmon showing too, you'd better get down there quick!

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

A too-large hole will probably cause a sore thumb, because it forces you to exert extra pressure to hold onto the ball. The same thing can cause sore fingers. If your ball fits correctly and your fingers are still sore, try a bowling glove. This will take some of the pressure off your thumb and fingers.

Nolan Says Brodie The Starter

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— John Brodie will open at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers Sunday against the Oakland Raiders and may play more than a half, according to Coach Dick Nolan.

When Brodie went most of the way in the win against Denver last Saturday night, back-up man Steve Spurrier admitted he was disappointed not to have seen more action.

But Spurrier Thursday denied reports he had asked to be traded. "It hasn't gone that far," he said.

Nolan also announced that Jim Thomas and Bill Tucker will start at running backs.

Forty Niner players attended a mammoth luncheon Thursday at the Sheraton Palace cohosted by the Shriners and the 49er Goal Rushers group.

There were warm tributes as well as a moment of silence for Vince Lombardi and then players Len Rohde, Cedrick Hardman, Doug Cunningham, Gene Washington, and Jim Johnson addressed the group and promised big things for the 1970 campaign.

Williams' Streak Is Ended

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Billy Williams was benched Thursday.

For the average player that's a common experience. For Williams, it was only the second time in seven years.

REST

Williams, who was benched by manager Leo Durocher because he needed the rest, missed a game for the first time since Sept. 21, 1963. On June 29, 1969, he surpassed Stan Musial's National League record of 895 consecutive games. He didn't have the stamina, however, to reach the 1,307 game mark of Everett Scott, who played primarily for Boston and New York at the turn of the century, and the record 2,130 of New York Yankee "Iron Man," Lou Gehrig.

OTHER SCORES

In other NL action, St. Louis topped New York, 5-3, Atlanta trounced Los Angeles, 11-4, Cincinnati belted San Francisco, 7-3, and San Diego blanked Houston, 4-0. Pittsburgh at Montreal was postponed because of rain.

In the American League, Milwaukee beat Minnesota, 8-3, Cleveland trimmed Washington, 4-2, Baltimore bombed New York, 8-4, Boston whipped Detroit, 5-2, Oakland edged Chicago, 4-3, and California shut out Kansas City, 1-0.

Jim Hickman drove in four runs with a three-run homer—his 29th—and a single as the Cubs edged to within a half game of the league-leading Pirates in the National League East. The Phillies runs came on back-to-back homers by Larry Hisle ond Tim McCarver in the fifth. Jenkins struck out 10 as he notched his 18th victory.

CARLTON WINS

Joe Hague's 12th homer and first inning single and the nine-hit pitching of Steve Carlton gave the Cardinals their triumph. Hague's homer came in the third, and St. Louis scored a run in each of the next three innings. The Mets scored one run in the fifth on Ken Singleton's RBI single, and another in the ninth on Al Weis's first homer of the year.

Hank Aaron, Orlondo Cepeda and Clete Boyer homered to pace the Braves to victory. Aaron hit his 590th career homer, a three-run blast in the third inning. He needs 10 more homers to become the third man in baseball history (after Babe Ruth and Willie Mays) to hit 600 homers. George Stone scattered six hits for his 10th victory. He was touched for solo homers by Bill Sudakis and Andy Kosco.

BOWLING

Marin Lad Is State Champion

Official results of the California State Junior Bowling Association tournament are finally in and they show Cliff Coates, 14-year-old freshman at Redwood High School, is the Class A singles champ.

Cliff, son of Greenbrae Lanes owners Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coates, rolled the best of his short career when he rolled a game of 252 and series of 639. With his handicap tacked on, it came out 715, high score among the 559 entries.

The tournament was held last month in Bakersfield. Other Marin County youngsters among the winners:

Don Harris, D Division high scratch game, 253, and ninth place in all events, 1912.

Mike McPherson, 15th in A Division all events, 1913, and Nancy McPherson, 16th in A Division all events, 1911.

Mike Smith, 29th in A Division singles, 650.

In other junior bowling news, Rich McPherson, 18, of San Rafael won first place in the first Junior Scratch Invitational Tournament at Country Club Lanes in Sacramento last week.

Rich's brother, Mike, 15, finished fifth. Rich was second in the qualifying round and then in the finals shot 3217 for 16 games, a 201 average.

SAD, BUT HE PRAYED

Lombardi Knew Whole Story

By MILTON RICHMON

New York (UPI) — Vince Lombardi knew.

There was no keeping it from him. He demanded to know. He wouldn't have it any other way.

"Don't stand out there in the hall and talk," he called out from his hospital room when his wife, Marie, was getting the results of the first tests from the doctor. "C'mon in here. I know what you're talking about."

Vince Lombardi found out he had cancer early and also found out he had little or no chance at all of licking it. The knowledge saddened him but did not frighten him.

PRAYED

He proceeded to do what he had done all his life.

He prayed.

You know, Father, I've never been in a hospital before in my life," he said that first day. "I didn't even bring any extra clothes with me."

The man Vince Lombardi said that to was his old friend, Father Edward Bunn, S.J., and the day he said it was June 25 shortly after his admission to Georgetown University Hospital in Washington. Lombardi had come right to the hospital from the practice field.

Father Bunn is the Chancellor of Georgetown University and he taught Lombardi psychology more than 30 years ago at Fordham University. He knew the Washington Redskins' general manager and coach as few others did and visited with him in the hospital five times a week. The last time was Tuesday night. Vince Lombardi wasn't conscious anymore.

MIRACLE

"I was praying for him," says the priest. "I suppose I was praying for a miracle. I wanted him to live. From the time I first met him at Fordham he was always very hard working. He was not a sophisictated person at all. He was very simple and direct. He never went about the bush. He took things as they were spoken and never looked for any double meanings."

Toward the end, Vince Lombardi didn't have a whole lot to say to his good friend, Father Bunn. He couldn't. He was too weak.

"But he'd smile and give me a warm handclasp," his one-time teacher says. "He was never morose, never glum."

There were many sides to Vince Lombardi.

STERN

He could be stern. He wasn't afraid to get up and let you know where he stood.

"He got his players to do what they didn't want to do, what they hated to do, but what they really had to do," says Tom Landry, the Dallas Cowboys' coach.

Vince Lombardi could holler. Loud, too.

"When he hollers like that the only thing to do is sit quietly until he finishes," said a Green Bay player once. "Five minutes after he's finished, he forgets what he was hollering about."

He could laugh also. Like the time he accepted an award from the Roma League of Racine, Wis., as The Italian of the Year and inquired:

"Where does this leave Pope John?"

There was something of a special pride about Vince Lombardi. You could see it in his work, in his bearing, in his dress and in his devotion to his religion. He missed Mass for the first time in his life the Sunday after he was admitted to the hospital but that wasn't his fault. He couldn't make it. He was in the Recovery Room following surgery.

HOSPITAL

Jerry Kramer, who played for him with the Packers in Green Bay, was among those who visited him in the hospital.

"It was in the evening," Kramer recalls. "There was a priest in the room and I waited outside. Later the nurse went in and asked Coach Lombardi if he would see me. He said yes and I walked in. He recognized me and we talked a little but nothing about football. He didn't look well. He was drawn and pale and I remember being struck by how terribly tired he looked."

Jerry Kramer doesn't try to hide the way he felt about Vince Lombardi.

"He never shirked, sidestepped or took the easy way," Kramer says. "I felt something for him that is difficult to put into words."

Like love?

"Yes," Jerry Kramer says. "I'd say I loved this man."

SPORTS SHORTS

$1 Million Tennis, Says Hunt

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. — Lamar Hunt, millionaire sportsman and vice president of world championship tennis, today said that he was going to put together a series of 20 tournaments, plus a playoff, with $1 million in prize money, for the top 32 players in the world.

Golf

PORTLAND, Ore. — Tom Kite shot a three under par 67 in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Championship yesterday to forge into the lead after 36 holes with a four under total of 136.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — Lee Trevino and Dave Hill were favored in a wideopen field of touring pros for today's first round of the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Track and Field

TURIN, Italy — Wolfgang Nordwig of East Germany bettered his own world record set just two months ago in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 5.46 meters (17 feet, 11 inches) at the World University Games yesterday.

Hockey

OTTAWA — Ted Green, the Boston Bruins defenseman, was acquitted Thursday, bringing to an end the first criminal court action against professional hockey players for fighting on the ice.

Horse Racing

DEL MAR — Jockey Bill Shoemaker's effort to become the alltime riding champion today served as a prelude to Del Mar's biggest weekend of racing.

Shoemaker had six mounts on today's program and needed only two winners to tie the retired John Longden's mark of 6,032 victories. And should he fail today, he has five mounts Saturday including undefeated June Darling in the $74,425 Del Mar Debutante Stakes at six furlongs.

Auto Racing

ONTARIO, Calif. — It's a matter of sometimes tense watching and waiting today and tinkering with engines in advance of the half-million-dollar California 500 Sunday at the new Ontario Motor Speedway.

The 33 Qualifiers, led by Lloyd Ruby, the Wichita Falls, Tex., veteran, had their last chance to use the 2.5-mile oval Thursday in practice runs for the 500-mile race at the $25.5 million plant.

Drag Racing

INDIANAPOLIS — Jim Nicholl of Spring Valley, Calif., was first and defending Don Prudhomme, Granada Hills, Calif., second Thursday as qualifications opened for the 16th annual national championship drag races of the National Hot Rod Association.

Baseball

MONTREAL — Manager Gene Mauch of the Montreal Expos was suspended for three days and fined $100 Thursday night by National League President Chub Feeney for bumping home plate umpire Paul Pryor in Wednesday night's game with Pittsburgh.

INVESTING

Widow Is Astute Investor

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a 51-year-old working widow. I have invested the bulk of my late husband's estate in Federal Agency and utility bonds for safety of principal and high yield. Stocks worth about $8,500 were also left to me. Prior to his death last November, we had purchased T. Rowe Price Growth mutual fund on a systematic investment plan. Should I continue these quarterly investments? I expect to retire in eleven years and would also like to know which stocks to hold for growth until I retire. H.J.

A. You are to be commended part of the money to increase to 100 shares your holdings in American Hospital Supply and Pfizer, Inc. The balance could limited appreciation potential at the present time. Since this is not consistent with your investment goal, I would sell and use for your astute handling of your inheritance. Your stock portfolio includes two issues — Lykes-Youngstown $2.50 pfd. and Union Carbide — which while returning a generous income have be used to purchase shares of Gulf Oil. I would continue accumulating T. Rowe Price Growth fund. This period of depressed net asset value offers an excellent opportunity for lowering your average cost base per share.

Q. What do you think of Avnet, Inc.? I bought shares at 19 and several other prices down to 7. H.L.

A. Numerous acquisitions have aided Avnet in establishing a broad coverage of major electrical and electronics markets. Company's sales have continued to show good gains. However, mounting labor and materials costs, consolidation expenses and price erosion in certain operations have narrowed profit margins in recent quarters. For the nine months ended March 31, 1970, net income was off 19 per cent while sales advanced 15 per cent year-to-year. Although profits may continue to show little or no improvement in the next few quarters, penetration in several markets, including automobile and TV tube replacement parts, favor long-term growth prospects. Hold for possible price recovery.

Stock End Week Higher, Moving More

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished higher Friday in the heaviest trading of the week.

Optimism was generated by Thursday's unexpected sharp gain—the market traditionally attracts little demand prior to Labor Day — along with the spreading belief that interest rates will be coming down soon and that the economy is on the road to recovery.

Shortly before the close, the Dow Jones industrial average was up 5.27 at 770.54. And of the 1,665 issues on the tape, advances topped declines, 1,002 to 346.

Turnover swelled to around 15,000,000 shares from 14,110,000 shares Thursday. Some analysts said increased institutional participation helped build volume.

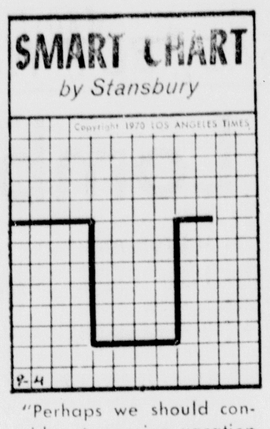

Closing prices included: Am T&T 47 3-8 up 3-8; Chrysler 24 3-4 and 5-8; Ford 49 7-8 up 7-8; Gen El 78 5-8 off 1-8; Gen Motors 73 3-4 off 1-4; IBM 272 up 2 1-4.

"A lot of money is on the sidelines," one analyst commented, "and as the market moves up, more of it is making its way into the market."

Lucien Hooper of W.E. Hutton & Co. said "institutions have suddenly decided they want to own more stocks."

Robert Johnson, director of research for Paine, Weber, Jackson & Curis said he thought institutions that had not anticipated the recent strong advance were now committing themselves "on a partial basis."

Another analyst commented that the market is being propelled upward by a growing realization on Wall Street that the Federal Reserve's monetary policy has become increasingly expansionary. This, he said, "has the potential of pushing the economy ahead."

Stockholders Are Seen As 'Family'

NEW YORK (UPI) —High school students attending the annual stockholders meeting of C.I.T. Financial Corp. were asked to record their impressions in essays.

"Everyone was like one big happy family being brought together to discuss family problems or the good things that happened during the year," one girl wrote. Another said:

"I think the atmosphere before and during the meeting gave an impression of one big happy family getting toegeher after being separated a year."

One reason for this atmosphere was suggested by another girl: "I think the stockholders felt secure in their investment."

Sears Reports Record Net Sales

CHICAGO (BW) — Sears, Roebuck and Co. has reported record net sales and income for the second quarter and first half of its 1970 fiscal year.

A slight upturn in sales and increased profit in the second quarter enabled the company to overcome a decline in earnings reported for the first quarter of this year.

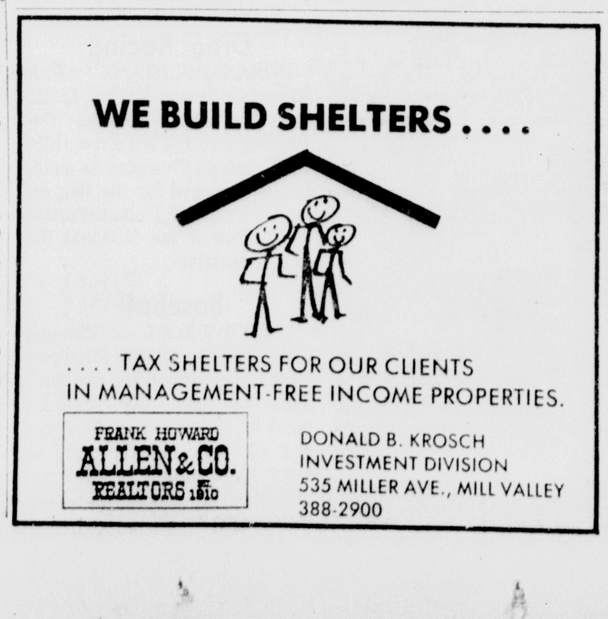

Sears net sales for the three months ended July 31 were $2,280,924,000, an increase of 4.3 per cent over the record $2,186,160,000 last year.

Net income for the second quarter was $103,097,000 or 70 cents pre share. This was 6.6 per cent above the previous high of $101,409,000, or 66 per cents per share in the same period of 1969.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Teledata, Inc. acquired 215,000 shares, or approximately 23 per cent of the outstanding common stock of Monarch Electronics International Inc.

Teledate also acquired a proxy to vote an additional 41,000 shares, equal to four per cent of outstanding stock.
